HL Normal As Picketing Terminates

Local Votes To End Stoppage Pending Grievance Airing

Striking IBOP Local 141 agreed Tuesday night to remove pickets from the Ohio approaches to the Chester and Newell Bridges pending settlement of its grievance with the Homer Laughlin China Co., allowing the big dinnerware plant to resume normal operations after intermittent work stoppages stretching across 18 days.

Richard Adams, president of the laborers' local, announced following a general meeting of Laughlin employes last night in the old IBOP headquarters on W. 6th St. that the pickets would be removed and the employes would allow their grievances to be settled through normal labor - management procedure.

The impending end of the long stoppage was heralded Tuesday morning when more than half of Laughlin's employes returned to their jobs.

Removal of the pickets climaxed a dispute that flared up Sept. 27 and prompted Local 141 to establish lines outside the Laughlin plant.

Homer Laughlin's management said this morning all its employes were back on their jobs and production was heading back to normal.

Even before Local 141's announcement of the end of picketing last night, the great majority of the workers had returned, the Laughlin management said. The afternoon shifts were "on the job 100 per cent," it said.

Except for a brief truce early last week when the firing of five Laughlin employes was referred to a joint union - management discharge committee, the stoppage at Laughlin's had persisted since late September. The discharged men were members of Local 141.

The discharge committee, unable to agree, had decided on appointment of an arbitrator, but that step was halted when the strike resumed and pickets were placed in front of all major dinnerware plants in the area.

Spread of the picketing halted work Thursday and Friday not only at Laughlin's but also at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker China Co. and Hall China Co.

Throughout the dispute, international officers of the IBOP called the stoppage an illegal strike and admonished the members repeatedly to return to their jobs.

Employes of Hall's, Harker's and TST returned to their jobs Monday morning following a meeting of the master shop committees of all four plants, but the stoppage continued against Laughlin's.

A meeting of the master shop committee at Laughlin's Monday afternoon was a prelude to a back-to-work movement that started yesterday at the Newell plant.

At its height, the four-plant stoppage idled an estimated 2,500 potters.

Picketing at plants on the West Virginia side was halted Thursday afternoon by writs obtained by the three concerns in Circuit Court at New Cumberland.

But the lines then moved to the Ohio approaches to the two bridges, where they remained until the decision last night to halt the picketing.

300 Continue Idle In Midland Strike

Some 300 men remained off of their jobs at the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. at Midland today as management and labor remained at odds over fringe benefits. Its Pittsburgh plant employing 250 workers also is idle.

Locals 1269 at Midland and Local 1886 of Pittsburgh last met with company officials on Monday, but held a joint meeting of the locals this morning at Midland. At this time, further discussions with the company have not been scheduled.

Committee Urged To Whittle It Down

President's Brother Calls For 'Milder' Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration seems willing to risk a few political brickbats—even from its own side—to make its civil rights program palatable to Congress.

The broadened version turned out by a House Judiciary subcommittee must have seemed like a nightmare to administration civil rights strategists equipped with the latest soundings of congressional sentiment.

Thus Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy urged the full committee Tuesday to whittle the bill down to the milder proportions recommended four months ago by President Kennedy.

This, the attorney general feels, was a strong, effective bill. It could, deftly handled, get the votes to make it a law by the end of the year.

Swollen with the subcommittee's innovations, it might scare away the most dedicated civil rights supporters, Kennedy said.

His views reportedly were bitterly received by a few liberal Democrats who thought they knew Robert Kennedy well enough to think he'd be delighted by an all-out civil rights package that would widen his authority in virtually every field of American business and public life.

But these powers, Kennedy let it be known, would be more than he or any man in the United States should want to possess. They could, he believed, lead eventually to a national police force.

It has been four months since the House committee got the bill and it still hasn't turned it loose. It must journey through the Rules Committee to the House floor, to a Senate committee, to the Senate floor, through conference and then through compromise before it has run its course.

New Gas Rate Plan Enacted At Wellsville

Increases Provided Under 4-Year Pact Adopted By Council

A four-year ordinance, granting a rate increase to the Ohio Valley Gas Co., was approved by Wellsville City Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The new rate schedule is very similar to the counter-proposal made by Council at its last meeting. Council had sought a five - year ordinance, the first made by councilmen since the utility first requested an increase in July 1961.

The legislation was passed under suspension of rules and now awaits only the signature of Mayor William Daugherty.

Under the ordinance, broken down into two parts, the rates for the first two years will be 28.8 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,400 cubic feet, 7.5 cents per 100 for the next 298,600, and 7 cents per 100 for all over 300,000.

The rates the final two years will be 29.9 cents per 100 for the first 1,500 cubic feet, 7.7 cents per 100 for the next 298,500 and 7.1 cents per 100 for all over 300,000.

The minimum monthly charge will be $2.65 all four years. The new ordinance abolishes the delayed payment charge of 5 per cent up to and including $20 and 2 per cent over $20 with a minimum of 10 cents on all bills not paid within 10 days after presentation.

Council held a caucus session with Harold Sneddon, local manager of the utility, prior to the regular meeting. Councilman Robert Taggart did not attend the caucus.

At the last meeting, Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said the city's proposal was about 50 per cent less than that sought by the utility in its last offer.

Basically, the ordinance is practically the same as the city's proposal. Council had offered 28.8 cents per 100 for the first 1,200 cubic feet instead of 1,400 cubic feet the first two years, and 29.9 cents per 100

Hunting Suspended For West Virginians

CHARLESTON — West Virginia's small-game hunting season is being called off until further notice, effective at 6 p. m. today because of extreme forest fire hazards.

Natural Resources Director Warden M. Lane said he wanted to assure sportsmen that the season will be re-opened "as soon as sufficient rain falls to reduce the present fire hazards."

Since last Friday, Lane said, 154 forest fires have been reported in the state.

He anticipated that there would be about 100 fires by nightfall and that the weather forecast "holds no reasonable hope for the . . . rain needed to reduce the fire hazard."

No Radios, That Is

Wellsville Police May 'Go Off Air'

From all indications, Wellsville's police and fire departments are going to be without radio communications systems at the end of the month.

Under a Federal Communications Commission ruling, all such departments must operate on seperate bands and on a new frequency by midnight Oct. 31.

Although bids have been received by the Board of Control for the purchase of new systems for Wellsville, no provision has been made for the money. There is a difference of opinion on the type of equipment.

CITY COUNCIL Tuesday night ordered legislation to appropriate $3,000 from the parking meter fund toward the cost of new systems. But, the next regular meeting is not until Nov. 5 and no special meeting was called to act on the legislation.

The bid prices are $5,899 and $7,054, according to Mayor William Daugherty.

During the lengthy discussion on the problem, it was pointed out that even if the equipment is ordered immediately, the installation probably couldn't be made before the deadline. It also was pointed out the FCC is not granting any extensions for using old equipment. The directive from the FCC for the change was made about five years ago.

The discussion opened when Councilman Frank DeLonzo reported he had checked on the possibility of converting the present equipment from a "wide band" to the "narrow band."

HE PRESENTED a letter from Jim's Two - Way Radio Service stating that Wellsville's base station and mobile equipment is 25 years old and that it is unwise to spend any more money on the system.

Mayor Daugherty then commented that bids had been received for new radios but no appropriation had been made by Council. He also said both bidders said it is not feasible to convert the present equipment. He then listed the cash bids. Prices also were obtained on rental of equipment. These were not listed.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said this is the first time he had received the actual figures. Other members agreed, pointing out the figure of "about $6,000" had been used previously.

MILLER suggested the money be taken from the parking meter fund and the remainder could come from anticipated revenues, which he outlined. He then moved this be done and the contract awarded the low bidder.

Police Chief John Hephner said the low bidder does not meet the specifications that he desires. He said the equipment offered does not have an "extended service" system whereby more power can be used for a brief period in broadcasting. This is needed when the cruisers are in low spots, in hollows or when he desires to reach Lisbon.

Miller then withdrew his motion. He said he believed the bids were sealed and that all should be bidding on the same specifications.

The mayor then suggested that something could be deleted

Rhodes, Cabinet To Land At Salem District Airport

Gov. James A. Rhodes and members of his Cabinet will land at a Salem district airport about 7 a. m. Thursday, en route to East Liverpool for a meeting at 10 on community industrial development.

Information on the schedule of the governor and his party was relayed Tuesday to the Community Improvement Corp., which arranged his visit for an address at Memorial Auditorium.

Gov. Rhodes' twin - engine plane is scheduled to touch down at Salem Air Park, Inc., at North Benton, two miles north of Salem on State Route 45.

The governor will be met by State Highway Patrol cruisers or State Highway Department autos, along with representatives of the CIC, for the trip to East Liverpool. The party is expected to travel Route 45 to Lisbon, then on Route 30 to East Liverpool.

Originally, the governor's plane had been scheduled to land either at Herron Airport near Pughtown or at Greater Pittsburgh Airport, depending upon the possibility of fog tomorrow morning, but the definite decision in favor of the Salem area strip was made in the final arrangements announced yesterday.

As a prelude to the public meeting, the governor will hold a press conference at 8:30 at the Travelers Hotel.

High School students as well as the general public will attend the meeting in the MA.

The governor is scheduled to discuss community industrial development as it relates to East Liverpool. He also will touch on State Issue No. 1 on the Nov. 5 general election ballot. Algeria Mobilizes In Threat Of War Against Morocco

Doubt Seen That Crisis Is Serious

Thousands Answer Call By Ben Bella; Peace Parley Held

ALGIERS (AP) — Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco.

The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed outposts after two days of bloody skirmishes.

Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers — estimated to total 30,000 — to report for army service. At the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

Those who answered the mobilization call included numerous young volunteers carried away by the officially whipped-up war fever. Many were clearly too young ever to have fought against the French.

Algerian sources said Ben Bella's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

Despite the atmosphere of crisis, it seemed unlikely that the governments would allow the dispute to degenerate into war.

Mohammed Yazid, former Algerian information minister, and Slimane Hoffman, an aide of Defense Minister Col. Houari Boumedienne, flew back to Algiers Tuesday night after a day of talks in Marrakech with King Hassan II of Morocco and other Moroccan leaders.

The two emissaries immediately went into conference with Ben Bella. They took off again at dawn to resume their talks in Marrakech.

There was no official word on the negotiations, but informed sources said little real progress had been made.

'No Smoking' Signs Posted In Ohio Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"No Smoking" signs are being posted on such drought-stricken public lands as wildlife refuges, state forests and parks.

"We've got a bad situation," says M. K. Idleman, head of the forest protection for the State Department of Natural Resources. "In the first 14 days of this month, we had 210 fires in our protection area, which covers about a third of the state."

Despite the long dry spell, fires have been kept pretty well under control "by pouncing on them," Idleman says, but some crews haven't had a day off since Sept. 24.

Erhard Given Chancellor's Post In Bonn

Elected By Lower House To Succeed Retiring Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP)—Ludwig Erhard, who directed West Germany's miraculous postwar economic recovery, was elected chancellor today to succeed Konrad Adenauer.

West Germany's lower house, the Bundestag, voted 279-180 to elevate the 66-year-old Erhard to the top government spot left vacant by Adenauer's reluctant retirement Tuesday. There were 24 abstentions and one invalid vote.

Erhard needed 250 votes to win. His Christian Democrats were joined by their partners in the coalition government, the Free Democrats. The Socialists voted against him.

The chancellor will go before the Bundestag later today to take the oath of office. He will present his new Cabinet to President Heinrich Luebke Thursday.

Erhard has been economics minister throughout Adenauer's tenure as West Germany's only chancellor since the Federal Republic was created in 1949. Adenauer made no secret that he felt Erhard incapable of filling his shoes. He retired at 87 only under extreme pressure from other leaders of his party.

Erhard has promised to follow Adenauer's basic foreign policies of support for the Western Alliance, demand for German reunification and reconciliation with France.

City Man, 23, Freed After Quiz In Arson

A 23-year-old city man, jailed on suspicion Monday night after an arson fire in apartment and store buildings on St. Clair Ave. opposite Central Station, was released Tuesday after extensive questioning by authorities.

Fire Chief Charles Bryan said today the W. 6th St. man was told not to leave town. He will be questioned again sometime this week by State Fire Marshal Mike Melillo of Youngstown, arson specialist.

The man was spotted leaving the area in his car and later found again at the scene.

Police Lt. Clyde W. Boso, took the man into custody, said a can containing gasoline and three tubes of highly flammable tire repair liquid were found in his car.

The fire was in buildings extending from St. Clair Ave. and Welch Alley to Green Ln. They housed Gallagher's Market and Triangle Products Co. along with several apartments.

The suspect said he was seen leaving the scene because he was hunting a policeman to report the fire. He also said he used the gasoline to clean his hands after doing mechanical work.

Area firemen, weary from fighting brush fires for several weeks, were given a slight "breather" today as no major outbreaks were reported.

Firemen still are fighting a large woods fire in an area behind Beaver Local High School. The blaze started a week ago. Glenmoor and West Point firemen have been battling the blaze off and on.

Charles Heffner of near Wellsville, an inspector and firefighter for the Ohio Forestry Division, spent all Tuesday in the area and returned there today. The fire was brought under control yesterday.

East Liverpool firemen responded to three grass and brush fires yesterday. They were called back to Shive's Hill at 3:43 p. m. They have been fighting this blaze for several days.

The Liverpool Township West volunteer department has answered 14 fire calls since Oct. 1. Ninety-three men have responded and 150 road miles traveled in fighting the blazes. The men spent 100 hours fighting the fires and on Oct. 6 and Oct. 8 spent 24-hour periods patroling fire areas.

The department will hold a business meeting tonight at 7:30 at the LaCroft Station. Homer Cronin, assistant chief, will be in charge.

U.S.-Moscow 'Hot Line' Given Test Every Hour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once every hour a bell shrills and the "hot line" teletype connection between the Pentagon and the Kremlin springs to life.

A message chatters across that line—across the 5,200 miles separating the center of Soviet power and the U.S. capital.

It's not a life-and-death message from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, or the other way around.

It's a test, made hourly around the clock to be certain the circuit—which has another outlet at the White House — is working and ready in event of an emergency requiring instantaneous communication between the Russian and U.S. heads of state.

This has been going on since the line was declared open on Aug. 30.

If there have been any communications between Kennedy and Khrushchev during the six weeks the "hot line" has been in business, they are being kept secret. The Defense Department and the White House refuse to discuss the subject.

Originally, the governor's plane had been scheduled to land either at Herron Airport near Pughtown or at Greater Pittsburgh Airport, depending upon the possibility of fog tomorrow morning, but the definite decision in favor of the Salem area strip was made in the final arrangements announced yesterday.

As a prelude to the public meeting, the governor will hold a press conference at 8:30 at the Travelers Hotel.

High School students as well as the general public will attend the meeting in the MA.

The governor is scheduled to discuss community industrial development as it relates to East Liverpool. He also will touch on State Issue No. 1 on the Nov. 5 general election ballot. The proposal would continue the one - cent cigarette tax originally voted in 1955, providing $250,000,000 for buildings and other improvements at universities and colleges, conservation, parks and recreation and other state facilities.

After the governor speaks, he will answer questions from the floor. He also will introduce members of his Cabinet accompanying him.

An official welcome will be extended by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. Asst. Supt. George Hargraves will welcome the governor on behalf of the schools. The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen of the First Baptist Church, president of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, will give the invocation.

Algeria Mobilizes In Threat Of War Against Morocco

Doubt Seen That Crisis Is Serious

Thousands Answer Call By Ben Bella; Peace Parley Held

ALGIERS (AP) — Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco.

The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed outposts after two days of bloody skirmishes.

Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers — estimated to total 30,000 — to report for army service. At the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

Those who answered the mobilization call included numerous young volunteers carried away by the officially whipped-up war fever. Many were clearly too young ever to have fought against the French.

Algerian sources said Ben Bella's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

Despite the atmosphere of crisis, it seemed unlikely that the governments would allow the dispute to degenerate into war.

Mohammed Yazid, former Algerian information minister, and Slimane Hoffman, an aide of Defense Minister Col. Houari Boumedienne, flew back to Algiers Tuesday night after a day of talks in Marrakech with King Hassan II of Morocco and other Moroccan leaders.

The two emissaries immediately went into conference with Ben Bella. They took off again at dawn to resume their talks in Marrakech.

There was no official word on the negotiations, but informed sources said little real progress had been made.

'No Smoking' Signs Posted In Ohio Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"No Smoking" signs are being posted on such drought-stricken public lands as wildlife refuges, state forests and parks.

"We've got a bad situation," says M. K. Idleman, head of the forest protection for the State Department of Natural Resources. "In the first 14 days of this month, we had 210 fires in our protection area, which covers about a third of the state."

Despite the long dry spell, fires have been kept pretty well under control "by pouncing on them," Idleman says, but some crews haven't had a day off since Sept. 24.

Erhard Given Chancellor's Post In Bonn

Elected By Lower House To Succeed Retiring Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP)—Ludwig Erhard, who directed West Germany's miraculous postwar economic recovery, was elected chancellor today to succeed Konrad Adenauer.

West Germany's lower house, the Bundestag, voted 279-180 to elevate the 66-year-old Erhard to the top government spot left vacant by Adenauer's reluctant retirement Tuesday. There were 24 abstentions and one invalid vote.

Erhard needed 250 votes to win. His Christian Democrats were joined by their partners in the coalition government, the Free Democrats. The Socialists voted against him.

The chancellor will go before the Bundestag later today to take the oath of office. He will present his new Cabinet to President Heinrich Luebke Thursday.

Erhard has been economics minister throughout Adenauer's tenure as West Germany's only chancellor since the Federal Republic was created in 1949. Adenauer made no secret that he felt Erhard incapable of filling his shoes. He retired at 87 only under extreme pressure from other leaders of his party.

Erhard has promised to follow Adenauer's basic foreign policies of support for the Western Alliance, demand for German reunification and reconciliation with France.

City Man, 23, Freed After Quiz In Arson

A 23-year-old city man, jailed on suspicion Monday night after an arson fire in apartment and store buildings on St. Clair Ave. opposite Central Station, was released Tuesday after extensive questioning by authorities.

Fire Chief Charles Bryan said today the W. 6th St. man was told not to leave town. He will be questioned again sometime this week by State Fire Marshal Mike Melillo of Youngstown, arson specialist.

The man was spotted leaving the area in his car and later found again at the scene.

Police Lt. Clyde W. Boso, took the man into custody, said a can containing gasoline and three tubes of highly flammable tire repair liquid were found in his car.

The fire was in buildings extending from St. Clair Ave. and Welch Alley to Green Ln. They housed Gallagher's Market and Triangle Products Co. along with several apartments.

The suspect said he was seen leaving the scene because he was hunting a policeman to report the fire. He also said he used the gasoline to clean his hands after doing mechanical work.

Firemen Get 'Breather' As Fires Slacken

Blaze Continues In Beaver School Area On 'Off-On' Basis

Area firemen, weary from fighting brush fires for several weeks, were given a slight "breather" today as no major outbreaks were reported.

Firemen still are fighting a large woods fire in an area behind Beaver Local High School. The blaze started a week ago. Glenmoor and West Point firemen have been battling the blaze off and on.

Charles Heffner of near Wellsville, an inspector and firefighter for the Ohio Forestry Division, spent all Tuesday in the area and returned there today. The fire was brought under control yesterday.

East Liverpool firemen responded to three grass and brush fires yesterday. They were called back to Shive's Hill at 3:43 p. m. They have been fighting this blaze for several days.

A burning brush pile at 1010 St. Clair Ave. was extinguished at 4:35 p. m. and a small grass fire near the Grant St. Civic League building at 7:27 p. m.

Wellsville firemen extinguished a small grass fire at 4:45 p. m. at 12th St. and Anderson Ave.

The Liverpool Township West volunteer department has answered 14 fire calls since Oct. 1. Ninety-three men have responded and 150 road miles traveled in fighting the blazes. The men spent 100 hours fighting the fires and on Oct. 6 and Oct. 8 spent 24-hour periods patroling fire areas.

The department will hold a business meeting tonight at 7:30 at the LaCroft Station. Homer Cronin, assistant chief, will be in charge.

Chester firemen extinguished a brush fire on a hillside near 4th St. Tuesday afternoon about 3.

U.S.-Moscow 'Hot Line' Given Test Every Hour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once every hour a bell shrills and the "hot line" teletype connection between the Pentagon and the Kremlin springs to life.

A message chatters across that line—across the 5,200 miles separating the center of Soviet power and the U.S. capital.

It's not a life-and-death message from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, or the other way around.

It's a test, made hourly around the clock to be certain the circuit—which has another outlet at the White House — is working and ready in event of an emergency requiring instantaneous communication between the Russian and U.S. heads of state.

This has been going on since the line was declared open on Aug. 30.

If there have been any communications between Kennedy and Khrushchev during the six weeks the "hot line" has been in business, they are being kept secret. The Defense Department and the White House refuse to discuss the subject.

Hancock Heart Council Plans Nutrition Class

Plans were approved to start a series of public classes on nutrition when the Hancock County Heart Association Council met Tuesday night.

The council plans to obtain the services of a dietician and physical education instructor for the classes, and plans will be completed later.

Twenty-five attended at Cove United Presbyterian Church in Weirton and Luke Wilson, president, said 50 members are now enrolled. He reported on a meeting of the State Heart Association Sept. 5-6 in Charleston.

Mrs. Schontz Dunn of Chester was named co-chairman of a project to distribute heart literature to hospitals, libraries and schools. Her aide will be named later.

The council will furnish speakers to organizations to explain its functions, it was decided.

Mrs. Bruce Hoover, fund campaign chairman, will name a chairman for the Speakers' Bureau later. She reported on special events to raise funds for the February appeal.

O. D. Wyatt, public relations official of the state association, discussed the council's objectives and explained that 15 young rheumatic fever victims in Hancock are receiving heart fund aid.

Country Club Planned By Young GOP Group

LISBON — A group of young Republicans are considering the possibility of forming a county-wide Young Republicans Club, according to Atty. Charles Pike, Columbiana County Republican chairman.

At present, there are three young Republican Clubs in the county — East Liverpool, Salem and Wellsville, and the proposed county club would co-ordinate the activities of these already active groups and also provide a young Republican affiliation for the remaining areas of the county.

There will be a formal organization meeting at the county headquarters Nov. 18 at 8 p. m., with John Maag of Salem, organization chairman, in charge.

All young Republicans from the entire county are invited, Pike said.

March Canceled In Bus Dispute

A proposed mass march of students from the Midcrest section to their classes in Midland Schools was called off after a meeting Tuesday night.

It had been planned as a protest over the Midland School Board's refusal to provide free bus transportation.

At the meeting, Midcrest residents tentatively voted to accept one of two proposals offered by the school board—that of granting assistance to families of the area who are actually in need.

The second proposal was for the board to pay an extra 25 cents per $1 on the cost of present student passes.

The group first appeared before the school board at the September meeting and was advised that by law the board is not required to pay any of the cost of the transportation.

They returned at Monday night's board meeting and was told the board "would like to give greater assistance to the students, but at present the budget couldn't stand the extra cost."

A complete physical examination, conditioning, proper coaching and proper protective equipment are listed as the most important factors in preventing football injuries.

More United Than The Others

Experts on the spot say the Chinese People's Republic stands no more chance of getting into the United Nations this year than before.

This amounts to saying it stands no chance at all, and when that has been said there is nothing more to say about this glaring defect in the United Nations.

No organization that purports to be representative of the nations of the world can lay claim to true representation unless it can settle the Chinese puzzle.

Wartime China is a charter member of the United Nations. It is in the Security Council, with the United States, United Kingdom, France and the Soviet Union.

Yet, all that is left of wartime China is the remnants of the wartime government and the fraction of the wartime army that fled to Formosa when the government fell. This is not China, either territorially or numerically. It does not speak for the Chinese people.

As long as it exists, nevertheless, it will be regarded as China and the government that is indisputably in control of China will be ignored. This will be done in the name of censure and disapproval of this government's actions and its Communist character.

But it is no more and no less Communist in character than the governments of the Soviet Union, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Cuba and Yugoslavia, all members in good standing.

It has committed no more and no less atrocities than half a dozen governments in the United Nations, including the two members of the Security Council that ganged up with Israel to pounce on Egypt in the Suez crisis.

The truth is that diplomacy and statesmanship lack the composite intelligence to work their way out of the Chinese puzzle. In the meantime, some nations will continue to be more excited than others.

Playing With Fire

Apart from the present weather conditions, the danger of a major fire outside and within East Liverpool is currently being magnified by both stupidity and delinquency.

Deliberate or careless igniting of grass and brush fires is drawing firemen and equipment from the residential and downtown centers, leaving the fire stations undermanned.

The seriousness of the problem was demonstrated Monday night when a blaze was discovered in two St. Clair Ave. store buildings. Only three men were on duty at the Central Station; six other firemen were fighting a brush fire which was apparently kindled by youngsters.

The tinder dry conditions in forest and brush areas calls for extreme caution. The threat of death, injury and tremendous property loss in any blaze calls for some serious instruction on the part of parents to their sons and daughters on consequences of playing with fire.

No Place For Remote Control

The State Board of Education has tabled a resolution apparently designed to pull the string on junior high school competitive sports.

It is reported that debate was hot and heavy before the resolution was tabled. It should have been hot and heavy.

It would be ridiculous to adopt a statewide policy on a matter of this kind. If the committee of educators backing a crackdown on sports has something in mind that needs drastic treatment, there should be an open debate and a full airing.

Otherwise, communities well-satisfied with the athletic programs they are supporting and with no misgivings about competitive sports in junior high school might find themselves at cross-purposes with some remote authority giving remote guidance to local boards of education.

This is precisely why Ohioans have been cold-shouldering proposals for federal aid to education. They are afraid that recourse to the U.S. till and the deficit financing that keeps it filled without the embarrassing necessity of asking taxpayers for money would put local schools under remote domination.

If junior high schools in Ohio are doing something wrong about competitive sports in junior high schools, let the schools be singled out and remedial measures proposed for them and them only.

Under no circumstances should the State Board of Education nib into a matter of this kind with policy directives.

Clearing The Weeds

Recent clearing of brush and trees from heights overlooking the Ohio River, such as along St. Clair Ave. and Pennsylvania Ave., have revealed scenic views almost forgotten by many in this area.

The return of a group of New Kensington area women to the city and area for visits to local industry and sightseeing this week points up anew the failure of many of us to recognize some of this district's natural attractions and interests.

Routine, custom and habit often develop weed-like attitudes which prevent realistic appraisals of new ideas or realization of the value of present potential.

These physical improvements to the appearance of the city might serve as a reminder for all of us to take a new look at East Liverpool, clearing away the fog of tradition and looking at things as if it were the first time.

There are a lot of things which should be changed. But there are a lot of things which people elsewhere admire and would like to duplicate.

Bearing A Heavy Byrden

The cynical statement "A tax cut is for the birds," may be more literal than figurative.

It will require a "Byrd" to back it if it ever flies out of the Senate Finance Committee onto the floor of the Senate for debate and vote.

When it comes to finances Sen. Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the committee, is a real "bird dog."

It seems that President Kennedy is in Mr. Dog's birdhouse—er Mr. Byrd's doghouse—because the proposed tax cut is not accompanied by a cut in federal spending.

The president has been crowing that a tax cut is necessary to make the economy soar to greater heights. But opponents of the cut chirp that without a cut in spending the federal deficit will fly into orbit if federal income's wings are clipped.

Sen. Byrd and many other conservative Democrats and Republicans believe a bird in hand is worth two in the bush.

The burden of hanging on to the bird falls to a Byrd.

She Knew It

By Truman Twill

The tragedy that killed six persons when a 10-ton helicopter crashed at Idlewild Airport last Monday has lined me up for a bitter session of "I told you so" from the lady I fly in helicopters with.

She and I have flown in a helicopter once. I was ready to fly again. I thought it was a lark. Compared with that other kind of flying machine, a helicopter gives you something to think about.

It makes a contest out of something the other flying machines do as a matter of course. This pleased me, but not the lady I was flying with. She didn't like the contraption.

It was the one that crashed Monday, or another just like it. The machine had just been put into service. It was an improvement over the type it supplanted. My lady mistrusted it from the first look.

WE WERE on our way from Idlewild to Newark. By helicopter it's a few minutes. By bus or cab it's a long haul. When you're on your way home from a trip abroad, you don't want to take a long ride in New York City traffic. Hence the helicopter.

It was part of the trip. The tickets had been bought weeks before. The whirly-bird ride at the end of our trip abroad was the last dab of frosting on the cake.

The machine was noisy. It was powered by a jet engine, instead of a conventional piston engine. When it revved up to lift off, it vibrated. When it lifted off and leaned into the wind, it was scary.

My lady was swallowing hard and batting her eyes. She had the appearance of an animal that has been bagged in a trap and is awaiting the worst.

She kept looking at me for reassurance. Did I think everything was all right? Did I think the fellows up front knew what the boys and girls in the back room were having?

Was the hostess—a hostess on this thing for a few minutes aloft, of all the darned fool ideas—kidding when she reminded the passengers there were magazines to read?

WHEN WE fluttered to a safe landing at Newark, I think my lady was almost disappointed; she had been so sure that we'd never make it. And ever since, she has talked about it.

The things we saw abroad were incidental to a few minutes over New York harbor in a contraption built on the lines of a couple of maple leaves whirling through a gale. She never has quit talking about the one time she lived dangerously.

Everything that happened to those helicopters afterward gave her satisfaction; everything bad. When they fluttered into New York Bay on two occasions she gloated. No one was hurt—but someone might have been, she pointed out.

SHE'S NOT gloating about the tragedy that killed six persons—three passengers and three crew members. But she is steely. "I told you so," she said stonily when she heard the news. "That thing wasn't working right."

Since she took her ride, they have made thousands of trips. They're probably safer than a walk around the block.

But don't try to tell the lady I once rode in a helicopter with that the contraptions are anything but what she feels sure they are—monstrous devices of the devil, built to decimate the human race with fright, or worse.

Behind Schedule

Unions Set Terms On Wheat Deal

By Victor Riesel

An hour before President Kennedy publicly approved the sale of golden wheat to the Red world, he decided to take no chances on its delivery. He held everything until a few swift phone calls were made to the New York waterfront. But first the President picked up the special line to Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz.

Victor Riesel

Mr. Kennedy asked him to learn how the waterfront labor leaders would react. Wirtz flashed Assistant Secretary of Labor Jim Reynolds.

The latter then called International Longshoremen's Association Vice President Tony Scotto. The President wanted him to know that at 6 o'clock he would announce approval of the wheat sale, Reynolds said. Kennedy had asked if the grain would move swiftly. Scotto said he thought it would.

Another call had been made to big Joe Curran, the petrel—often stormy—of American seamen and president of the National Martime Union. (NMU).

Curran said, sure the grain would move. He was not for keeping food them hungry people. What he wanted was to strangle the Communist dictatorships, not starve their people. That was late in the afternoon of Oct. 9.

THE NEXT MORNING he elaborated. Standing on the speaker's dias, at the National Maritime Union's 13th convention, Curran unloosed a shouting speech to the 650 delegates as though subconsciously hoping some wind would carry his words to the White House without benefit of phone lines.

Curran wanted to strangle the Cuban dictatorship. He charged that the Communist international machine, "has transformed the island of Cuba into a relay station for the Communist international conspiracy through which propaganda material, military supplies and trained infiltrators can fan out through Latin America to be used for sabotage, subversion and direct attack on democratic regimes."

His people cheered his demand for tougher action by the U.S. government and our allies. The delegates knew, from personal experience, what their Big Joe was talking about.

Their lines of communication were longer than anchor chains. They had been the first to report the Soviet military buildup and the construction of rocket and submarine bases.

The men, in from the seas for a few days, know of the subterfuges of ship operators of democratic lands who seek to make a profit from Cuban Communism.

IN THE HALL was my good friend Rene (Angie) Lioeanjie. In Panama City, early in July, Angie had disclosed to me the extent of Castroite infiltration into the Panama Canal Zone.

In a corner of the convention floor, Angie told me of shippers in the Dutch-owned West Indian island of Curacao who had recently called in the local sailors' and longshoremen's union officials.

The shippers had said that a new ocean freight service was being organized to transport Cuban sugar to Chile. In return vital supplies would be brought up from the South American nation. Curacao would be the transshipment point.

The longshoremen had gone to Angie. He had cabled Curran. The word from the national NMU headquarters was to boycott the ships—don't load them at the transshipment point. The ships have not been loaded.

In the convention hall were other NMU continent-trotting troubleshooters. They are helping the anti-Communist waterfront people, financially, organizationally and culturally to fight off infiltration of Cuban saboteurs.

Curran told his people that it appeared hopeless unless the U.S. government boycotted all ships of all fleets which were sending in even a single freighter with supplies to Castro's own flying contingents.

HE CALLED on all other countries to boycott Cuba. The convention then voted him a riproaring approval for the global ocean boycott of Communist trade which he had futilely attempted to launch during last October's eyeball to eyeball showdown.

They urged him to go to the meeting of the pious leaders of the International Federation of Transportworkers' Seafarers Section in Copenhagen on Nov. 27.

This federation, based in London, has millions of members in thousands of affiliated unions.

Its leaders, such as Omar Becu, trot around the globe making fierce anti-Communist speeches. But they shy away from boycott action. They will not call on their waterfront and seafaring affiliated unions to refuse to handle guns, machinery, electronic equipment and other supplies for Communist Cuba—much less for Communist China.

Curran and his militant fellow unionists in the hall shouted for international morality on the part of the transportworkers of the free world.

Wheat for the hungry, yes. Guns and sabotage equipment for our enemies, no. These are the words Curran wanted watted down to the White House.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — High School Principal B. G. Ludwig was named president of the Kiwanis Club for 1934, succeeding R. C. Heddleston.

The East Liverpool Boosters Club was organized with Clifford A. Bough, former Potter grid star, as president, and Thurman Cunningham, secretary-treasurer.

Rusty Lommond's Midland High School football team was defeated 14-6, by Leland Schachern's Potters.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Miss Olive F. Williamson of Wellsville, a clerk in the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. business office, received a 30-year service pin.

R. W. Johnston, retiring commander of American Legion Post 4, was succeeded by David Sakol.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Sandra (Sandy) Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Stone of Jefferson St., was crowned "Miss Dinnerware Fair of 1953" for the American Dinnerware Fair observance.

Final registration figures at the County Board of Education office showed student enrollment increased by 240 pupils over 1952.

Mary Jo Williamson, Newell's Homecoming Queen, was presented at half-time at the Newell-Darlington football game at the Wells High School stadium.

Odd Facts

Biologists from 30 to 60 nations are expected to participate in the International Biological Program, for the study of man's place in the world, and hopefully, to enlarge available resources for his future welfare. The program is to begin in 1965 and may last five to seven years.

Probably the greatest weight-reducing feat on record was achieved a few years ago by Mrs. Celesta Geyer, who in the role of a circus fat lady was known by the professional name of Dolly Dimple. Within a period of 14 months she reduced from 555 pounds down to 120 pounds.

Long trousers for men were first imported to the United States from Paris in about 1800.

Debate Doubted

By David Lawrence

Chances Of TV Nominees' Encounter Dwindle

The chance of another "great debate" between Republican and Democratic presidential nominees is diminishing.

David Lawrence

Intimations have been coming from Democratic sources that President Kennedy might take the position that such a debate is unwise. No president of the United States has heretofore subjected himself to cross - examination by a political opponent. There is evidence, too, that Republicans are beginning to be doubtful about the TV show.

Sen. Goldwater has just declined to debate with Gov. Rockefeller, who recently challenged him. The Arizona senator said the didn't see much good in an intraparty debate — with Republican fighting Republican on issues within the party. He didn't say whether, if nominated for the presidency, he would challenge President Kennedy.

Sen. Ribicoff, D-Conn., thinks a "great debate" is almost certain. He says "it will be pretty hard for any candidate to refuse to accept a challenge of debate."

Sooner or later, however, some presidential nominee will have the courage to give the American people the real reasons why the "great debate" idea is fundamentally a backward step in political campaigning.

What does such a debate really prove? That one candidate is more agile in a fencing match of words than the other, or that one is better looking as compared to the other?

What does it tell the country of the real issues on which the voter should make up his mind? Can a debate covering a variety of questions, with impromptu answers, do justice to either nominee's position in a campaign?

THERE IS no reason why just as much value couldn't be obtained by giving each nominee separately a whole evening, if necessary, on the radio and television to answer the questions propounded by a panel of interrogators.

It would enable each candidate to answer questions in his own way and at whatever length he deemed desirable. If the rival nominee were to do the same thing the next evening or a few nights later and the same type of questions were asked, there could be an arrangement for rebuttals on subsequent evenings.

This would be more informative to the voters than the catch-as - catch - can type of debate which was provided in the 1960 campaign.

The Nixon - Kennedy debates may have changed votes on both sides, and the consensus at the time was that Mr. Kennedy made a better appearance.

Wouldn't that same comparison, solely on the basis of facial expression or agility in answering questions, have been possible if the debate had been longer each evening with each candidate being given a fuller opportunity to discuss on his own all the issues of the campaign?

The "great debate" of 1960 gave the impression of being a series of stunts to attract an unprecedented number of viewers and listeners.

There have, of course, been TV shows with much larger audiences. Thus, it seems plausible that a "great debate" between Jack Paar and Bob Hope on almost any subject would attract an even bigger audience than any political candidates have gathered thus far.

AMERICAN VOTERS by the millions have revealed again and again a superficial attitude toward presidential campaigns. Too many vote on the basis of a personal like or dislike of a candidate's appearance. Too many of them pay no attention to the issues or do not really understand the speech - making.

To center a whole campaign on a comparison of the candidates' personalities, or even on their fragmentary answers to questions in a TV debate, is to leave the choice of a top executive for the nation to the whims of a mass audience.

Debates are not conducive to a thoughtful presentation of issues. Even the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates of more than a century ago contain many a statement which both men regretted afterwards.

As the qualifications for voting are gradually changed to permit more and more people to vote irrespective of their ability to understand the issues of a campaign, the tendency under a system of "great debates" on TV will be to nominate not the most capable executive in the country but the most spectacular personality — the best showman.

THAT'S WHY, if President Kennedy declines to enter a "great debate" in the 1964 campaign, there will be no tears shed on the part of those citizens who don't believe in the stunt idea but who think each candidate should thoroughly discuss the issues thourghout the campaign — each in his own way — so that the press and radio and TV can disseminate widely the views of both for careful study by the voters.

Japan's Red Trade

Tokyo Finds Profit In New Market

TOKYO — Under growing pressure from business, Premier Hayto Ikeda's government is engaged in a full-scale reappraisal of its policies concerning trade with the Communist bloc.

Until recently Japan has been second only to the United States among major non-Communist industrial countries in its reluctance to be drawn into large-scale trade with Communist countries.

BUT THIS ATTITUDE began to soften last year when the Soviet Union suddenly began buying Japanese industrial products on an unprecedented scale (one shipping order alone was worth $96 million).

It is strongly felt in Japanese government circles now that the whole climate of Western opinion concerning trade with the Communist bloc is undergoing a change.

This feeling was crystallized when President Kennedy authorized the sale of U.S. wheat and flour to the Soviet Union and Communist nations of Eastern Europe.

Basically, the problem of expanding Japanese trade with Communist countries boils down to two problems: Deferred payments and the range of products to be sold.

THE DEFERRED PAYMENT issue is particularly important with regard to Communist China.

The recent sale of a vinylon synthetic textile plant to China on a long-term payment basis brought about a sharp reaction in Washington and Taiwan. As a result, top officials of the Foreign Office Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI), finance ministry and economic planning agency held a series of meetings to decide whether some form of quota on deferred payment sales to the Communist bloc should be established.

The final decision was that a firm quota would not be imposed at present, but it is clear that any applications for large deferred payment deals will receive the closest official scrutiny.

Deputy Trade Minister Zenie Imai commented recently that MITI welcomed increased trade with Communist China, provided it was in cash.

AS FAR AS deferred payment exports were concerned, however, his ministry adopted a "cautious" position. Terms offered Communist China would not be more favorable than those offered to Southeast Asia, he said.

Imai was commenting on the return to Japan of a "private mission" which flew to Peking late in September to discuss trade between the two countries during the second year of an "unofficial" five-year trade agreement concluded in Peking last year by former Minister of International Trade and Industry Takasaki.

The whole system of "private trade missions and "unofficial trade agreements" is symbolic if the aura of fantasy which now surrounds Japanese-Chinese trade.

"Unofficial" missions, which are flying to Peking with increasing frequency, nearly always include senior members of the ruling Liberal-Democratic party and the full blessing of the government.

Chester Ends 6th St. Stop Requirement

Removal of a traffic stop requirement at one of three Chester intersections, at which stop signs were erected earlier this year, was approved by Council at a meeting Tuesday night.

Council authorized removal of signs at the intersection of 6th St. and Louisiana Ave. after a discussion on the signs there and at Indiana Ave. and 4th St. and Virginia Ave. and 2nd St.

Councilman Charles Kology began the discussion by reporting motorists are concerned about the stop signs at Indiana Ave. and 4th St. which he said "could be a hazard this winter." The sign is at the foot of the hill by the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Kology said he would delay action on the 4th St. sign until the next meeting when it is expected Councilman Carl Graham, chairman of the street committee, will be present. He was absent last night.

Council authorized removal of the two signs on 6th St. due to the steep grade at the intersection, but no action was taken on the 2nd St. intersection signs where approaches are flat.

Hutton asked about ticketing of autos in the two - hour parking limit zones on Neptune, Phoenix and Plutus Aves.

Mayor Harry Abrams said, "We are trying to end overtime parking because there was some confusion concerning the parking ordinance when a revision was asked earlier this year." He said the two - hour restriction still applies, and violators are being ticketed by the police.

Hutton, chairman of the water committee, presented a bill totaling $214 for a fire hydrant at 1st St. and Virginia Ave. damaged in April by an East Liverpool woman motorist. The bill was turned over to City Solicitor William Ingram for collection.

Mayor Abrams commented he hoped the bill would not be "left hanging" as long as a similar bill for a damaged hydrant in 1961 now in East Liverpool Municipal Court.

Councilman Donald Chaney was also absent.

Inmate's Escape Plot Fails, Due Return To Pen

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—An inmate who tried unsuccessfully to escape from the Roseville (Muskingum County) branch of Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday will be returned to the maximum security prison in Columbus.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said Edward A. Basilone, 30, received from Lorain County April 7, 1959, for auto theft, went over the perimeter fence at Roseville but stopped and surrendered when a tower guard fired two warning shots.

"He saw the tower guard cleaning a weapon and probably thought the guard was foolish enough to unload both weapons at the same time," Maxwell said. "Of course, he hadn't."

Authorities here said Basilone was on kitchen duty when he went over the fence, which is approximately 12 feet high and topped by barbed wire.

White Segregationist Wins Mayor Bid In Georgia City

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A 45-year-old white segregationist has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of this racially troubled Southwest Georgia city where a Negro sought the office for the first time.

Attorney James V. Davis received 7,220 votes Tuesday, well over a majority of those cast in a record turnout, making a runoff unnecessary. Nomination in the primary means election.

Slater King, a Negro integration leader, was second with 2,547 votes.

The second white man in the race, architect Edward V. Jones, was third with 1,879 votes. He also is a segregationist and opposed formation of any biracial committees.

The outcome indicated little, if any, change in race relations in this city where more than 1,200 arrests were made during intermittent demonstrations the past two years.

Davis said he thought that "what will be done for the colored people will have to be done within the framework of segregation."

King, acting president of the Antisegregation Albany Movement, called for creation of a biracial committee to discuss grievances. None has been established.

The racial issue and clear, sunshiny weather brought a turnout of more than 11,500 voters.

Albany's 58,000 population includes about 24,000 Negroes. There are an estimated 4,600 Negroes among the 16,436 registered voters.

Vermont, in ratio to population, maintains more dairy cows than any other state.

More Funds Are Urged For Piqua Atomic Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission's nuclear reactor at Piqua, Ohio, should be modified at greater expense although it already has overrun its expected cost, a congressional subcommittee has been told.

The Senate-House atomic energy unit heard testimony Tuesday on proposals to modify authorizations for projects at Piqua and at Elk River, Iowa.

The proposals would change the Piqua reactor's cost from $12,305,000 to $22,864,000 and the one in Iowa from $11,445,000 to $16,009,000.

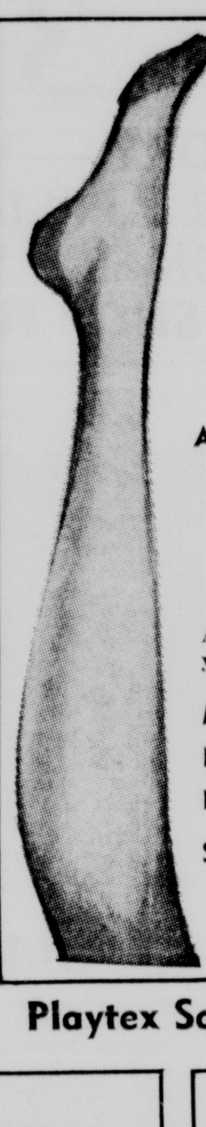

Among witnesses was Dr. Frank K. Pittman, director of the AEC's Reactor Development Division.

Surgeon Speaks For Session Of Medical Society

Dr. John S. McDonough of Youngstown spoke Tuesday night at a joint dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Medical Society and its auxiliary at the Hotel Wick in Lisbon.

Dr. McDonough formerly served as a surgeon on the Hospital Ship Hope while it was stationed in Peru.

He told of his experiences and illustrated his talk with colored slides.

Dr. Virgil C. Hart of Salem presided.

Next meeting is Nov. 19 at the hotel in Lisbon.

Chicago Bus Injures East Palestine Woman

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Kenneth C. Herriott of Neely Manor is in Wesley Memorial Hospital at Chicago after a bus ran over her foot at a Chicago intersection Tuesday afternoon.

In Chicago with her husband on a business trip, she stepped from the curb as the bus was making a turn, and the wheels caught her foot, crushing it, officials said.

Hancock Heart Council Plans Nutrition Class

Plans were approved to start a series of public classes on nutrition when the Hancock County Heart Association Council met Tuesday night.

The council plans to obtain the services of a dietician and physical education instructor for the classes, and plans will be completed later.

Twenty-five attended at Cove United Presbyterian Church in Weirton and Luke Wilson, president, said 50 members are now enrolled. He reported on a meeting of the State Heart Association Sept. 5-6 in Charleston.

Mrs. Schontz Dunn of Chester was named co-chairman of a project to distribute heart literature to hospitals, libraries and schools. Her aide will be named later.

The council will furnish speakers to organizations to explain its functions, it was decided.

Mrs. Bruce Hoover, fund campaign chairman, will name a chairman for the Speakers' Bureau later. She reported on special events to raise funds for the February appeal.

O. D. Wyatt, public relations official of the state association, discussed the council's objectives and explained that 15 young rheumatic fever victims in Hancock are receiving heart fund aid.

Next meeting will be in January.

Country Club Planned By Young GOP Group

LISBON — A group of young Republicans are considering the possibility of forming a county-wide Young Republicans Club, according to Atty. Charles Pike, Columbiana County Republican chairman.

At present, there are three young Republican Clubs in the county — East Liverpool, Salem and Wellsville, and the proposed county club would co-ordinate the activities of these already active groups and also provide a young Republican affiliation for the remaining areas of the county.

There will be a formal organization meeting at the county headquarters Nov. 18 at 8 p. m., with John Maag of Salem, organization chairman, in charge.

All young Republicans from the entire county are invited, Pike said.

March Canceled In Bus Dispute

A proposed mass march of students from the Midcrest section to their classes in Midland Schools was called off after a meeting Tuesday night.

It had been planned as a protest over the Midland School Board's refusal to provide free bus transportation.

At the meeting, Midcrest residents tentatively voted to accept one of two proposals offered by the school board—that of granting assistance to families of the area who are actually in need.

The second proposal was for the board to pay an extra 25 cents per $1 on the cost of present student passes.

The group first appeared before the school board at the September meeting and was advised that by law the board is not required to pay any of the cost of the transportation.

They returned at Monday night's board meeting and was told the board "would like to give greater assistance to the students, but at present the budget couldn't stand the extra cost."

A complete physical examination, conditioning, proper coaching and proper protective equipment are listed as the most important factors in preventing football injuries.

Democrat Convention May Undergo Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Convention, which like Topsy just sort of grew, may be trimmed to a more manageable size next year. And its collective voice may have less Southern drawl and Western twang.

The decisions will be made when the Democratic National Committee meets in November or early December to allocate the votes for the 1964 convention at Atlantic City.

A subcommittee headed by Jacob Arvey of Chicago, the national committeeman from Illinois, has been studying the allocation of votes since last May. No proposals have been announced, but sources close to the national committee say these could be among them when the committee meets:

A return to the bonus system. It would reward with larger representation those states — mostly east of the Mississippi— which voted for President Kennedy in 1960.

No bonuses, but a reduction in voting power of those states which lost representation in Congress because of population shifts in 1950 and 1960 but, in effect, never lost any of their convention votes.

A combination of the two that would allocate votes on an up-to-date population basis plus bonus votes for multiples of Democratic votes in 1960, regardless of whether Kennedy carried the state.

Also expected to come up is a hardy quadrennial — the number of persons at a Democratic convention.

Republicans limit their state delegations to a one man-one vote basis. But Democrats over the years have split things up into half votes. That way more delegates get to go to the convention, a form of reward for party faithful.

But it also can be confusing. In 1960, there were 3,042 delegates authorized to cast 1,521 votes at the Los Angeles convention. And that didn't include more than 1,400 persons present as alternates.

To the politician, however, the number of delegates isn't nearly so important as the number of votes allotted each state.

Some critics felt the 1960 convention was weighted in favor of many—but not all—Southern and far Western states.

A new city of Skopje, Yugoslavia, is planned, perhaps on a different site nearby the old one.

1 Killed, 2 Injured In 2-Car Collision

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A two-car crash about one mile east of nearby Oregon has claimed the life of Eleanora Marianna, 56, of Oregon. She was a passenger in a car that collided late Tuesday with another auto driven by Lawrence Welp, 26, of Port Clinton.

Welp and John Zoltowski, 53, of Toledo, driver of the death vehicle were injured.

More United Than The Others

Experts on the spot say the Chinese People's Republic stands no more chance of getting into the United Nations this year than before.

This amounts to saying it stands no chance at all, and when that has been said there is nothing more to say about this glaring defect in the United Nations.

No organization that purports to be representative of the nations of the world can lay claim to true representation unless it can settle the Chinese puzzle.

Wartime China is a charter member of the United Nations. It is in the Security Council, with the United States, United Kingdom, France and the Soviet Union.

Yet, all that is left of wartime China is the remnants of the wartime government and the fraction of the wartime army that fled to Formosa when the government fell. This is not China, either territorially or numerically. It does not speak for the Chinese people.

As long as it exists, nevertheless, it will be regarded as China and the government that is indisputably in control of China will be ignored. This will be done in the name of censure and disapproval of this government's actions and its Communist character.

But it is no more and no less Communist in character than the governments of the Soviet Union, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Cuba and Yugoslavia, all members in good standing.

It has committed no more and no less atrocities than half a dozen governments in the United Nations, including the two members of the Security Council that ganged up with Israel to pounce on Egypt in the Suez crisis.

The truth is that diplomacy and statesmanship lack the composite intelligence to work their way out of the Chinese puzzle. In the meantime, some nations will continue to be more excited than others.

Playing With Fire

Apart from the present weather conditions, the danger of a major fire outside and within East Liverpool is currently being magnified by both stupidity and delinquency.

Deliberate or careless igniting of grass and brush fires is drawing firemen and equipment from the residential and downtown centers, leaving the fire stations undermanned.

The seriousness of the problem was demonstrated Monday night when a blaze was discovered in two St. Clair Ave. store buildings. Only three men were on duty at the Central Station; six other firemen were fighting a brush fire which was apparently kindled by youngsters.

The tinder dry conditions in forest and brush areas calls for extreme caution. The threat of death, injury and tremendous property loss in any blaze calls for some serious instruction on the part of parents to their sons and daughters on consequences of playing with fire.

No Place For Remote Control

The State Board of Education has tabled a resolution apparently designed to pull the string on junior high school competitive sports.

It is reported that debate was hot and heavy before the resolution was tabled. It should have been hot and heavy.

It would be ridiculous to adopt a statewide policy on a matter of this kind. If the committee of educators backing a crackdown on sports has something in mind that needs drastic treatment, there should be an open debate and a full airing.

Otherwise, communities well-satisfied with the athletic programs they are supporting and with no misgivings about competitive sports in junior high school might find themselves at cross-purposes with some remote authority giving remote guidance to local boards of education.

This is precisely why Ohioans have been cold-shouldering proposals for federal aid to education. They are afraid that recourse to the U.S. till and the deficit financing that keeps it filled without the embarrassing necessity of asking taxpayers for money would put local schools under remote domination.

If junior high schools in Ohio are doing something wrong about competitive sports in junior high schools, let the schools be singled out and remedial measures proposed for them and them only.

Under no circumstances should the State Board of Education nib into a matter of this kind with policy directives.

Clearing The Weeds

Recent clearing of brush and trees from heights overlooking the Ohio River, such as along St. Clair Ave. and Pennsylvania Ave., have revealed scenic views almost forgotten by many in this area.

The return of a group of New Kensington area women to the city and area for visits to local industry and sightseeing this week points up anew the failure of many of us to recognize some of this district's natural attractions and interests.

Routine, custom and habit often develop weed-like attitudes which prevent realistic appraisals of new ideas or realization of the value of present potential.

These physical improvements to the appearance of the city might serve as a reminder for all of us to take a new look at East Liverpool, clearing away the fog of tradition and looking at things as if it were the first time.

There are a lot of things which should be changed. But there are a lot of things which people elsewhere admire and would like to duplicate.

Bearing A Heavy Byrden

The cynical statement "A tax cut is for the birds," may be more literal than figurative.

It will require a "Byrd" to back it if it ever flies out of the Senate Finance Committee onto the floor of the Senate for debate and vote.

When it comes to finances Sen. Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the committee, is a real "bird dog."

It seems that President Kennedy is in Mr. Dog's birdhouse—er Mr. Byrd's doghouse—because the proposed tax cut is not accompanied by a cut in federal spending.

The president has been crowing that a tax cut is necessary to make the economy soar to greater heights. But opponents of the cut chirp that without a cut in spending the federal deficit will fly into orbit if federal income's wings are clipped.

Sen. Byrd and many other conservative Democrats and Republicans believe a bird in hand is worth two in the bush.

The burden of hanging on to the bird falls to a Byrd.

She Knew It

By Truman Twill

The tragedy that killed six persons when a 10-ton helicopter crashed at Idlewild Airport last Monday has lined me up for a bitter session of "I told you so" from the lady I fly in helicopters with.

She and I have flown in a helicopter once. I was ready to fly again. I thought it was a lark. Compared with that other kind of flying machine, a helicopter gives you something to think about.

It makes a contest out of something the other flying machines do as a matter of course. This pleased me, but not the lady I was flying with. She didn't like the contraption.

It was the one that crashed Monday, or another just like it. The machine had just been put into service. It was an improvement over the type it supplanted. My lady mistrusted it from the first look.

WE WERE on our way from Idlewild to Newark. By helicopter it's a few minutes. By bus or cab it's a long haul. When you're on your way home from a trip abroad, you don't want to take a long ride in New York City traffic. Hence the helicopter.

It was part of the trip. The tickets had been bought weeks before. The whirly-bird ride at the end of our trip abroad was the last dab of frosting on the cake.

The machine was noisy. It was powered by a jet engine, instead of a conventional piston engine. When it revved up to lift off, it vibrated. When it lifted off and leaned into the wind, it was scary.

My lady was swallowing hard and batting her eyes. She had the appearance of an animal that has been bagged in a trap and is awaiting the worst.

She kept looking at me for reassurance. Did I think everything was all right? Did I think the fellows up front knew what the boys and girls in the back room were having?

Was the hostess—a hostess on this thing for a few minutes aloft, of all the darned fool ideas—kidding when she reminded the passengers there were magazines to read?

WHEN WE fluttered to a safe landing at Newark, I think my lady was almost disappointed; she had been so sure that we'd never make it. And ever since, she has talked about it.

The things we saw abroad were incidental to a few minutes over New York harbor in a contraption built on the lines of a couple of maple leaves whirling through a gale. She never has quit talking about the one time she lived dangerously.

Everything that happened to those helicopters afterward gave her satisfaction; everything bad. When they fluttered into New York Bay on two occasions she gloated. No one was hurt—but someone might have been, she pointed out.

SHE'S NOT gloating about the tragedy that killed six persons—three passengers and three crew members. But she is steely. "I told you so," she said stonily when she heard the news. "That thing wasn't working right."

Since she took her ride, they have made thousands of trips. They're probably safer than a walk around the block.

But don't try to tell the lady I once rode in a helicopter with that the contraptions are anything but what she feels sure they are—monstrous devices of the devil, built to decimate the human race with fright, or worse.

Behind Schedule

Unions Set Terms On Wheat Deal

By Victor Riesel

An hour before President Kennedy publicly approved the sale of golden wheat to the Red world, he decided to take no chances on its delivery. He held every thing until a few swift phone calls were made to the New York waterfront. But first the President picked up the special line to Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz.

Victor Riesel

Mr. Kennedy asked him to learn how the waterfront labor leaders would react. Wirtz flashed Assistant Secretary of Labor Jim Reynolds.

The latter then called International Longshoremen's Association Vice President Tony Scotto. The President wanted him to know that at 6 o'clock he would announce approval of the wheat sale, Reynolds said. Kennedy had asked if the grain would move swiftly. Scotto said he thought it would.

Another call had been made to big Joe Curran, the petrel—often stormy—of American seamen and president of the National Martime Union. (NMU).

Curran said, sure the grain would move. He was not for keeping food them hungry people. What he wanted was to strangle the Communist dictatorships, not starve their people. That was late in the afternoon of Oct. 9.

THE NEXT MORNING he elaborated. Standing on the speaker's dias, at the National Maritime Union's 13th convention, Curran unloosed a shouting speech to the 650 delegates as though subconsciously hoping some wind would carry his words to the White House without benefit of phone lines.

Curran wanted to strangle the Cuban dictatorship. He charged that the Communist international machine, "has transformed the island of Cuba into a relay station for the Communist international conspiracy through which propaganda material, military supplies and trained infiltrators can fan out through Latin America to be used for sabotage, subversion and direct attack on democratic regimes."

His people cheered his demand for tougher action by the U.S. government and our allies. The delegates knew, from personal experience, what their Big Joe was talking about.

Their lines of communication were longer than anchor chains. They had been the first to report the Soviet military buildup and the construction of rocket and submarine bases.

The men, in from the seas for a few days, know of the subterfuges of ship operators of democratic lands who seek to make a profit from Cuban Communism.

IN THE HALL was my good friend Rene (Angie) Lioeanjie. In Panama City, early in July, Angie had disclosed to me the extent of Castroite infiltration into the Panama Canal Zone.

In a corner of the convention floor, Angie told me of shippers in the Dutch-owned West Indian island of Curacao who had recently called in the local sailors' and longshoremen's union officials.

The shippers had said that a new ocean freight service was being organized to transport Cuban sugar to Chile. In return vital supplies would be brought up from the South American nation. Curacao would be the transshipment point.

The longshoremen had gone to Angie. He had cabled Curran. The word from the national NMU headquarters was to boycott the ships—don't load them at the transshipment point. The ships have not been loaded.

In the convention hall were other NMU continent-trotting troubleshooters. They are helping the anti-Communist waterfront people, financially, organizationally and culturally to fight off infiltration of Cuban saboteurs.

Curran told his people that it appeared hopeless unless the U.S. government boycotted all ships of all fleets which were sending in even a single freighter with supplies to Castro's own flying contingents.

HE CALLED on all other countries to boycott Cuba. The convention then voted him a riproaring approval for the global ocean boycott of Communist trade which he had futilely attempted to launch during last October's eyeball to eyeball showdown.

They urged him to go to the meeting of the pious leaders of the International Federation of Transportworkers' Seafarers Section in Copenhagen on Nov. 27.

This federation, based in London, has millions of members in thousands of affiliated unions.

Its leaders, such as Omar Becu, trot around the globe making fierce anti-Communist speeches. But they shy away from boycott action. They will not call on their waterfront and seafaring affiliated unions to refuse to handle guns, machinery, electronic equipment and other supplies for Communist Cuba—much less for Communist China.

Curran and his militant fellow unionists in the hall shouted for international morality on the part of the transportworkers of the free world.

Wheat for the hungry, yes. Guns and sabotage equipment for our enemies, no. These are the words Curran wanted watted down to the White House.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — High School Principal B. G. Ludwig was named president of the Kiwanis Club for 1934, succeeding R. C. Heddleston.

The East Liverpool Boosters Club was organized with Clifford A. Bough, former Potter grid star, as president, and Thurman Cunningham, secretary-treasurer.

Rusty Lommond's Midland High School football team was defeated 14-6, by Leland Schachern's Potters.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Miss Olive F. Williamson of Wellsville, a clerk in the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. business office, received a 30-year service pin.

R. W. Johnston, retiring commander of American Legion Post 4, was succeeded by David Sakol.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Sandra (Sandy) Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Stone of Jefferson St., was crowned "Miss Dinnerware Fair of 1953" for the American Dinnerware Fair observance.

Final registration figures at the County Board of Education office showed student enrollment increased by 240 pupils over 1952.

Mary Jo Williamson, Newell's Homecoming Queen, was presented at half-time at the Newell-Darlington football game at the Wells High School stadium.

Odd Facts

Biologists from 30 to 60 nations are expected to participate in the International Biological Program, for the study of man's place in the world, and hopefully, to enlarge available resources for his future welfare. The program is to begin in 1965 and may last five to seven years.

Probably the greatest weight-reducing feat on record was achieved a few years ago by Mrs. Celesta Geyer, who in the role of a circus fat lady was known by the professional name of Dolly Dimple. Within a period of 14 months she reduced from 555 pounds down to 120 pounds.

Long trousers for men were first imported to the United States from Paris in about 1800.

Debate Doubted

By David Lawrence

Chances Of TV Nominees' Encounter Dwindle

The chance of another "great debate" between Republican and Democratic presidential nominees is diminishing.

David Lawrence

Intimations have been coming from Democratic sources that President Kennedy might take the position that such a debate is unwise. No president of the United States has heretofore subjected himself to cross-examination by a political opponent. There is evidence, too, that Republicans are beginning to be doubtful about the TV show.

Sen. Goldwater has just declined to debate with Gov. Rockefeller, who recently challenged him. The Arizona senator said the didn't see much good in an intraparty debate — with Republican fighting Republican on issues within the party. He didn't say whether, if nominated for the presidency, he would challenge President Kennedy.

Sen. Ribicoff, D-Conn., thinks a "great debate" is almost certain. He says "it will be pretty hard for any candidate to refuse to accept a challenge of debate."

Sooner or later, however, some presidential nominee will have the courage to give the American people the real reasons why the "great debate" idea is fundamentally a backward step in political campaigning.

What does such a debate really prove? That one candidate is more agile in a fencing match of words than the other, or that one is better looking as compared to the other?

What does it tell the country of the real issues on which the voter should make up his mind? Can a debate covering a variety of questions, with impromptu answers, do justice to either nominee's position in a campaign?

THERE IS no reason why just as much value couldn't be obtained by giving each nominee separately a whole evening, if necessary, on the radio and television to answer the questions propounded by a panel of interrogators.

It would enable each candidate to answer questions in his own way and at whatever length he deemed desirable. If the rival nominee were to do the same thing the next evening or a few nights later and the same type of questions were asked, there could be an arrangement for rebuttals on subsequent evenings.

This would be more informative to the voters than the catch-as - catch - can type of debate which was provided in the 1960 campaign.

The Nixon - Kennedy debates may have changed votes on both sides, and the consensus at the time was that Mr. Kennedy made a better appearance.

Wouldn't that same comparison, solely on the basis of facial expression or agility in answering questions, have been possible if the debate had been longer each evening with each candidate being given a fuller opportunity to discuss on his own all the issues of the campaign?

The "great debate" of 1960 gave the impression of being a series of stunts to attract an unprecedented number of viewers and listeners.

There have, of course, been TV shows with much larger audiences. Thus, it seems plausible that a "great debate" between Jack Paar and Bob Hope on almost any subject would attract an even bigger audience than any political candidates have gathered thus far.

AMERICAN VOTERS by the millions have revealed again and again a superficial attitude toward presidential campaigns. Too many vote on the basis of a personal like or dislike of a candidate's appearance. Too many of them pay no attention to the issues or do not really understand the speech - making.

To center a whole campaign on a comparison of the candidates' personalities, or even on their fragmentary answers to questions in a TV debate, is to leave the choice of a top executive for the nation to the whims of a mass audience.

Debates are not conducive to a thoughtful presentation of issues. Even the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates of more than a century ago contain many a statement which both men regretted afterwards.

As the qualifications for voting are gradually changed to permit more and more people to vote irrespective of their ability to understand the issues of a campaign, the tendency under a system of "great debates" on TV will be to nominate not the most capable executive in the country but the most spectacular personality — the best showman.

THAT'S WHY, if President Kennedy declines to enter a "great debate" in the 1964 campaign, there will be no tears shed on the part of those citizens who don't believe in the stunt idea but who think each candidate should thoroughly discuss the issues thourghout the campaign — each in his own way — so that the press and radio and TV can disseminate widely the views of both for careful study by the voters.

Japan's Red Trade

Tokyo Finds Profit In New Market

TOKYO — Under growing pressure from business, Premier Hayto Ikeda's government is engaged in a full-scale reappraisal of its policies concerning trade with the Communist bloc.

Until recently Japan has been second only to the United States among major non-Communist industrial countries in its reluctance to be drawn into large-scale trade with Communist countries.

BUT THIS ATTITUDE began to soften last year when the Soviet Union suddenly began buying Japanese industrial products on an unprecedented scale (one shipping order alone was worth $96 million).

It is strongly felt in Japanese government circles now that the whole climate of Western opinion concerning trade with the Communist bloc is undergoing a change.

This feeling was crystallized when President Kennedy authorized the sale of U.S. wheat and flour to the Soviet Union and Communist nations of Eastern Europe.

Basically, the problem of expanding Japanese trade with Communist countries boils down to two problems: Deferred payments and the range of products to be sold.

THE DEFERRED PAYMENT issue is particularly important with regard to Communist China.

The recent sale of a vinylon synthetic textile plant to China on a long-term payment basis brought about a sharp reaction in Washington and Taiwan. As a result, top officials of the Foreign Office Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI), finance ministry and economic planning agency held a series of meetings to decide whether some form of quota on deferred payment sales to the Communist bloc should be established.

The final decision was that a firm quota would not be imposed at present, but it is clear that any applications for large deferred payment deals will receive the closest official scrutiny.

Deputy Trade Minister Zenie Imai commented recently that MITI welcomed increased trade with Communist China, provided it was in cash.

AS FAR AS deferred payment exports were concerned, however, his ministry adopted a "cautious" position. Terms offered Communist China would not be more favorable than those offered to Southeast Asia, he said.

Imai was commenting on the return to Japan of a "private mission" which flew to Peking late in September to discuss trade between the two countries during the second year of an "unofficial" five-year trade agreement concluded in Peking last year by former Minister of International Trade and Industry Takasaki.

The whole system of "private trade missions and "unofficial trade agreements" is symbolic if the aura of fantasy which now surrounds Japanese-Chinese trade.

"Unofficial" missions, which are flying to Peking with increasing frequency, nearly always include senior members of the ruling Liberal-Democratic party and the full blessing of the government.

Cash Lacking To Buy Radio

from the equipment to lower the price.

—:—

MILLER SAID "as far as I'm concerned, Council should go on record asking the Board of Control to tell us what equipment is being bought before letting the contract." Councilman William Stroble also questioned why the specifications were not the same.

During the discussion it was brought out that one bid was on General Electric equipment, the apparent low bid, and the other was Motorola.

Hephner said the Motorola has the extended service circuit.

The mayor said the specifications couldn't be exactly the same as one company holds patents that the other doesn't have or can use.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said he has investigated the radio systems for some time. He said it is almost impossible to standardize the equipment. He said he feels either will meet the needs of the fire department. "We need almost as much power as the police department and we feel either will meet our specifications," he said in urging Council to act.

THE SITUATION in the city could be serious in case of an emergency without radio communications, Lewis warned.

Miller asked Hephner how he knows the GE equipment would not work in the city.

Hephner said "we want the extra power so we can reach the county units and outlying areas." "East Liverpool, Leetonia and East Palestine are dissatisfied with their GE equipment," he added.

Councilman Allen Baldwin suggested allowing each department to select its own equipment.

Miller said there is almost $2,000 difference in the bid prices and "if the cheaper one will do the job, then buy it."

Stroble, who agreed, then moved to transfer the money from the parking meter fund. Miller was the only one to oppose, declaring he wants to know which firm will be given the bid.

—:—

LEWIS SAID the only complaint he has against Motorola is the service and not the equipment.

Miller agreed and then said he is not for any particular brand, but when closed bids are received, the general specifications should have been met.

In explaining earlier where the remainder of the money could be obtained, Miller outlined the city's financial picture, according to reports received from the auditor and figures supplied by Mayor Daugherty.

Miller said the administration has been accused of having to borrow $10,000 to operate the city. "The question has come up as to what happened to all the other money. The reason the money was 'borrowed'," he said, "is that the tax settlements have been delayed from the county."

—:—

"THE $10,000 was a paper transaction. No interest was paid as the city transferred money from other funds, which were not in the red, until the county auditor could send out settlements."

Mayor Daugherty said "it is just a book entry." This was done in March and the money returned to the respective funds in September. It was done to avoid paying interest, he said.

In projecting the anticipated funds, Miller said $26,826 is expected from personal and real estate taxes.

No sales tax money has been received for October, November or December. This amounts to about $1,059 per month or a total of $3,178. Some $2,655 is due on liquor licenses. Fines and fees are estimated at $5,000, making a total of approximately $49,923 to be received.

LESS ADVANCES made and fees, this will be $40,063 to be received in the next three months. It is estimated that it costs $11,000 per month to operate the city from the general fund, leaving approximately $7,000.

Miller said the figures were supplied by the mayor. He said he estimates the city will have at least $4,500 left by the end of the year. This could be used to obtain the radios, he said.

"The administration was accused of having spent all the city's money, when in actuality it has never been received because of delays in the county auditor's office," Miller said.

The monthly report from Auditor Edgar S. Davidson shows the general fund was $973.99 in the red at the end of August. Receipts during September totaled $27,354.17 while disbursements were $14,116.18, leaving a balance of $12,264.

The water department had an August balance of $864.80. Receipts last month were $4,202.55 and disbursements were $2,783.79, leaving a balance of $2,283.65.

Gas

for the first 1,300 cubic feet the final two years instead of 1,500 cubic feet.

The new rates were read into legislation granting the Ohio Valley Gas Co. a 15-year franchise to install the necessray lines and equipment and sell natural gas in the city.

Previously the utility had operated under a continuing franchise granted in 1886. Sneddon explained after the meeting that the new franchise is more modern and explains more in detail the operations of the utility.

The legislation also points out that if any new tax is placed on the utility by the city or state, the rates will be increased to compensate. This has been standard procedure in other ordinances.

Taggart asked why the cost was so high for the first 1,400 cubic feet used. Sneddon said this spreads the increase more evenly over all customers.

Councilman William Stroble asked if the city could have a budget plan such as other communities. Sneddon said this is available to all users. He said the firm would advertise the fact more in Wellsville.

Stroble commented the proposal seems fair, but suggested placing the necessary legislation on first reading to give residents a chance to voice an opinion. Miller said the residents should be well aware of the negotiations that have been going on.

Miller commented the new rates are "just a hair cheaper" than those in East Liverpool.

Councilman Dwight MacLean moved, seconded by Miller, to adopt the rate legislation. All voted yes.

Midland GOP Opens Center Before 350

About 350 attended the opening of the Midland Republican headquarters at 739 Midland Ave. Tuesday afternoon when a ribbon - cutting ceremony was conducted by William J. Eberhardt, candidate for Beaver County prothonotary.

Most of the Beaver County GOP candidates were on hand to meet the public. Several questioned the restriction of the use of a loud speaker on the county campaign float in the borough. A new ordinance on use of such speakers was approved last week.

Robert A. Komara, chairman, and several other speakers also discussed the loss of enrollment at Midland High School and questioned why the merger of the Midland and Western Beaver School systems had been overlooked.

A mass meeting has been scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. at the new headquarters, Komara said.

Woman Suffers Injury As Rig Strikes Truck

A Hanoverton area woman was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when her pickup truck was struck by a tractor - trailer rig on Route 9 about two miles south of Salem Tuesday night.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mary Ann Hruby, 23, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 backed the pickup truck out of a private drive into the path of the northbound rig operated by William Lee Haney, 39, of Mineral City R.D.

She suffered a concussion and abrasions in the crash about 8 p. m.

Chester Ends 6th St. Stop Requirement

Removal of a traffic stop requirement at one of three Chester intersections, at which stop signs were erected earlier this year, was approved by Council at a meeting Tuesday night.

Council authorized removal of signs at the intersection of 6th St. and Louisiana Ave. after a discussion on the signs there and at Indiana Ave. and 4th St. and Virginia Ave. and 2nd St.

Councilman Charles Kology began the discussion by reporting motorists are concerned about the stop signs at Indiana Ave. and 4th St. which he said "could be a hazard this winter." The sign is at the foot of the hill by the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Kology said he would delay action on the 4th St. sign until the next meeting when it is expected Councilman Carl Graham, chairman of the street committee, will be present. He was absent last night.

Council authorized removal of the two signs on 6th St. due to the steep grade at the intersection, but no action was taken on the 2nd St. intersection signs where approaches are flat.

Hutton asked about ticketing of autos in the two - hour parking limit zones on Neptune, Phoenix and Plutus Aves.

Mayor Harry Abrams said, "We are trying to end overtime parking because there was some confusion concerning the parking ordinance when a revision was asked earlier this year." He said the two - hour restriction still applies, and violators are being ticketed by the police.

Hutton, chairman of the water committee, presented a bill totaling $214 for a fire hydrant at 1st St. and Virginia Ave. damaged in April by an East Liverpool woman motorist. The bill was turned over to City Solicitor William Ingram for collection.

Mayor Abrams commented he hoped the bill would not be "left hanging" as long as a similar bill for a damaged hydrant in 1961 now in East Liverpool Municipal Court.

Councilman Donald Chaney was also absent.

Inmate's Escape Plot Fails, Due Return To Pen

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—An inmate who tried unsuccessfully to escape from the Roseville (Muskingum County) branch of Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday will be returned to the maximum security prison in Columbus.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said Edward A. Basilone, 30, received from Lorain County April 7, 1959, for auto theft, went over the perimeter fence at Roseville but stopped and surrendered when a tower guard fired two warning shots.

"He saw the tower guard cleaning a weapon and probably thought the guard was foolish enough to unload both weapons at the same time," Maxwell said. "Of course, he hadn't."

Authorities here said Basilone was on kitchen duty when he went over the fence, which is approximately 12 feet high and topped by barbed wire.

White Segregationist Wins Mayor Bid In Georgia City

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A 45-year-old white segregationist has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of this racially troubled Southwest Georgia city where a Negro sought the office for the first time.

Attorney James V. Davis received 7,220 votes Tuesday, well over a majority of those cast in a record turnout, making a runoff unnecessary. Nomination in the primary means election.

Slater King, a Negro integration leader, was second with 2,547 votes.

The second white man in the race, architect Edward V. Jones, was third with 1,879 votes. He also is a segregationist and opposed formation of any biracial committees.

The outcome indicated little, if any, change in race relations in this city where more than 1,200 arrests were made during intermittent demonstrations the past two years.

Davis said he thought that "what will be done for the colored people will have to be done within the framework of segregation."

King, acting president of the Antisegregation Albany Movement, called for creation of a biracial committee to discuss grievances. None has been established.

The racial issue and clear, sunshiny weather brought a turnout of more than 11,500 voters.

Albany's 58,000 population includes about 24,000 Negroes. There are an estimated 4,600 Negroes among the 16,436 registered voters.

Vermont, in ratio to population, maintains more dairy cows than any other state.

More Funds Are Urged For Piqua Atomic Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission's nuclear reactor at Piqua, Ohio, should be modified at greater expense although it already has overrun its expected cost, a congressional subcommittee has been told.

The Senate-House atomic energy unit heard testimony Tuesday on proposals to modify authorizations for projects at Piqua and at Elk River, Iowa.

The proposals would change the Piqua reactor's cost from $12,305,000 to $22,864,000 and the one in Iowa from $11,445,000 to $16,009,000.

Among witnesses was Dr. Frank K. Pittman, director of the AEC's Reactor Development Division.

Democrat Convention May Undergo Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Convention, which like Topsy just sort of grew, may be trimmed to a more manageable size next year. And its collective voice may have less Southern drawl and Western twang.

The decisions will be made when the Democratic National Committee meets in November or early December to allocate the votes for the 1964 convention at Atlantic City.

A subcommittee headed by Jacob Arvey of Chicago, the national committeeman from Illinois, has been studying the allocation of votes since last May. No proposals have been announced, but sources close to the national committee say these could be among them when the committee meets:

A return to the bonus system. It would reward with larger representation those states — mostly east of the Mississippi — which voted for President Kennedy in 1960.

No bonuses, but a reduction in voting power of those states which lost representation in Congress because of population shifts in 1950 and 1960 but, in effect, never lost any of their convention votes.

A combination of the two that would allocate votes on an up-to-date population basis plus bonus votes for multiples of Democratic votes in 1960, regardless of whether Kennedy carried the state.

Also expected to come up is a hardy quadrennial — the number of persons at a Democratic convention.

Republicans limit their state delegations to a one man-one vote basis. But Democrats over the years have split things up into half votes. That way more delegates get to go to the convention, a form of reward for party faithful.

But it also can be confusing. In 1960, there were 3,042 delegates authorized to cast 1,521 votes at the Los Angeles convention. And that didn't include more than 1,400 persons present as alternates.

To the politician, however, the number of delegates isn't nearly so important as the number of votes allotted each state.

Some critics felt the 1960 convention was weighted in favor of many—but not all—Southern and far Western states.

A new city of Skopje, Yugoslavia, is planned, perhaps on a different site nearby the old one.

from the equipment to lower the price.

—:—

MILLER SAID "as far as I'm concerned, Council should go on record asking the Board of Control to tell us what equipment is being bought before letting the contract." Councilman William Stroble also questioned why the specifications were not the same.

During the discussion it was brought out that one bid was on General Electric equipment, the apparent low bid, and the other was Motorola.

Hephner said the Motorola has the extended service circuit.

The mayor said the specifications couldn't be exactly the same as one company holds patents that the other doesn't have or can use.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said he has investigated the radio systems for some time. He said it is almost impossible to standardize the equipment. He said he feels either will meet the needs of the fire department. "We need almost as much power as the police department and we feel either will meet our specifications," he said in urging Council to act.

THE SITUATION in the city could be serious in case of an emergency without radio communications, Lewis warned.

Miller asked Hephner how he knows the GE equipment would not work in the city.

Hephner said "we want the extra power so we can reach the county units and outlying areas." "East Liverpool, Leetonia and East Palestine are dissatisfied with their GE equipment," he added.

Councilman Allen Baldwin suggested allowing each department to select its own equipment.

Miller said there is almost $2,000 difference in the bid prices and "if the cheaper one will do the job, then buy it."

Stroble, who agreed, then moved to transfer the money from the parking meter fund. Miller was the only one to oppose, declaring he wants to know which firm will be given the bid.

—:—

LEWIS SAID the only complaint he has against Motorola is the service and not the equipment.

Miller agreed and then said he is not for any particular brand, but when closed bids are received, the general specifications should have been met.

In explaining earlier where the remainder of the money could be obtained, Miller outlined the city's financial picture, according to reports received from the auditor and figures supplied by Mayor Daugherty.

Miller said the administration has been accused of having to borrow $10,000 to operate the city. "The question has come up as to what happened to all the other money. The reason the money was 'borrowed'," he said, "is that the tax settlements have been delayed from the county."

—:—

"THE $10,000 was a paper transaction. No interest was paid as the city transferred money from other funds, which were not in the red, until the county auditor could send out settlements."

Mayor Daugherty said "it is just a book entry." This was done in March and the money returned to the respective funds in September. It was done to avoid paying interest, he said.

In projecting the anticipated funds, Miller said $26,826 is expected from personal and real estate taxes.

No sales tax money has been received for October, November or December. This amounts to about $1,059 per month or a total of $3,178. Some $2,655 is due on liquor licenses. Fines and fees are estimated at $5,000, making a total of approximately $49,923 to be received.

LESS ADVANCES made and fees, this will be $40,063 to be received in the next three months. It is estimated that it costs $11,000 per month to operate the city from the general fund, leaving approximately $7,000.

Miller said the figures were supplied by the mayor. He said he estimates the city will have at least $4,500 left by the end of the year. This could be used to obtain the radios, he said.

"The administration was accused of having spent all the city's money, when in actuality it has never been received because of delays in the county auditor's office," Miller said.

The monthly report from Auditor Edgar S. Davidson shows the general fund was $973.99 in the red at the end of August. Receipts during September totaled $27,354.17 while disbursements were $14,116.18, leaving a balance of $12,264.

The water department had an August balance of $864.80. Receipts last month were $4,202.55 and disbursements were $2,783.79, leaving a balance of $2,283.65.

Gas

for the first 1,300 cubic feet the final two years instead of 1,500 cubic feet.

The new rates were read into legislation granting the Ohio Valley Gas Co. a 15-year franchise to install the necessray lines and equipment and sell natural gas in the city.

Previously the utility had operated under a continuing franchise granted in 1886. Sneddon explained after the meeting that the new franchise is more modern and explains more in detail the operations of the utility.

The legislation also points out that if any new tax is placed on the utility by the city or state, the rates will be increased to compensate. This has been standard procedure in other ordinances.

Taggart asked why the cost was so high for the first 1,400 cubic feet used. Sneddon said this spreads the increase more evenly over all customers.

Councilman William Stroble asked if the city could have a budget plan such as other communities. Sneddon said this is available to all users. He said the firm would advertise the fact more in Wellsville.

Stroble commented the proposal seems fair, but suggested placing the necessary legislation on first reading to give residents a chance to voice an opinion. Miller said the residents should be well aware of the negotiations that have been going on.

Miller commented the new rates are "just a hair cheaper" than those in East Liverpool.

Councilman Dwight MacLean moved, seconded by Miller, to adopt the rate legislation. All voted yes.

Midland GOP Opens Center Before 350

About 350 attended the opening of the Midland Republican headquarters at 739 Midland Ave. Tuesday afternoon when a ribbon - cutting ceremony was conducted by William J. Eberhardt, candidate for Beaver County prothonotary.

Most of the Beaver County GOP candidates were on hand to meet the public. Several questioned the restriction of the use of a loud speaker on the county campaign float in the borough. A new ordinance on use of such speakers was approved last week.

Robert A. Komara, chairman, and several other speakers also discussed the loss of enrollment at Midland High School and questioned why the merger of the Midland and Western Beaver School systems had been overlooked.

A mass meeting has been scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. at the new headquarters, Komara said.

Woman Suffers Injury As Rig Strikes Truck

A Hanoverton area woman was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when her pickup truck was struck by a tractor - trailer rig on Route 9 about two miles south of Salem Tuesday night.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mary Ann Hruby, 23, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 backed the pickup truck out of a private drive into the path of the northbound rig operated by William Lee Haney, 39, of Mineral City R.D.

She suffered a concussion and abrasions in the crash about 8 p. m.

Special Meeting Set

County Board, Southern Local To Air Bus Problem

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night set Oct. 28 for a special meeting with the Southern Local board in regards to bus transportation problems, and its dedication program held last summer.

The Southern Local board was requested to meet with the county board after it refused to give contracts to the three families who haul their children to locations where they can be picked up by Southern Local busses.

Mrs. Arthur Martin and William Bauman were present last night and requested that the bus travel their township road about 1.2 miles and pick up her children. She claims her car is not adequate anymore.

Jack Baker, executive head, also was present, and discussed the situation from 1957 to the present. During this time, Mrs. Martin has been paid from $1 up to $2.90 per day to transport her children over this road so they could get on the Southern Local bus. Before 1957, it was reported that the bus traveled the road.

Some county board members have checked the road on several occasions and feel it is no worse than several others that other districts have to travel. Baker says these trips are not feasible due to the extra time it takes to make the trip and turn around and come back. Mrs. Martin claims that they come in from Route 39 and pick up on stop and then turn around and go out.

Mrs. Martin had kept her children out of school for the first 10 days of the new term, but she was cited into Juvenile Court and warned the youngster's custody would be taken from her if she didn't see they got out to the bus and in school each day.

The placing of the Masonic emblem on the new Southern Local High School was also discussed and this is expected to be another matter for discussion at the special meeting.

Supt. James L. McBride was authorized by the county board to set up a school bus drivers' workshop again this year for all such drivers in the county. This had also been requested by the chief school executives at their meeting recently.

Fred Lohman, county attendance officer, reported he made 70 calls last month — 32 to homes and 38 to school — and drove 802 miles.

Don Rupert of New Waterford, candidate for the county board, was present. He and incumbents, Mrs. Freeman Strabley of Salineville and Dan Furey of Hanoverton, seek the two posts.

Bills of $334.51 were ordered paid. Next meeting is Nov. 19 at 8:30. p.m.

Hanoverton District Driver Fined, Jailed

LISBON — Edward A. Haupt, 64, of Hanoverton R. D. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail when he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated at a hearing Tuesday before County Judge James L. MacDonald.

Judge MacDonald suspended $50 of the fine providing he drives only to and from work.

In other citations by the State Highway Patrol, Stuart E. Gross, 47, of Shaker Heights forfeited a $15 bond for speeding and Belle H. Kayler, 63, of Alliance, $20 bond for ignoring a stop sign.

Hearings Slated For 2 Motorists

Municipal Court hearings are scheduled next week for two motorists cited Tuesday by East Liverpool police and the State Highway Patrol.

George Lichtenthal of Pittsburgh is due before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Monday at 9 a. m. on a charge of making an illegal turn at 12:50 p. m. yesterday at E. 5th and Washington Sts.

The Pittsburgher posted a $17.50 bond after he was cited by Patrolman Charles A. Winters.

Dominick Bovalina of Burgettstown is due for a hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol at 9:55 last night on Route 30 on a charge of passing over a yellow line.

Bovalina posted a $32.50 appearance bond.

Rotary Hears Guest

Speaker Relates Planning Aims

As the maestro seeks harmony in directing the orchestra, so do planners seek harmonious relationships when developing a guide for future growth of cities and regions, a Steubenville engineer told the Rotary in the Travelers Hotel.

Nickolas Kascheck, director of regional planning for the Jefferson County Planning Commission, asserted one of the most important factors in city and regional planning is relating one area of development to another.

COLUMBIANA County has been late in facing the "music," having only recently named a planning commission, and communities in the Upper Ohio Valley still have "many loose ends, to knot in development and preparation of land, Kascheck declared.

An experienced hand in city and regional planning, Kascheck outlined some of the things which planners are concerned with in developing a guide for future growth — schools, housing, transportation, and industry.

While planners are interested in these things, they are not concerned with how the school is designed or when it will be opened, or in the design of an interchange of an important new road.

"THEY ARE concerned with school and when it will be needed, and the uses of the land adjacent to the highway interchange and whether it meets the needs of transportation facilities," Kascheck said.

The home and its occupants come in for a large share of attention in developing the comprehensive plan, Ksacheck said, as planners must decide on the locations of shopping centers, churches, highways and streets, employment and related services as a matter of convenience.

The complex housing area must be related to other land uses for harmonious development.

THREE major concerns of those engaged in formulating a comprehensive plan are land use, population analysis shared with transportation and economics, and community facilities.

Outlining a land use plan is not "crystal ball gazing" but use of data compiled in scientific surveys and decisions reflecting the needs of a community, and what the community's intentions are, Kascheck, explained. The plan should reflect the needs of a community for 10 to 20 years.

The engineer said Jefferson County looks with envy on East Liverpool's massing of transportation activities, such as improvements to Route 30 and construction of links of new State Route 11.

Tools used in implementing the comprehensive plan are a capital improvements program, land subdivision regulations and zoning.

KASCHECK declared that regional planners should not be concerned with such artificial political boundaries but must relate entire areas for co-ordination.

He has been active in the planning field for 12 years. Kascheck was introduced by Dean M. Wilhelm, program chairman. Don Eckert of the Municipal Planning Commission was a guest. Ralph A. Finley, president, presided.

Mickey Mantle entered the 1963 World Series — his 10th — with a record of 41 strikeouts. He also has the most walks — 36.

Elkton PTA Names Aides

Delegates and alternates to the Columbiana County Parent-Teacher Association were elected at a meeting of the Elkton PTA Monday night.

Ralph Apple and Gerald Foreman were named delegates with Charles Dickey and John Booth alternates.

Twenty-five attended. Mrs. Jay Eells, president, conducted devotions.

The ways and means committee was instructed to plan a public spaghetti supper. The committee includes Apple, Dickey and Mrs. William Rudibaugh.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Foyn Wright's class. Homeroom mothers will be in charge of lunch for remaining meetings. A nursery will be provided at future meetings for children up to the fourth grade.

County Supt. J. L. McBride spoke on Communism. "Father's Night" will be observed at the meeting Nov. 11. Herman Reuter of Lisbon will speak on "Soil and Water Conservation."

A chess set exhibited in East Germany in 1960 portrayed the king as a worker reading an economic plan and the queen as a woman scientists. Pawns carry hammers or sickles.

Rescue Mission Plans Thanksgiving Service

Plans were discussed for special Thanksgiving services the week of Nov. 18 at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Community Rescue Mission Tuesday night at the mission on Broadway. Roland Edgar, president, presided.

Supt. Carl Mansfield, presented the September report showing beds provided 149; 359 meals served and 30 families assisted.

The men will conduct devotions at a meeting of the auxiliary Nov. 18 when the board will also meet.

Vikings Get Ferguson On Waiver Deal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings claimed fullback Bob Ferguson on waivers Tuesday from the Pittsburgh Steelers.

A Pittsburgh spokesman said the Steelers will receive a high draft choice from the Vikings in this year's National Football League draft.

Ferguson, a two-time All-America from Ohio State, is in his second year as a pro. He spent most of his time with the Steelers backing up John Henry Johnson.

Jolly Roger Completes 55 Of 77 Passes

NEW YORK (AP)—Jolly Roger Staubach, Navy's standout junior quarterback, is rambling along at a record pace in two major statistical categories, according to official figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The 190-pounder picked up 235 yards rushing and passing in the loss to Southern Methodist last week and now has a total offense mark of 1,024 for four games for an average of 261 a game.

And his 55 completions in 77 attempts puts him at the top of the passers. His completions percentage of .714 is the best ever after four games.

Staubach's total offense lead in 264 yards over runner-up Tommy Myers of Northwestern, but his passing mark is less secure.

Myers leads in passing yardage with 815. Staubach has 742.

Jimmy Sidle of Auburn moved into the rushing lead with 434 yards on 64 carries.

Pitt Given Edge; Badgers Favored

HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points.

This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge.

That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's totals to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming weekend:

Wisconsin over Iowa: Hal Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates.

Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The West Virginians too big for their own good.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Illinois over Minnesota: The surprising Illini display their talents at homecoming.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Billy Lothridge of the Engineers can run, pass and kick.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Navy over Virginia Military: This game features the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Roger Staubach is the prize pearl of the Middies.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Baylor over Texas Tech: Coach John Bridgers has his pro-style offense clicking.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken.

Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this bruiser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Others: Cincinnati over Detroit, Iowa over Colorado, Nebraska over Kansas State, Wichita over Louisville, Michigan State over Indiana, Purdue over Michigan, Notre Dame over UCLA, Delaware over Ohio University and Missouri over Oklahoma State.

Big 10 Having Banner Year; 4 Teams Ranked

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Popularity, strength and national acclaim are not new to the Big Ten football conference. But this season they all seem to be rolled in one powerful package that has the league roaring to its most successful campaign in history.

No fewer than four conference teams are ranked with the nation's top teams, attendance records are being set in practically every stadium and one of the league's greatest races for both the championship and the Rose Bowl is in the making.

Wisconsin, the defending champion, is ranked second only to Texas and currently appears headed for another title. But the Badgers can't go to the Rose Bowl because of their appearance in Pasadena last New Year's Day. Even if Wisconsin makes off with the title, a royal battle will be staged for the runnerup position and the year-end trip West.

Ohio State is ranked fourth nationally with Illinois seventh, Northwestern tied for 10th and Iowa's surprising Hawkeyes not too far from possible breaking into the Top Ten.

Alwyas a scourge against outside competition, Big Ten teams have a whopping 10-4 - 1 record against non-conference foes this season and threatened to extend this figure as the season rolls on.

And the Big Ten is enjoying its greatest season at the gate. Last Saturday, with a full slate of five conference games, some 351,940 fans witnessed Big Ten football—an average of 70,388 a game. This exceeded the previous record of 326,246 for five games on Oct. 13, 1956.

For 18 games this season, Big Ten teams have drawn 1,064,657 customers and more will pour in as the race gets hotter.

Northwestern Coach Ara Parseghian predicted Tuesday that the contest would get so competitive that a team with two losses conceivably could win the championship. That has happened only once before, when Wisconsin won with a 5-2 record in 1959.

'How Couldn't We Miss Cousy?' Coach Shouts

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Damn right we'll miss him," storms Red Auerbach. "How could we not miss him? How do you lose No. 1 and not feel it?"

Auerbach, fiery coach of the Boston Celtics, was replying to the oft-asked question about how the Celtics are going to do without the services of Bob Cousy, the backcourt ace and team leader of the National Basketball Association champions.

Cousy, the Celtics' "Mr. Basketball" and sparkplug of the team that won a record five straight league championships, has retired after 13 seasons.

The absence of the 13-time league all-star, two franchise shifts and a new league commissioner provide a new look to the NBA as the league opens its 18th season.

New look or no, the old question remains: Who's going to beat the Celtics?

They won the Eastern title by 10 games last year and are favored to repeat. Cousy is gone, but the champs still have the great Bill Russell and such standouts as the Jones boys, Sam and K. C., Tommy Heinsohn and Tom Sanders. And they've added backcourt ace Willie Naulls.

Cincinnati is expected to give them the most trouble in the East. Los Angeles, defending division champion and loser to Boston in the final round of the playoffs, is favored in the West.

J. Walter Kennedy, who succeeded Maurice Podoloff as league commissioner, has indicated he will run his nine-team circuit with a strong hand. The first game has yet to be played and he already has assessed Auerbach a $500 fine for a flare-up during an exhibition game.

The new franchises are at Philadelphia and Baltimore. Baltimore, out of the league since the 1953-54 season, took over the franchise of the Chicago Zephyrs, while Philadelphia returns to the league after an absence of one year, taking over the Syracuse franchise.

Coach Not Looking For Excuse

Team Had Asked Wilkinson To Dismiss Star Halfback

By NORMAN ROWLAND

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "it was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won, "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday. "I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to make it because of his attitude.

"My biggest regret is that I allowed him to come back to the team this year. But he wanted to come back and I let him. This way, it's harder on Joe Don.

"I'm really sorry for the boy but I had no choice.

"Team morale had ceased to exist. It's awful easy for us to look like villains, but we protected this guy for more than a year and we can't continue to protect one boy at the expense of 55 others."

Doctor Recommends New Equipment For Jr. Highs

The East Liverpool High School Athletic Board was informed Tuesday night that $5,000 in new football equipment would be needed at the city's two junior high schools.

Dr. K. W. Turner, team physician, gave his report to the board after examining the condition of grid equipment at the two schools.

Dr. Turner was more concerned with the inter - protective equipment such as helmets, shoulder pads and hip pads, more than the uniforms.

Carl Pelini, high school principal and president of the board, said he would meet with junior high principals and coaches to make a complete survey of the equipment.

It was recommended to the board that in the future, that reports of medical expenses be broken down by items to avoid any misrepresentation of what is actually paid in doctor's fees.

This recommendation was made due to a misunderstanding at a previous meeting concerning medical expenses.

The sale of season basketball tickets will begin Nov. 5 with no change in price.

Texas Tackle Selected Outstanding Lineman

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas tackle Scott Appleton, selected by Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal as the outstanding All-America candidate on the nation's top-ranked football team, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

The 21-year-old senior and team co-captain looked every inch an All-America last Saturday as undefeated Texas rolled to its fourth straight triumph with a devastating 28-7 victory over Oklahoma.

Playing both ways, Appleton made or assisted on 16 tackles. He led the first scoring drive at offensive tackle and set up the third touchdown by knocking Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Page loose from the ball, recovering it on the Sooners' 18-yard line.

Virginia center Turnley Todd, Minnesota tackle Carl Eller and Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus also received high praise in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Todd made seven unassisted tackles in the first half in Virginia's 6-0 triumph over VMI and made a second half interception that stopped a VMI threat at Virginia's 30.

Butkus made or assisted on 23 tackles in a 20-20 tie with Ohio State. He set up Illinois' first touchdown with a pass interception.

Eller twice threw Northwestern quarterback Tommy Myers for long losses and recovered a Myers' fumble to blunt a Northwestern bid in the third quarter.

Special Meeting Set

County Board, Southern Local To Air Bus Problem

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night set Oct. 28 for a special meeting with the Southern Local board in regards to bus transportation problems, and its dedication program held last summer.

The Southern Local board was requested to meet with the county board after it refused to give contracts to the three families who haul their children to locations where they can be picked up by Southern Local busses.

Mrs. Arthur Martin and William Bauman were present last night and requested that the bus travel their township road about 1.2 miles and pick up her children. She claims her car is not adequate anymore.

Jack Baker, executive head, also was present, and discussed the situation from 1957 to the present. During this time, Mrs. Martin has been paid from $1 up to $2.90 per day to transport her children over this road so they could get on the Southern Local bus. Before 1957, it was reported that the bus traveled the road.

Some county board members have checked the road on several occasions and feel it is no worse than several others that other districts have to travel. Baker says these trips are not feasible due to the extra time it takes to make the trip and turn around and come back. Mrs. Martin claims that they come in from Route 39 and pick up on stop and then turn around and go out.

Mrs. Martin had kept her children out of school for the first 10 days of the new term, but she was cited into Juvenile Court and warned the youngster's custody would be taken from her if she didn't see they got out to the bus and in school each day.

The placing of the Masonic emblem on the new Southern Local High School was also discussed and this is expected to be another matter for discussion at the special meeting.

Supt. James L. McBride was authorized by the county board to set up a school bus drivers' workshop again this year for all such drivers in the county. This had also been requested by the chief school executives at their meeting recently.

Fred Lohman, county attendance officer, reported he made 70 calls last month — 32 to homes and 38 to school — and drove 802 miles.

Don Rupert of New Waterford, candidate for the county board, was present. He and incumbents, Mrs. Freeman Strabley of Salineville and Dan Furey of Hanoverton, seek the two posts.

Bills of $334.51 were ordered paid. Next meeting is Nov. 19 at 8:30. p.m.

Hanoverton District Driver Fined, Jailed

LISBON — Edward A. Haupt, 64, of Hanoverton R. D. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail when he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated at a hearing Tuesday before County Judge James L. MacDonald.

Judge MacDonald suspended $50 of the fine providing he drives only to and from work.

In other citations by the State Highway Patrol, Stuart E. Gross, 47, of Shaker Heights forfeited a $15 bond for speeding and Belle H. Kayler, 63, of Alliance, $20 bond for ignoring a stop sign.

Hearings Slated For 2 Motorists

Municipal Court hearings are scheduled next week for two motorists cited Tuesday by East Liverpool police and the State Highway Patrol.

George Lichtenthal of Pittsburgh is due before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Monday at 9 a. m. on a charge of making an illegal turn at 12:50 p. m. yesterday at E. 5th and Washington Sts.

The Pittsburgher posted a $17.50 bond after he was cited by Patrolman Charles A. Winters.

Dominick Bovalina of Burgettstown is due for a hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol at 9:55 last night on Route 30 on a charge of passing over a yellow line.

Bovalina posted a $32.50 appearance bond.

Boxer Taken After Fight In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Ernie Knox died in a Baltimore hospital today, a day and a half after he battled for a $250 purse.

Doctors said a blood clot on the brain killed him, and even had he lived he would have been partly crippled. Knox died at Provident Hospital at 6 a.m.

He was knocked out in the ninth round of his fight with Wayne Bethea of New York Monday night.

Knox, floored for a nine-count earlier in the round, lay stretched out on the ring canvas for nearly 10 minutes after a volley of Bethea punches sent him there at 1:15 of the round.

The 26-year-old Baltimorean was carried from the ring and later sent to the hospital.

At the hospital Knox seemed all right. But early Tuesday morning he lost consciousness. An emergency operation removed a blood clot from his brain.

The loss was the fighter's sixth in 19 bouts. He won 10 and drew three.

His last one, before the Bethea fight, was nine months ago when he licked Jim Robinson in Reading, Pa.

In between his scattered bouts he sometimes worked as a hod carrier. He was collecting unemployment insurance when he stepped into the ring at the Coliseum to face Bethea.

Pep Is Named To Boxing's Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Pep, a dapper, dandy dancer whose flying hands and feet earned him the world featherweight title and the nickname "Will o' the Wisp," is the latest addition to Boxing's Hall of Fame.

"It is nice news," said Pep when advised of his selection. "I was surprised that I got it now."

Now a sales representative for a radio company in Brockton, Mass., Pep said "I miss boxing very much. It was an exciting life and it gave you a chance to meet a lot of very nice people."

Light-footed Willie, now 41, was one of the fastest, most clever boxers in modern history.

He won the featherweight title in 1942 with a 15-round decision over Chalky Wright in New York. He was in military service for two years and retained the crown until the first of his four classic fights with Sandy Saddler.

The lanky Saddler won the first one on a fourth-round knockout in 1948, but Pep regained the title in 1949 with a decision over Saddler. Sandy won the next two on knockouts in 1950 and 1951.

Pep turned pro in 1940 and piled up the amazing record of 62 victories in a row before losing to Sammy Angott in an overweight match. He then won 72 of his next 73 bouts, marred only by a draw.

He was active until 1959 and had an over-all record of 220 victories, one draw and nine losses.

Pep is the 77th member to be named to the Hall since it was formed in 1954. Announcement of his election was made Tuesday by Nat Fleischer, publisher of Ring Magazine and custodian of the Hall.

Officers asked for better attendance. Coffee was served. A decision will be made at the next meeting Monday night on the type of crest to be purchased for jackets for the athletic teams.

Indian Boosters Meet

SALINEVILLE — The Southern Local Athletic Boosters Club will meet Thursday night at 8 at the high school. Plans will be made for a basketball concession stand, and films will be screened on the Crestview game.

Georgia Tech's Lothridge Named Back Of Week

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP)—"I don't consider myself doing all the work. It was a great team effort."

So said Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech quarterback who is known as "Mr. Do-It-All" at Georgia Tech because he is one of the few triple-threats in these days of football specialists.

Lothridge was discussing his performance in Tech's 23-7 victory over Tennessee last Saturday, for which he was named Associated Press Back of the Week for the second time in three weeks.

"It's a great honor but I didn't do it all," said the 21-year-old senior. "I had plenty of help."

Against Tennessee Lothridge scored one touchdown, passed 54 yards for another, kicked two extra points and a field goal and averaged 41 yards punting.

Lothridge first earned the honor against Clemson. In that game he accounted for all 27 of Tech's points in the shutout. He threw three touchdown passes, kicked two field goals and three extra points and kept Clemson backed up to its goal with his punting.

Tech Coach Bobby Dodd considers Lothridge the best quarterback he has ever coached.

"He doesn't do everything perfectly," Dodd said. "But he gets the job done in everything he does. Punting is probably what he is best at. But he's a tough runner and has improved tremendously this year on the option play. His passing is sometimes inconsistent, but when he's right he's a great passer."

Dick Deem was fourth for the Potters while Sherman Phelps and Joe Massey tied for sixth. Jon Pilgram who did an outstanding job at Pittsburgh Saturday did not run because of a leg injury.

Ernie Green Proves Value At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ernie Green, one of the men playing the halfback spot the Cleveland Browns had hoped the late Ernie Davis would fill, has proved to be worth a seventh draft choice for which he was acquired from the Green Bay Packers.

In fact, off his performance in the Browns' 35-24 triumph over the New York Giants Sunday, he has established himself as a breakaway threat and has taken some of the heat off the great Jim Brown.

Green gained 66 yards on 11 carries against the Giants. He also caught a pass for a seven-yard gain.

But it was the type of running rather than the yardage that impressed the Browns. Green hasn't been a slasher, but he made yards against the Giants even when the Browns' line couldn't make a hole for him.

"We felt that we had to establish Ernie as a threat right away" against New York, Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

Green came to the Browns in the summer of 1962 when it was learned Davis had leukemia and wouldn't be playing pro football.

He will be in the starting lineup when the Browns play Philadelphia here Sunday, trying to make their record 6-0.

Hil-Ray's Smoke Signal, a Scottish terrier puppy, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bigelow of Negley continued to sweep top prizes in big Eastern dog shows.

The latest victory by the 11-month old pup came Saturday at Rockville, Md. when he was named best puppy in the show sponsored by the Scottish Terrier Club of Greater Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Bigelow's entry, handled by professional handler Dr. Nancy Caldwell Lenfestey of Wheeling, also won first prize in the 9-12 month old puppy class.

The previous weekend, "Smokey" competing in the annual Scottish Terrier Speciality and Sweepstakes show near Philadelphia, won the sweepstakes with 44 Scotties entered and also captured first prize in the 9-12 month old division and was named reserve winners dog.

Rotary Hears Guest

Speaker Relates Planning Aims

As the maestro seeks harmony in directing the orchestra, so do planners seek harmonious relationships when developing a guide for future growth of cities and regions, a Steubenville engineer told the Rotary in the Travelers Hotel.

Nickolas Kascheck, director of regional planning for the Jefferson County Planning Commission, asserted one of the most important factors in city and regional planning is relating one area of development to another.

COLUMBIANA County has been late in facing the "music," having only recently named a planning commission, and communities in the Upper Ohio Valley still have "many loose ends, to knot in development and preparation of land, Kascheck declared.

An experienced hand in city and regional planning, Kascheck outlined some of the things which planners are concerned with in developing a guide for future growth — schools, housing, transportation, and industry.

While planners are interested in these things, they are not concerned with how the school is designed or when it will be opened, or in the design of an interchange of an important new road.

"THEY ARE concerned with school and when it will be needed, and the uses of the land adjacent to the highway interchange and whether it meets the needs of transportation facilities," Kascheck said.

The home and its occupants come in for a large share of attention in developing the comprehensive plan, Ksacheck said, as planners must decide on the locations of shopping centers, churches, highways and streets, employment and related services as a matter of convenience.

The complex housing area must be related to other land uses for harmonious development.

THREE major concerns of those engaged in formulating a comprehensive plan are land use, population analysis shared with transportation and economics, and community facilities.

Outlining a land use plan is not "crystal ball gazing" but use of data compiled in scientific surveys and decisions reflecting the needs of a community, and what the community's intentions are, Kascheck, explained. The plan should reflect the needs of a community for 10 to 20 years.

The engineer said Jefferson County looks with envy on East Liverpool's massing of transportation activities, such as improvements to Route 30 and construction of links of new State Route 11.

Tools used in implementing the comprehensive plan are a capital improvements program, land subdivision regulations and zoning.

KASCHECK declared that regional planners should not be concerned with such artificial political boundaries but must relate entire areas for co-ordination.

He has been active in the planning field for 12 years. Kascheck was introduced by Dean M. Wilhelm, program chairman. Don Eckert of the Municipal Planning Commission was a guest. Ralph A. Finley, president, presided.

Mickey Mantle entered the 1963 World Series — his 10th — with a record of 41 strikeouts. He also has the most walks — 36.

Elkton PTA Names Aides

Delegates and alternates to the Columbiana County Parent-Teacher Association were elected at a meeting of the Elkton PTA Monday night.

Ralph Apple and Gerald Foreman were named delegates with Charles Dickey and John Booth alternates.

Twenty-five attended. Mrs. Jay Eells, president, conducted devotions.

The ways and means committee was instructed to plan a public spaghetti supper. The committee includes Apple, Dickey and Mrs. William Rudibaugh.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Foyn Wright's class. Homeroom mothers will be in charge of lunch for remaining meetings. A nursery will be provided at future meetings for children up to the fourth grade.

County Supt. J. L. McBride spoke on Communism. "Father's Night" will be observed at the meeting Nov. 11. Herman Reuter of Lisbon will speak on "Soil and Water Conservation."

A chess set exhibited in East Germany in 1960 portrayed the king as a worker reading an economic plan and the queen as a woman scientists. Pawns carry hammers or sickles.

Rescue Mission Plans Thanksgiving Service

Plans were discussed for special Thanksgiving services the week of Nov. 18 at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Community Rescue Mission Tuesday night at the mission on Broadway. Roland Edgar, president, presided.

Supt. Carl Mansfield, presented the September report showing beds provided 149; 359 meals served and 30 families assisted.

The men will conduct devotions at a meeting of the auxiliary Nov. 18 when the board will also meet.

Packers Leading NFL Recovering Fumbles Of Foes

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit leads the National Football League in total defense and pass defense but the Green Bay Packers are tops in one most important statistic—most opponent fumbles recovered.

The Packers, winners of four in a row since dropping the opener to the Bears, have recovered 12 of 13 fumbles by the opposition.

The Lions have held opponents to 1,148 yards, including 506 from passes.

St. Louis shows the way in total offense with 2,056 yards, including a pacesetting 1,214 yards on passing. Cleveland's running game is the best, thanks to Jimmy Brown, who accounts for 787 of their 1,042 yards rushing, according to league statistics released today.

Houk Named AL Manager Of-The-Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, who guided the New York Yankees to the American League pennant in 1963 despite injuries to star outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, was an overwhelming choice as the American League Manager of the Year today.

In the balloting by 71 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll, Houk received 58 votes. Al Lopez, pilot of the second-place Chicago White Sox, was the runner-up with 6 votes.

The voting was based on the regular season performances.

Houk, the Yanks' leader since 1961 when he replaced Casey Stengel, had his most difficult assignment the past season after Mantle suffered a broken bone in his left foot while chasing a fly ball in Baltimore June 5.

At the time the Yanks were tied for first place with the Orioles and White Sox. Houk moved Tom Tresh from left field to Mantle's position in center and also got considerable mileage out of John Blanchard, Maris' replacement in right field.

Mantle, who was out of the regular line-up for almost three months, played in only 65 games. Despite this, the Yanks won the pennant by 10½ games.

Ford Offers $6 Million To Buy Lions

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford automobile family's William Clay Ford is laying $6 million on the line to buy the Detroit Lions.

Bill Ford, a scion of the famed auto world's Fords and who is president of the National Football League club, created a sensation at the Lions' directors meeting Tuesday with the surprise offer.

Ford offered the reportedly startled Lions' directorate the $6 million for full control.

The Lions now are governed by a board of directors responsible to 144 stockholders.

For his $6 million Ford would get a squad of players and the Lions modest headquarters office, the club's only tangible assets.

The 38-year-old Ford Motor Co. official—he is a company vice president—is the first member of his family to be a sportsman on a major scale.

William Clay is one of three grandsons of auto pioneer Henry Ford.

Ford's offer to buy came with the Lions struggling to get back on the winning track. The Lions, considered title contenders at the start of the season, have dropped three of their five games.

Near Critical Stage In East

Drought And Woods Fire Plague Most Of Country

CHICAGO (AP) — Drought and woodland fires continued to plague many parts of the nation today.

Drought conditions in some areas in the eastern half of the nation appeared near the critical stage. Hundreds of fires burned in the tinder-dry forestlands in the Northeast and Midwest sections.

Summer's lush green pasture lands in much of the Western rangelands and in other areas were dry and brittle. Hay shortages were reported. There was a heavy decline in feed for livestock. Milk production sagged. Marketing of cattle was higher than normal for the season.

Water levels on most of the Great Lakes and many major rivers and streams were below seasonal levels. Water shortages developed in some communities and restrictions were ordered.

No accurate estimate of the damage the drought and fires have already caused in the past several weeks was available. But the Wabash Valley Association in Indiana said that drought damage in southern Indiana and southeastern Illinois alone may total between $35 million and $50 million.

There appeared no immediate, general break in the long dry, mild spell across much of the eastern half of the country. Record high temperatures have been set in scores of cities in the first half of October, with readings in the 90s and upper 80s.

However, some heavy thunderstorms erupted in the Central Plains and Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms accompanied by lightning struck West Central Kansas with the first rain of consequence since Sept. 2. A four-hour storm which dumped 2.55 inches of rain on Hutchinson.

In the Southeast, 1.02 inches were recorded during a six-hour period in Miami, Fla. Thundershowers also fell on many other parts of Florida.

Hundreds of fires have burned thousands of acres of forestland in more than a dozen states. New York state's vast and valuable forestlands appeared hardest hit. But fires also spread across other areas in the Northeast, including Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Flames also whipped through wooded areas in West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas.

Hundreds of volunteers joined firemen in fighting the fires.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney's ban on fires in forests, fields and woodlands goes into effect today, the first such statewide order in 17 years. Fire danger was rated very high, and "explosive" in a few areas.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton banned smoking and campfires in state forests. Nearly 200 forest fires have been reported in the state in October.

Some of the nation's biggest rivers were at or near record low levels. Included were Pennsylvania's three major river systems, the Allegheny-Monongahela-Ohio, the Susquehanna and the Delaware. Lower water levels also have curtailed the barge traffic on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Despite September Drop

No Basic Change Seen In Employment Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

—:—

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK: Despite a drop in unemployment during September to 3.5 million, there was no basic change in the job outlook over August and little change is expected next month.

A Labor Department spokesman said Tuesday that a 500,000 increase in employment and a drop in unemployment of 350,000 were caused mainly by seasonal factors as schools reopened and automobile plants tooled up to put out the 1964 models.

The unemployment rate remained at 5.6 per cent after seasonal adjustment.

DOMINICAN: The United States has denied charges by the Dominican Republic that it is interfering in the internal affairs of the Latin-American nation.

Dominican representative Jose Antonio Bonilla told the Organization of American States Tuesday that U.S. Charge d'Affaires Spencer King had suggested the ruling military junta turn over its power to Dr. Juan Casasnovas Garrido, president of the Dominican state.

Garrido claims he is the rightful successor to Juan Bosch, deposed as president by the Junta.

Ward P. Allen, alternate U.S. representative to the OAS, rejected Bonilla's charge.

OTEPKA'S REPLY: Otto F. Otepka, suspended State Department security officer, has asked the department to dismiss charges that he mutilated and declassified secret documents and gave some to a Senate subcommittee.

In a 12-page letter claiming the charges are without foundation, Otepka said he had "reason to believe" someone eavesdropped on his conversations, used "secretly employed listening devices," tapped his telephone and "surreptitiously opened and searched" his desk.

Otepka's letter was addressed to John Ordway, chief of the department's personnel operations division, who is reviewing charges which could result in Otepka's dismissal.

Otepka was suspended Sept. 23 on charges of conduct "unbecoming to an officer of the Department of State."

Vikings Get Ferguson On Waiver Deal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings claimed fullback Bob Ferguson on waivers Tuesday from the Pittsburgh Steelers.

A Pittsburgh spokesman said the Steelers will receive a high draft choice from the Vikings in this year's National Football League draft.

Ferguson, a two-time All-America from Ohio State, is in his second year as a pro. He spent most of his time with the Steelers backing up John Henry Johnson.

Jolly Roger Completes 55 Of 77 Passes

NEW YORK (AP)—Jolly Roger Staubach, Navy's standout junior quarterback, is rambling along at a record pace in two major statistical categories, according to official figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The 190-pounder picked up 235 yards rushing and passing in the loss to Southern Methodist last week and now has a total offense mark of 1,024 for four games for an average of 261 a game.

And his 55 completions in 77 attempts puts him at the top of the passers. His completions percentage of .714 is the best ever after four games.

Staubach's total offense lead in 264 yards over runner-up Tommy Myers of Northwestern, but his passing mark is less secure.

Myers leads in passing yardage with 815. Staubach has 742.

Jimmy Sidle of Auburn moved into the rushing lead with 434 yards on 64 carries.

Pitt Given Edge; Badgers Favored

HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points.

This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge.

That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's totals to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming weekend:

Wisconsin over Iowa: Hal Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates.

Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The West Virginians too big for their own good.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Illinois over Minnesota: The surprising Illini display their talents at homecoming.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Billy Lothridge of the Engineers can run, pass and kick.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Navy over Virginia Military: This game features the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Roger Staubach is the prize pearl of the Middies.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Baylor over Texas Tech: Coach John Bridgers has his pro-style offense clicking.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken.

Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this bruiser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Others: Cincinnati over Detroit, Iowa over Colorado, Nebraska over Kansas State, Wichita over Louisville, Michigan State over Indiana, Purdue over Michigan, Notre Dame over UCLA, Delaware over Ohio University and Missouri over Oklahoma State.

Big 10 Having Banner Year; 4 Teams Ranked

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Popularity, strength and national acclaim are not new to the Big Ten football conference. But this season they all seem to be rolled in one powerful package that has the league roaring to its most successful campaign in history.

No fewer than four conference teams are ranked with the nation's top teams, attendance records are being set in practically every stadium and one of the league's greatest races for both the championship and the Rose Bowl is in the making.

Wisconsin, the defending champion, is ranked second only to Texas and currently appears headed for another title. But the Badgers can't go to the Rose Bowl because of their appearance in Pasadena last New Year's Day. Even if Wisconsin makes off with the title, a royal battle will be staged for the runnerup position and the year-end trip West.

Ohio State is ranked fourth nationally with Illinois seventh, Northwestern tied for 10th and Iowa's surprising Hawkeyes not too far from possible breaking into the Top Ten.

Alwyas a scourge against outside competition, Big Ten teams have a whopping 10-4 - 1 record against non-conference foes this season and threatened to extend this figure as the season rolls on.

And the Big Ten is enjoying its greatest season at the gate. Last Saturday, with a full slate of five conference games, some 351,940 fans witnessed Big Ten football—an average of 70,388 a game. This exceeded the previous record of 326,246 for five games on Oct. 13, 1956.

For 18 games this season, Big Ten teams have drawn 1,064,657 customers and more will pour in as the race gets hotter.

Northwestern Coach Ara Parseghian predicted Tuesday that the contest would get so competitive that a team with two losses conceivably could win the championship. That has happened only once before, when Wisconsin won with a 5-2 record in 1959.

'How Couldn't We Miss Cousy?' Coach Shouts

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Damn right we'll miss him," storms Red Auerbach. "How could we not miss him? How do you lose No. 1 and not feel it?"

Auerbach, fiery coach of the Boston Celtics, was replying to the oft-asked question about how the Celtics are going to do without the services of Bob Cousy, the backcourt ace and team leader of the National Basketball Association champions.

Cousy, the Celtics' "Mr. Basketball" and sparkplug of the team that won a record five straight league championships, has retired after 13 seasons.

The absence of the 13-time league all-star, two franchise shifts and a new league commissioner provide a new look to the NBA as the league opens its 18th season.

New look or no, the old question remains: Who's going to beat the Celtics?

They won the Eastern title by 10 games last year and are favored to repeat. Cousy is gone, but the champs still have the great Bill Russell and such standouts as the Jones boys, Sam and K. C., Tommy Heinsohn and Tom Sanders. And they've added backcourt ace Willie Naulls.

Cincinnati is expected to give them the most trouble in the East. Los Angeles, defending division champion and loser to Boston in the final round of the playoffs, is favored in the West.

J. Walter Kennedy, who succeeded Maurice Podoloff as league commissioner, has indicated he will run his nine-team circuit with a strong hand. The first game has yet to be played and he already has assessed Auerbach a $500 fine for a flare-up during an exhibition game.

The new franchises are at Philadelphia and Baltimore. Baltimore, out of the league since the 1953-54 season, took over the franchise of the Chicago Zephyrs, while Philadelphia returns to the league after an absence of one year, taking over the Syracuse franchise.

Station In Columbus To Televise OSU Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — WBNS-TV, Columbus, will carry live from Los Angeles the intersectional football game Saturday between Ohio State and Southern California.

Station officials said Tuesday the game will follow immediately the Columbia Broadcasting System's telecast of the Purdue-Michigan game.

Special permission to carry the OSU-USC game was obtained from the National Collegiate Athletic Association, WBNS - TV officials said.

Tigers Pick Spencer As Minor Loop Coach

Spencer succeeds Frank (Stub) Overmire, who now is a tiger coach. He also will handle scouting assignments.

Coach Not Looking For Excuse

Team Had Asked Wilkinson To Dismiss Star Halfback

By NORMAN ROWLAND

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "it was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won, "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday. "I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to make it because of his attitude.

"My biggest regret is that I allowed him to come back to the team this year. But he wanted to come back and I let him. This way, it's harder on Joe Don.

"I'm really sorry for the boy but I had no choice.

"Team morale had ceased to exist. It's awful easy for us to look like villains, but we protected this guy for more than a year and we can't continue to protect one boy at the expense of 55 others."

Doctor Recommends New Equipment For Jr. Highs

The East Liverpool High School Athletic Board was informed Tuesday night that $5,000 in new football equipment would be needed at the city's two junior high schools.

Dr. K. W. Turner, team physician, gave his report to the board after examining the condition of grid equipment at the two schools.

Dr. Turner was more concerned with the inter - protective equipment such as helmets, shoulder pads and hip pads, more than the uniforms.

Carl Pelini, high school principal and president of the board, said he would meet with junior high principals and coaches to make a complete survey of the equipment.

It was recommended to the board that in the future, that reports of medical expenses be broken down by items to avoid any misrepresentation of what is actually paid in doctor's fees.

This recommendation was made due to a misunderstanding at a previous meeting concerning medical expenses.

The sale of season basketball tickets will begin Nov. 5 with no change in price.

Texas Tackle Selected Outstanding Lineman

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas tackle Scott Appleton, selected by Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal as the outstanding All-America candidate on the nation's top-ranked football team, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

The 21-year-old senior and team co-captain looked every inch an All-America last Saturday as undefeated Texas rolled to its fourth straight triumph with a devastating 28-7 victory over Oklahoma.

Playing both ways, Appleton made or assisted on 16 tackles. He led the first scoring drive at offensive tackle and set up the third touchdown by knocking Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Page loose from the ball, recovering it on the Sooners' 18-yard line.

Virginia center Turnley Todd, Minnesota tackle Carl Eller and Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus also received high praise in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Todd made seven unassisted tackles in the first half in Virginia's 6-0 triumph over VMI and made a second half interception that stopped a VMI threat at Virginia's 30.

Butkus made or assisted on 23 tackles in a 20-20 tie with Ohio State. He set up Illinois' first touchdown with a pass interception.

Eller twice threw Northwestern quarterback Tommy Myers for long losses and recovered a Myers' fumble to blunt a Northwestern bid in the third quarter.

Martin Funeral Home
145 West Fifth Street Dial FU 5-3650
East Liverpool, Ohio

Dear friends,

The funeral is usually held in the church, the private home or the funeral director's establishment. Personal preference, pre-arrangement, or religious ritual determines the choice.

Because of ample facilities and a lessening of burden, the trend is toward the funeral home. The family should consult with the funeral director before making a final decision.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Boxer Taken After Fight In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Ernie Knox died in a Baltimore hospital today, a day and a half after he battled for a $250 purse.

Doctors said a blood clot on the brain killed him, and even had he lived he would have been partly crippled. Knox died at Provident Hospital at 6 a.m.

He was knocked out in the ninth round of his fight with Wayne Bethea of New York Monday night.

Knox, floored for a nine-count earlier in the round, lay stretched out on the ring canvas for nearly 10 minutes after a volley of Bethea punches sent him there at 1:15 of the round.

The 26-year-old Baltimorean was carried from the ring and later sent to the hospital.

At the hospital Knox seemed all right. But early Tuesday morning he lost consciousness. An emergency operation removed a blood clot from his brain.

The loss was the fighter's sixth in 19 bouts. He won 10 and drew three.

His last one, before the Bethea fight, was nine months ago when he licked Jim Robinson in Reading, Pa.

In between his scattered bouts he sometimes worked as a hod carrier. He was collecting unemployment insurance when he stepped into the ring at the Coliseum to face Bethea.

Pep Is Named To Boxing's Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Pep, a dapper, dandy dancer whose flying hands and feet earned him the world featherweight title and the nickname "Will o' the Wisp," is the latest addition to Boxing's Hall of Fame.

"It is nice news," said Pep when advised of his selection. "I was surprised that I got it now."

Now a sales representative for a radio company in Brockton, Mass., Pep said "I miss boxing very much. It was an exciting life and it gave you a chance to meet a lot of very nice people."

Light-footed Willie, now 41, was one of the fastest, most clever boxers in modern history.

He won the featherweight title in 1942 with a 15-round decision over Chalky Wright in New York. He was in military service for two years and retained the crown until the first of his four classic fights with Sandy Saddler.

The lanky Saddler won the first one on a fourth-round knockout in 1948, but Pep regained the title in 1949 with a decision over Saddler. Sandy won the next two on knockouts in 1950 and 1951.

Pep turned pro in 1940 and piled up the amazing record of 62 victories in a row before losing to Sammy Angott in an overweight match. He then won 72 of his next 73 bouts, marred only by a draw.

He was active until 1959 and had an over-all record of 220 victories, one draw and nine losses.

Pep is the 77th member to be named to the Hall since it was formed in 1954. Announcement of his election was made Tuesday by Nat Fleischer, publisher of Ring Magazine and custodian of the Hall.

SALINEVILLE — The Southern Local Athletic Boosters Club will meet Thursday night at 8 at the high school. Plans will be made for a basketball concession stand, and films will be screened on the Crestview game.

Georgia Tech's Lothridge Named Back Of Week

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP)—"I don't consider myself doing all the work. It was a great team effort."

So said Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech quarterback who is known as "Mr. Do-It-All" at Georgia Tech because he is one of the few triple-threats in these days of football specialists.

Lothridge was discussing his performance in Tech's 23-7 victory over Tennessee last Saturday, for which he was named Associated Press Back of the Week for the second time in three weeks.

"It's a great honor but I didn't do it all," said the 21-year-old senior. "I had plenty of help."

Against Tennessee Lothridge scored one touchdown, passed 54 yards for another, kicked two extra points and a field goal and averaged 41 yards punting.

Lothridge first earned the honor against Clemson. In that game he accounted for all 27 of Tech's points in the shutout. He threw three touchdown passes, kicked two field goals and three extra points and kept Clemson backed up to its goal with his punting.

Tech Coach Bobby Dodd considers Lothridge the best quarterback he has ever coached.

"He doesn't do everything perfectly," Dodd said. "But he gets the job done in everything he does. Punting is probably what he is best at. But he's a tough runner and has improved tremendously this year on the option play. His passing is sometimes inconsistent, but when he's right he's a great passer."

Captain Ed Loy and Curt Battistelli of the Potters finished in a tie for first place as they both snapped the wire in 10 minutes over the two - mile course.

Dick Deem was fourth for the Potters while Sherman Phelps and Joe Massey tied for sixth. Jon Pilgram who did an outstanding job at Pittsburgh Saturday did not run because of a leg injury.

East Liverpool will run Saturday at St. Clairsville.

Ernie Green Proves Value At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ernie Green, one of the men playing the halfback spot the Cleveland Browns had hoped the late Ernie Davis would fill, has proved to be worth a seventh draft choice for which he was acquired from the Green Bay Packers.

In fact, off his performance in the Browns' 35-24 triumph over the New York Giants Sunday, he has established himself as a breakaway threat and has taken some of the heat off the great Jim Brown.

Green gained 66 yards on 11 carries against the Giants. He also caught a pass for a seven-yard gain.

But it was the type of running rather than the yardage that impressed the Browns. Green hasn't been a slasher, but he made yards against the Giants even when the Browns' line couldn't make a hole for him.

"We felt that we had to establish Ernie as a threat right away" against New York, Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

Green came to the Browns in the summer of 1962 when it was learned Davis had leukemia and wouldn't be playing pro football.

He will be in the starting lineup when the Browns play Philadelphia here Sunday, trying to make their record 6-0.

Democratic Pledge Says: No City Tax Without Vote

A three - point platform highlighted by a promise not to enact a municipal income tax without a vote of the people was adopted by the four major city Democratic organizations and candidates for city offices at a general meeting Tuesday night in campaign headquarters on E. 6th St.

Concurring in the platform were the men's and women's clubs, the Democratic Boosters Club and the city Central Committee. It promises:

"1. No tax without a vote of the people.

2. To co-operate with and work with any and all organizations that can help bring new industry into or around East Liverpool.

3. To operate within the city budget."

Councilman Frank Duffy, nominee for mayor, declared that the party's slate "is in complete unity on all issues and will operate the city as the people want it operated."

Donald Hancock, president of the men's group, acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced Don Gosney of Columbiana, who praised the four organizations for their work.

Mrs. Iris Applegate, county chairwoman, promised full support of the women's organizations and outlined their projects in the campaign. One of the projects is to staff the headquarters from now until the Nov. 5 election, she said.

Larry Finlay, president of the Boosters Club, spoke at length on the qualifications of the candidates.

Mrs. Helen Figley, vice chairman of the city Central Committee, said it will "support the candidates 100 per cent." She spoke on behalf of Leo Payne, chairman of the committee, who was unable to attend.

About 83 attended. The meeting opened with prayer by Donald Smith. Rudy Halpate led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Candidates introduced included: Duffy; Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, asking a second term; Norman Bucher, James Flasco and Hancock, candidates for Council - at - large; Floyd Murray, seeking a second term in the First Ward; James Cunningham, candidate for the Second Ward seat, and Smith, nominee in the Third Ward.

Intruder Obtains $25 In East End Firm's Offices

Loss has been placed at $25 to $30 in a burglary discovered Tuesday in the offices of the Birch Supply Co. and Birch Equipment & Machine Co. at 1304 Railroad St., police reported.

An intruder who entered the East End building Monday night or Tuesday morning took a metal box containing change after ransacking filing cabinets and desks in the main office and the office of Emil J. Birch, president, officers said.

Thurman Riggs and Edward House, employes, discovered the entry yesterday morning and notified Robert Birch, vice president.

The burglar broke a second floor window by hurling pieces of brick from ground level, officers said. Then he used a ladder or a plank to ascend to a canopy over a door, which gave him access to the broken window, police said.

One of the companies' hammers was used to break a pane of glass in the office door. The intruder then reached through the opening and manipulated the lock. A night light was pulled from the ceiling and broken. The intruder apparently left via a door on the west side, which was found closed, but unlocked.

Ike Approves All Seeking Top GOP Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)— A declaration by Dwight D. Eisenhower that every man now being mentioned for the Republican presidential nomination is acceptable to him brought happy smiles today to the faces of Sen. Barry Goldwater's supporters.

The former president previously had expressed some puzzlement as to just where the Arizona senator, a leading contender for the GOP nomination, stood on some issues.

But, it was learned, Goldwater recently had a heart-to-heart talk with Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa.—a session which apparently went a considerable distance toward a meeting of minds.

Goldwater told a reporter that he informed Eisenhower that he would state his views fully on all issues if he formally enters the presidential nomination tourney.

At a festive 73rd birthday party Tuesday night, Eisenhower did not tap anyone for the presidential nomination.

But he said "Let us not concern ourselves too much with differences of thinking among our natural leaders.

"I know of none of the party's presidential possibilities I could not support."

Packers Leading NFL Recovering Fumbles Of Foes

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit leads the National Football League in total defense and pass defense but the Green Bay Packers are tops in one most important statistic—most opponent fumbles recovered.

The Packers, winners of four in a row since dropping the opener to the Bears, have recovered 12 of 13 fumbles by the opposition.

The Lions have held opponents to 1,148 yards, including 506 from passes.

St. Louis shows the way in total offense with 2,056 yards, including a pacesetting 1,214 yards on passing. Cleveland's running game is the best, thanks to Jimmy Brown, who accounts for 787 of their 1,042 yards rushing, according to league statistics released today.

Ford Offers $6 Million To Buy Lions

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford automobile family's William Clay Ford is laying $6 million on the line to buy the Detroit Lions.

Bill Ford, a scion of the famed auto world's Fords and who is president of the National Football League club, created a sensation at the Lions' directors meeting Tuesday with the surprise offer.

Ford offered the reportedly startled Lions' directorate the $6 million for full control.

The Lions now are governed by a board of directors responsible to 144 stockholders.

For his $6 million Ford would get a squad of players and the Lions modest headquarters office, the club's only tangible assets.

The 38-year-old Ford Motor Co. official—he is a company vice president—is the first member of his family to be a sportsman on a major scale.

William Clay is one of three grandsons of auto pioneer Henry Ford.

Ford's offer to buy came with the Lions struggling to get back on the winning track. The Lions, considered title contenders at the start of the season, have dropped three of their five games.

Houk Named AL Manager Of-The-Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, who guided the New York Yankees to the American League pennant in 1963 despite injuries to star outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, was an overwhelming choice as the American League Manager of the Year today.

In the balloting by 71 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll, Houk received 58 votes. Al Lopez, pilot of the second-place Chicago White Sox, was the runner-up with 6 votes.

The voting was based on the regular season performances.

Houk, the Yanks' leader since 1961 when he replaced Casey Stengel, had his most difficult assignment the past season after Mantle suffered a broken bone in his left foot while chasing a fly ball in Baltimore June 5.

At the time the Yanks were tied for first place with the Orioles and White Sox. Houk moved Tom Tresh from left field to Mantle's position in center and also got considerable mileage out of John Blanchard, Maris' replacement in right field.

Mantle, who was out of the regular line-up for almost three months, played in only 65 games. Despite this, the Yanks won the pennant by 10½ games.

Salineville Driver Adds Another Victory

Bob Lewis son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis of Salineville won first place in a heat race at Lake Placentia in track rabbit competition Sunday.

He also took third place in the feature race. The Salineville youth has won five trophies in previous races and the Racing Assn. has moved him from beginners class to Class A competition.

Danny Litwhiler, Michigan State's new baseball coach, played 1,057 National League games. He's a native of Ringstown, Pa.

Near Critical Stage In East

Drought And Woods Fire Plague Most Of Country

CHICAGO (AP) — Drought and woodland fires continued to plague many parts of the nation today.

Drought conditions in some areas in the eastern half of the nation appeared near the critical stage. Hundreds of fires burned in the tinder-dry forestlands in the Northeast and Midwest sections.

Summer's lush green pasture lands in much of the Western rangelands and in other areas were dry and brittle. Hay shortages were reported. There was a heavy decline in feed for livestock. Milk production sagged. Marketing of cattle was higher than normal for the season.

Water levels on most of the Great Lakes and many major rivers and streams were below seasonal levels. Water shortages developed in some communities and restrictions were ordered.

No accurate estimate of the damage the drought and fires have already caused in the past several weeks was available. But the Wabash Valley Association in Indiana said that drought damage in southern Indiana and southeastern Illinois alone may total between $35 million and $50 million.

There appeared no immediate, general break in the long dry, mild spell across much of the eastern half of the country. Record high temperatures have been set in scores of cities in the first half of October, with readings in the 90s and upper 80s.

However, some heavy thunderstorms erupted in the Central Plains and Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms accompanied by lightning struck West Central Kansas with the first rain of consequence since Sept. 2. A four-hour storm which dumped 2.55 inches of rain on Hutchinson.

In the Southeast, 1.02 inches were recorded during a six-hour period in Miami, Fla. Thundershowers also fell on many other parts of Florida.

Hundreds of fires have burned thousands of acres of forestland in more than a dozen states. New York state's vast and valuable forestlands appeared hardest hit. But fires also spread across other areas in the Northeast, including Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Flames also whipped through wooded areas in West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas.

Hundreds of volunteers joined firemen in fighting the fires.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney's ban on fires in forests, fields and woodlands goes into effect today, the first such statewide order in 17 years. Fire danger was rated very high, and "explosive" in a few areas.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton banned smoking and campfires in state forests. Nearly 200 forest fires have been reported in the state in October.

Some of the nation's biggest rivers were at or near record low levels. Included were Pennsylvania's three major river systems, the Allegheny-Monongahela-Ohio, the Susquehanna and the Delaware. Lower water levels also have curtailed the barge traffic on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Despite September Drop

No Basic Change Seen In Employment Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

—:—

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK: Despite a drop in unemployment during September to 3.5 million, there was no basic change in the job outlook over August and little change is expected next month.

A Labor Department spokesman said Tuesday that a 500,000 increase in employment and a drop in unemployment of 350,000 were caused mainly by seasonal factors as schools reopened and automobile plants tooled up to put out the 1964 models.

The unemployment rate remained at 5.6 per cent after seasonal adjustment.

DOMINICAN: The United States has denied charges by the Dominican Republic that it is interfering in the internal affairs of the Latin-American nation.

Dominican representative Jose Antonio Bonilla told the Organization of American States Tuesday that U.S. Charge d'Affaires Spencer King had suggested the ruling military junta turn over its power to Dr. Juan Casasnovas Garrido, president of the Dominican state.

Garrido claims he is the rightful successor to Juan Bosch, deposed as president by the Junta.

Ward P. Allen, alternate U.S. representative to the OAS, rejected Bonilla's charge.

OTEPKA'S REPLY: Otto F. Otepka, suspended State Department security officer, has asked the department to dismiss charges that he mutilated and declassified secret documents and gave some to a Senate subcommittee.

In a 12-page letter claiming the charges are without foundation, Otepka said he had "reason to believe" someone eavesdropped on his conversations, used "secretly employed listening devices," tapped his telephone and "surreptitiously opened and searched" his desk.

Otepka's letter was addressed to John Ordway, chief of the department's personnel operations division, who is reviewing charges which could result in Otepka's dismissal.

Otepka was suspended Sept. 23 on charges of conduct "unbecoming to an officer of the Department of State."

Civic Music Season To Open

Turnau Cast To Present Opera

The Tri - State Civic Music Association will present the first concert of the season, The Turnau Opera Players in "Barber of Seville," at 3 p.m. Sunday at Westgate School.

The former students of the late Prof. Josef Turnau, formerly of Germany, named their company in his honor. Prior to the Nazis, Turnau was a leading stage director and after he came to the United States, his career was dedicated to fostering young operatic talent, "that opera might become here, as in Europe, a widely enjoyed and practiced part of our way of life," sponsors said.

In the summer of 1955, the company went to Pine Hill, N. Y., converted the skating rink of the recreation hall into an attractive little theater and gave 38 performances, including the world premiere of Ashley Vernon's "Grand Slam."

With its past season completed, the company will have staged over 300 performances of 40 different operas, including five world premiers of contemporary works. To date, 55 singers, musicians and production staff, have summered with the company.

This 19th Century comic opera will be sung in a new English adaptation which faithfully reproduces the vigor of the Italian libretto.

Memberships to the association may be obtained Sunday at the door.

Two Freed On Bond In Tax Violations

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two Youngstown men charged with violating internal revenue laws were released on bond Tuesday after pleading innocent in U.S. District Court.

They are Ronald Carrabia, 34, indicted last week on a charge of making a false gambling tax stamp return, and Philip Mainer, 38, indicted for failure to file income tax returns for 1960 and 1961.

The day before the baseball season ended the Houston Colts released catcher Hal Smith and infielder Johnny Temple.

County's Road Work Reported Completed

LISBON — Charles Snyder, Columbiana County engineer, said today the county's summer road program has been completed on county highways and those in the 18 townships.

The department completed 127.20 miles of bituminous work, which began June 3. The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton got the contract May 20 from county commissioners to furnish the materials for the entire program. The bid was $143,936.

All townships in the county received some road work, which consisted of oil treatment to lay dust, surface treatment and new treads and widening, Snyder said.

Plea To Block River Improvement Lost

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Two Common Pleas Court judges have turned down the appeal of a group of Hancock County residents who sought to block improvements of the middle branch of the Portage River and two creeks in Wood County.

Judges Joseph Morehead of Hancock County and Floyd A. Coller of Wood County acted Tuesday in the controversy that has brewed for about three years. The Hancock County group maintained the improvements are not needed.

The four major sources of power in the world are coal, natural gas, oil, and hydro-electric.

Wellsville Driver Fined And Jailed

A Wellsville man was fined and jailed for driving while under the influence of alcohol at a hearing this morning before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Austin Easton Jr. of 18th St. Heights was cited Tuesday afternoon at 3:50 following a two-car collision on Main St. at 4th St.

Police said Easton hit the rear of another car driven by Ronald Thompson of Nevada St., Wellsville. Thompson had stopped prior to parking.

Easton was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days.

Police investigated another accident early today. A car driven by Eugene Wright, 933 Commerce St., struck a parked car owned by John Springer, 402 9th St., at 9th and Broadway at 1:30 a.m. police said.

Martin Funeral Home
145 West Fifth Street Dial FU 5-3650
East Liverpool, Ohio

Dear friends,

The funeral is usually held in the church, the private home or the funeral director's establishment. Personal preference, pre-arrangement, or religious ritual determines the choice.

Because of ample facilities and a lessening of burden, the trend is toward the funeral home. The family should consult with the funeral director before making a final decision.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Democratic Pledge Says: No City Tax Without Vote

A three - point platform highlighted by a promise not to enact a municipal income tax without a vote of the people was adopted by the four major city Democratic organizations and candidates for city offices at a general meeting Tuesday night in campaign headquarters on E. 6th St.

Concurring in the platform were the men's and women's clubs, the Democratic Boosters Club and the city Central Committee. It promises:

"1. No tax without a vote of the people.

2. To co-operate with and work with any and all organizations that can help bring new industry into or around East Liverpool.

3. To operate within the city budget."

Councilman Frank Duffy, nominee for mayor, declared that the party's slate "is in complete unity on all issues and will operate the city as the people want it operated."

Donald Hancock, president of the men's group, acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced Don Gosney of Columbiana, who praised the four organizations for their work.

Mrs. Iris Applegate, county chairwoman, promised full support of the women's organizations and outlined their projects in the campaign. One of the projects is to staff the headquarters from now until the Nov. 5 election, she said.

Larry Finlay, president of the Boosters Club, spoke at length on the qualifications of the candidates.

Mrs. Helen Figley, vice chairman of the city Central Committee, said it will "support the candidates 100 per cent." She spoke on behalf of Leo Payne, chairman of the committee, who was unable to attend.

About 83 attended. The meeting opened with prayer by Donald Smith. Rudy Halpate led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Candidates introduced included: Duffy; Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, asking a second term; Norman Bucher, James Flasco and Hancock, candidates for Council - at - large; Floyd Murray, seeking a second term in the First Ward; James Cunningham, candidate for the Second Ward seat, and Smith, nominee in the Third Ward.

Intruder Obtains $25 In East End Firm's Offices

Loss has been placed at $25 to $30 in a burglary discovered Tuesday in the offices of the Birch Supply Co. and Birch Equipment & Machine Co. at 1304 Railroad St., police reported.

An intruder who entered the East End building Monday night or Tuesday morning took a metal box containing change after ransacking filing cabinets and desks in the main office and the office of Emil J. Birch, president, officers said.

Thurman Riggs and Edward House, employes, discovered the entry yesterday morning and notified Robert Birch, vice president.

The burglar broke a second floor window by hurling pieces of brick from ground level, officers said. Then he used a ladder or a plank to ascend to a canopy over a door, which gave him access to the broken window, police said.

One of the companies' hammers was used to break a pane of glass in the office door. The intruder then reached through the opening and manipulated the lock. A night light was pulled from the ceiling and broken. The intruder apparently left via a door on the west side, which was found closed, but unlocked.

Ike Approves All Seeking Top GOP Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)— A declaration by Dwight D. Eisenhower that every man now being mentioned for the Republican presidential nomination is acceptable to him brought happy smiles today to the faces of Sen. Barry Goldwater's supporters.

The former president previously had expressed some puzzlement as to just where the Arizona senator, a leading contender for the GOP nomination, stood on some issues.

But, it was learned, Goldwater recently had a heart-to-heart talk with Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa.—a session which apparently went a considerable distance toward a meeting of minds.

Goldwater told a reporter that he informed Eisenhower that he would state his views fully on all issues if he formally enters the presidential nomination tourney.

At a festive 73rd birthday party Tuesday night, Eisenhower did not tap anyone for the presidential nomination.

But he said "Let us not concern ourselves too much with differences of thinking among our natural leaders.

"I know of none of the party's presidential possibilities I could not support."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

A Neat New Trick Sparks Dieting

Do you have an adventuresome spirit? Would you dare challenge yourself to meet a goal: The homemaker in today's story did, and with admirable results. Here's a heartening report from a Missourian.

Ida Jean Kain

"I'm not much at writing this sort of letter, but I want to help the teen-ager who wrote that she weighed 160 pounds and had never had a date in her life. She really does need encouragement.

"I'm quite a bit older than she is, but I have found that the help of those at home and morale boosting remarks from my friends have done more than anything else to keep me advancing toward my goal.

"I've lost 22½ pounds so far. Then I stopped for just a little while so as not to go at it too strong. I want to reduce slowly enough so that my food habits will be changed.

"NOW THIS IS what I did to whet my interest in a definite goal toward which to work. I bought a really pretty three-piece suit two sizes too small for me. I had it put away and paid on it. Neither the saleslady nor my son thought it possible for me ever to wear the suit.

"Three months later I wore that suit. . . and it fits. I am short, so that 22½ pounds off brought me down enough to wear an outfit two sizes smaller.

"It was the threat of having to go into size 18 that prodded me to drastic action. Now I can fit into size 14, which is right for me.

"Tell the teen-ager to keep her eyes on an extra pretty dress, a couple of sizes too small, and to see herself wearing it gaily. This might just be the thing to make her stick with a slimming pattern of eating.

"I've been counting calories. By that plan, if you want something special, you just cut down somewhere along the line. Tell her to enlist the aid of her family. . .not in a kidding way, but in a helpful way," she concluded.

ALL RIGHT, teen-age overweights! Would you dare to accept that challenge? Would you lay hard cash down on a dress one size too small: This should be from your allowance or money you have earned. Don't ask your mother to take the risk for you. Nobody can do the calorie curbing for you. . .and you're the gal who will need to whip through shape-ups.

Go at it with enthusiasm. There's a wonderful, zestful word! It means a stirring up of the spirit within.

Send a self-addressed, stamped, long envelope for "Teen-Age Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests can not be answered.

Ohio Development Plans, Programs Are Criticized

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many plans and programs of the newly formed Department of Development are vague and widespread and cannot be described as primary objectives, Ohio's Little Hoover Commission says.

The study group, made up of 88 volunteer businessmen, gave that view Tuesday in its latest recommendations for streamlining Ohio's government.

The commission, describing the department's primary goal as increased employment in Ohio, criticized what it called "a shotgun approach" to objectives.

This means, the report said, that the department is attacking all fronts at once, such as the tourist business, domestic industries and foreign business, when other agencies already are at work in these areas.

The report continued: "The immediate and major objectives of this department are aimed at developing and expanding industrial activities to increase employment in Ohio, as well as coordinating planning by other departments toward this same purpose."

Among the commission's recommendations was establishment of standards for consultants to follow in the Federal Housing Act, which provides federal aid to cities under 50,000 population for urban planning.

The commission said consultants, instead of the Department of Development, could provide minor data needed for a study of resources and area planning without cost to the state.

Other recommendations included:

Use existing information, publications and services of other state and federal departments.

Place present printing facilities under the information section, instead of business manager, for better supervision.

Take bids or give the State Bindery any printing the department cannot handle.

The department went into operation last June to succeed the old Department of Industrial and Economic Development. Gov. James A. Rhodes has indicated he expects the department to help fulfill his campaign pledge to create 200,000 new jobs.

Sen. Young Supports Disarmament Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, has joined 14 of his Democratic colleagues in offering a resolution to support White House efforts to achieve "general and complete disarmament under legally effective controls."

The resolution, introduced Tuesday, calls on President Kennedy to formulate "specific and detailed proposals" for establishment of an international authority to keep the peace under conditions of general and complete disarmament "effectively guaranteed by adequate inspection and controls." A similar resolution was introduced in the House.

Fifteen attended a meeting of the Methodist Men Monday night at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church.

Election of officers was deferred until the meeting Nov. 11.

Civic Music Season To Open

Turnau Cast To Present Opera

The Tri - State Civic Music Association will present the first concert of the season, The Turnau Opera Players in "Barber of Seville," at 3 p.m. Sunday at Westgate School.

The former students of the late Prof. Josef Turnau, formerly of Germany, named their company in his honor. Prior to the Nazis, Turnau was a leading stage director and after he came to the United States, his career was dedicated to fostering young operatic talent, "that opera might become here, as in Europe, a widely enjoyed and practiced part of our way of life," sponsors said.

In the summer of 1955, the company went to Pine Hill, N. Y., converted the skating rink of the recreation hall into an attractive little theater and gave 38 performances, including the world premiere of Ashley Vernon's "Grand Slam."

With its past season completed, the company will have staged over 300 performances of 40 different operas, including five world premiers of contemporary works. To date, 55 singers, musicians and production staff, have summered with the company.

This 19th Century comic opera will be sung in a new English adaptation which faithfully reproduces the vigor of the Italian libretto.

Memberships to the association may be obtained Sunday at the door.

Two Freed On Bond In Tax Violations

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two Youngstown men charged with violating internal revenue laws were released on bond Tuesday after pleading innocent in U.S. District Court.

They are Ronald Carrabia, 34, indicted last week on a charge of making a false gambling tax stamp return, and Philip Mainer, 38, indicted for failure to file income tax returns for 1960 and 1961.

The day before the baseball season ended the Houston Colts released catcher Hal Smith and infielder Johnny Temple.

Death Of Woman, 40, Ruled As Accidental

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)— Accidental is the ruling in the death of Mrs. Dorothy Mae Freeze, 40, of Limecrest, whose body was found Monday in her wrecked car south of here.

Authorities who ordered an autopsy thought the woman may have suffered a heart attack.

County's Road Work Reported Completed

LISBON — Charles Snyder, Columbiana County engineer, said today the county's summer road program has been completed on county highways and those in the 18 townships.

The department completed 127.20 miles of bituminous work, which began June 3. The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton got the contract May 20 from county commissioners to furnish the materials for the entire program. The bid was $143,936.

All townships in the county received some road work, which consisted of oil treatment to lay dust, surface treatment and new treads and widening, Snyder said.

Plea To Block River Improvement Lost

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Two Common Pleas Court judges have turned down the appeal of a group of Hancock County residents who sought to block improvements of the middle branch of the Portage River and two creeks in Wood County.

Judges Joseph Morehead of Hancock County and Floyd A. Coller of Wood County acted Tuesday in the controversy that has brewed for about three years. The Hancock County group maintained the improvements are not needed.

The four major sources of power in the world are coal, natural gas, oil, and hydro-electric.

Wellsville Council Acts

Parking Hours Will Be Changed

New hours for metered parking will go into effect in Wellsville next month, as City Council Tuesday night adopted legislation changing the time.

New hours will be 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, from 9 a. m. to noon on Wednesdays and 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturdays, holidays excepted.

The legislation was adopted under suspension of rules and will go into effect in 30 days.

—:—

COUNCIL ORDERED the legislation after discussing the advantages of the new hours at the last meeting.

Members agreed there is no need for metered parking on Wednesday afternoons when stores are closed.

The new hours will provide an eight - hour span during the week and only one patrolman will be needed to check the meters. Now one man is used eight hours and another fills in the gap.

Present hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, except Saturdays, which are from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

In other business, Council received a letter from the Pennsylvania Railroad advising repairs will be made to crossings. Council had complained of the condition of the 10th St. crossing. Mrs. Margared Baldwin, clerk, was instructed to write the railroad, thanking it for the co-operation.

Council briefly discussed the low level of the water at the city's reservoir. Mayor William Daugherty last week called for voluntary curtailment of the use of water in order to preserve the supply.

THE DROUGHT in the area has lowered the water level several feet. The mayor said the situation is bad and the cooperation of all is needed.

Councilman Robert Taggart said he was told Sterling China Co. had to suspend operations for lack of water. The mayor said he had talked with officials Tuesday and was not informed of any shutdown.

Sterling is co-operating by repairing all leaking faucets and closing automatic flush valves where possible, he said.

Walt Henthorne commented from the audience that perhaps now would be a good time to clean the sediment from back of the spillway at the reservoir. He also raised the question as to what the city would do if a break develops in a main and drains the supply or if a bad fire breaks out.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, commented "We hope it doesn't happen." Henthorne said now would be a good time to plan for such an emergency, "not wait until it happens."

IN EVENT of a bad fire, arrangements are made with area departments to supply water in tanker trucks. This is a general agreement made between most neighboring communities.

The mayor reported on work being done by the city in preparation for the resurfacing of Wells Ave. by the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry. The work is scheduled to start today as a State Highway Department project.

Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, commented that the annual improvement program "looks good." He said he had received several good comments on the work. Several streets were sealcoated and a section of Commerce St. resurfaced under the program.

Stroble said repairs are needed to the curb at 17th St. and Clark Ave. The mayor said this is under consideration. The mayor also was asked to investigate the possibility of repainting the centerline on lower Clark Ave. It was worn off and is hard to see in the fog.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Donald Miller, finance chairman, was asked to determine if there is money available for the installation of a new street light in Clover Alley and another in the alley behind the Daw Junior High School.

At the suggestion of Stroble, Council went on record compimenting the fire department for its Fire Prevention program last week.

A bill for $6 was received from the Wellsville Jaycees for listing Council meetings in a community calendar. Council members paid 75 cents each from their own pockets as city money cannot be used for such projects.

Mrs. Baldwin gave the opening prayer. It was written by the Rev. Bruce Davis, who had to leave before the meeting opened. The meeting was delayed because of a caucus session.

Salem Firm Awarded Hiram College Pact

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The firm of Bricker & Bricker of Salem has been awarded a contract by the Hiram College Board of Trustees for construction of an $800,000 women's residence hall and dining facility on the north dge of the campus. The hall will be the ninth new building on the campus since 1959 and is to be completed by next September.

The building will accommodate 152 residents and feed 500 in two shifts. It will replace Miller Hall but retain the name of that dormitory which was removed last summer.

College Heads Urge Bond Issue Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Passage of State Issue No. 1, the proposed $250 million bond issue on the November ballot, has been urged by the Ohio Association of College Presidents.

The association, made up of presidents from both private and state-supported institutions, noted in a resolution Tuesday that the proposal would mean $175 million for higher education. Presidents of private schools said they supported the issue on the belief it would "benefit all Ohio education."

Youths Admit Theft Of Kennedy's Clubs

BARNSTABLE, Mass. (AP)—Golf clubs used by President Kennedy are among items two Toledo, Ohio, youths have admitted stealing from the Hyannis Port Golf Club.

James B. Mather, 21, and Larry D. Coffin, 20, pleaded guilty in Barnstable County superior Court Tuesday. Each was placed on two years' probation. The theft occurred July 11 while the youths were vacationing in Massachusetts. They were charged with burglary and larceny.

Wins Meat Judging

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Oklahoma State won the 33rd intercollegiate meat judging contest at the American Royal Live Stock Show Tuesday with 2,746 of a possible 3,000 points. Ohio State University placed ninth among the 14 teams competing.

For a 5-8 lb. TableRite Rib Roast, preheat oven to 325° F. Place Roast in pan fat side up. If meat thermometer is used insert into thickest part. Do not let end touch bone. Follow directions on thermometer for desired doneness. Approximate time for rare 6 lb. roast, about 2 hours, 15 min. The argument on seasoning prior to cooking is pro and con. Garlic can be inserted between ribs. Cut up onion, ends of celery and leaves, along with carrot peelings, can be added to roast pan.

To make tasty gravy, brown some flour in fat from roast. Add canned bouillon and water to make a gravy of desired consistency. Season if necessary. Serve with oven-browned potatoes and choice of vegetable.

New Date Slated For Hearings On City's Tax Cases

About a half a dozen cases charging violation of the city income tax laws that were set for hearing Thursday in Municipal Court have been continued until Tuesday because Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will be out of town tomorrow.

Summonses were served on nine defendants early in October, instructing them to report tomorrow on charges of failure to file final 1962 returns or make 1963 estimates on their income. The charges were signed by D. G. Wilkinson, city tax commissioner.

However, several of the defendants have made settlements with the tax office since the summonses were served, leaving about a half a dozen who originally were due to report tomorrow.

Judge Chertoff will go to Elyria for a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ohio State Judges' Association. The discussion will center on the procedure under a new state law that transferred Ohio drivers' "demerit point" cases from Common Pleas Courts to municipal and minor judiciary courts.

The association also will arrange a national "layver - layman" conference in Cleveland in November.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

A Neat New Trick Sparks Dieting

Do you have an adventuresome spirit? Would you dare challenge yourself to meet a goal: The homemaker in today's story did, and with admirable results. Here's a heartening report from a Missourian.

Ida Jean Kain

"I'm not much at writing this sort of letter, but I want to help the teen-ager who wrote that she weighed 160 pounds and had never had a date in her life. She really does need encouragement.

"I'm quite a bit older than she is, but I have found that the help of those at home and morale boosting remarks from my friends have done more than anything else to keep me advancing toward my goal.

"I've lost 22½ pounds so far. Then I stopped for just a little while so as not to go at it too strong. I want to reduce slowly enough so that my food habits will be changed.

"NOW THIS IS what I did to whet my interest in a definite goal toward which to work. I bought a really pretty three-piece suit two sizes too small for me. I had it put away and paid on it. Neither the saleslady nor my son thought it possible for me ever to wear the suit.

"Three months later I wore that suit. . . and it fits. I am short, so that 22½ pounds off brought me down enough to wear an outfit two sizes smaller.

"It was the threat of having to go into size 18 that prodded me to drastic action. Now I can fit into size 14, which is right for me.

"Tell the teen-ager to keep her eyes on an extra pretty dress, a couple of sizes too small, and to see herself wearing it gaily. This might just be the thing to make her stick with a slimming pattern of eating.

"I've been counting calories. By that plan, if you want something special, you just cut down somewhere along the line. Tell her to enlist the aid of her family. . .not in a kidding way, but in a helpful way," she concluded.

ALL RIGHT, teen-age overweights! Would you dare to accept that challenge? Would you lay hard cash down on a dress one size too small: This should be from your allowance or money you have earned. Don't ask your mother to take the risk for you. Nobody can do the calorie curbing for you. . .and you're the gal who will need to whip through shape-ups.

Go at it with enthusiasm. There's a wonderful, zestful word! It means a stirring up of the spirit within.

Send a self-addressed, stamped, long envelope for "Teen-Age Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests can not be answered.

Ohio Development Plans, Programs Are Criticized

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many plans and programs of the newly formed Department of Development are vague and widespread and cannot be described as primary objectives, Ohio's Little Hoover Commission says.

The study group, made up of 88 volunteer businessmen, gave that view Tuesday in its latest recommendations for streamlining Ohio's government.

The commission, describing the department's primary goal as increased employment in Ohio, criticized what it called "a shotgun approach" to objectives.

This means, the report said, that the department is attacking all fronts at once, such as the tourist business, domestic industries and foreign business, when other agencies already are at work in these areas.

The report continued: "The immediate and major objectives of this department are aimed at developing and expanding industrial activities to increase employment in Ohio, as well as coordinating planning by other departments toward this same purpose."

Among the commission's recommendations was establishment of standards for consultants to follow in the Federal Housing Act, which provides federal aid to cities under 50,000 population for urban planning.

The commission said consultants, instead of the Department of Development, could provide minor data needed for a study of resources and area planning without cost to the state.

Other recommendations included:

Use existing information, publications and services of other state and federal departments.

Place present printing facilities under the information section, instead of business manager, for better supervision.

Take bids or give the State Bindery any printing the department cannot handle.

The department went into operation last June to succeed the old Department of Industrial and Economic Development. Gov. James A. Rhodes has indicated he expects the department to help fulfill his campaign pledge to create 200,000 new jobs.

Sen. Young Supports Disarmament Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, has joined 14 of his Democratic colleagues in offering a resolution to support White House efforts to achieve "general and complete disarmament under legally effective controls."

The resolution, introduced Tuesday, calls on President Kennedy to formulate "specific and detailed proposals" for establishment of an international authority to keep the peace under conditions of general and complete disarmament "effectively guaranteed by adequate inspection and controls." A similar resolution was introduced in the House.

Election of officers was deferred until the meeting Nov. 11.

Named In Legion Post

WEIRTON — Edward R. Hartman has been appointed district chairman of the employment committee of the American Legion by H. Paige Bell, department commander.

Governor Visits Club

Kiwanis Leader Speaks On Freedoms At Chester

"Freedom is always unfinished business," Jesse W. Ramsey, West Virginia Kiwanis governor, declared at a "Ladies Night" dinner meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the First Methodist Church.

About 42 attended the dinner honoring the North Fork school principal, who spoke on "Freedom and Responsibility," two words in the Kiwanis slogan for 1963.

"The early Americans accepted responsibility for their actions so that freedom could be achieved," he said. "We are today losing our freedom because we expect others to assume the responsibility for our welfare."

Ramsey said he "deplored the abuse some West Virginians make of the Department of Public Assistance."

He urged Kiwanians to share their freedom with others and to "do their part" in protecting freedom.

John Cipoletti of Wellsburg, past lieutenant governor, and his wife and Mrs. Ramsey were also guests. Sets of dinnerware were presented the honor guests.

Mrs. Donald Smith sang solos, accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Martin. Lee Adams, president, spoke briefly and introduced Cipoletti. R. M. McFarland introduced Ramsey.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Vogel.

The meal was served by women of the church.

Wellsville District Resident Sentenced

A Wellsville area man was sentenced Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to forgery before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Ralph E. Wright, 33, of 25th St. Heights received 1-20 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary when he changed his plea to guilty of forging a $162 check on Howard Baker, signed by Paul Goddard. Wright was indicted along with Joseph W. Call, 33, of Hammondsville, who also pleaded guilty and asked for immediate sentence at arraignment Sept. 24.

Wright asked court for probation, but because of a previous report of 1959 it was refused.

British Convoy Held Up By Reds Outside Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—A British military convoy was held up today by Soviet guards at the autobahn checkpoint just outside West Berlin.

A British army spokesman said the convoy of nine vehicles, carrying 28 men, was stopped at 1:45 a.m. EST at the Babelsberg Checkpoint.

The convoy was en route to West Germany for a routine training exercise, the spokesman said.

It was understood that the Soviets demanded that the British soldiers get out of their vehicles and line up to be counted. The British convoy commander refused.

The Russians made the same demand of a U.S. convoy last week on the autobahn and the American commander similarly refused. A serious crisis resulted, but the Russians finaily lifted their blockade.

Robert Dawson Joins Fire Unit At Midland

Robert Dawson of Midland was accepted as a new member at the meeting of Midland Volunteer Fire Co. 1 Monday at the fire station. The department's quota has been met, Tony Monaco, president, said.

Monaco, William Monaco, Vince D'Itri, Dan Orlando and Jack Balser were appointed as a new bylaws committee to study recommendations for amendments.

The proposed amendments, dealing primarily with the social makeup, will be presented for approval at a future meeting.

Next meeting will be announced.

3 Boys Charged In Cutting School Bus Brake Lines

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three teen-aged boys from suburban Bridgetown have been charged with malicious destruction of property in the cutting of brake lines of 19 school buses used by an outlying Hamilton County school district.

Sheriff Dan Tehan said Tuesday night that the boys, all students at Cincinnati Elder High School, admitted cutting the lines so their friends at Oak Hills High School would have a holiday.

The youths were identified as Robert George Simonson and Albert Murnan, both 17, and Thomas Paul McNamee, 16. Simonson and McNamee were arrested at their homes. Police picked up Murnan at a school-sponsored religious retreat.

Elder is a parochial school and its students were off Oct. 10 and 11 because of a Catholic teachers' meeting. Oak Hills is a public school. Sheriff's detectives said the three youths belong to a juvenile gang whose members attend both Oak Hills and Elder.

The damage to the buses was discovered Oct. 11 before the vehicles left the high school yard to pick up students.

$121,864 Asked For Fatal Crash

LISBON — A suit for $121,864.16 was filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court, charging wrongful death in a four - car traffic accident, by Nina E. Knag, administratrix of the Estate of Leon B. Knag of Salem R. D. 1.

Jerry Allen Schaffer of Winona, Nancy Lee Bryan Hough, administratrix of the estate of Leroy M. Hough of Salem, and Harold C. Whinnery of Winona were named defendants.

Mrs. Knag claims in her petition that on March 22 on Route 62 about eight-tenths of a mile west of Salem, her husband's car was struck head-on by a car driven by Jerry Schaffer, who had struck a car which pulled out onto Route 62 and was driven by Leroy Hough. The Hough car had been hit by Schaffer's car. An out-of-state car also was involved. Whinnery owned the car driven by his grandson, Schaffer.

Mrs. Hough's husband was also killed in the collision but the petition claims he failed to yield the right-of-way to the Schaffer car.

Mrs. Knag claims her husband, then 38, was the sole support of her and their three children until his death, due to the neglect of the defendants.

The smallest race of people, in stature, in the world is the pygmies of the Congo Forests in central Africa. Some groups average only four feet, three inches in height.

Wellsville Council Acts

Parking Hours Will Be Changed

New hours for metered parking will go into effect in Wellsville next month, as City Council Tuesday night adopted legislation changing the time.

New hours will be 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, from 9 a. m. to noon on Wednesdays and 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturdays, holidays excepted.

The legislation was adopted under suspension of rules and will go into effect in 30 days.

—:—

COUNCIL ORDERED the legislation after discussing the advantages of the new hours at the last meeting.

Members agreed there is no need for metered parking on Wednesday afternoons when stores are closed.

The new hours will provide an eight - hour span during the week and only one patrolman will be needed to check the meters. Now one man is used eight hours and another fills in the gap.

Present hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, except Saturdays, which are from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

In other business, Council received a letter from the Pennsylvania Railroad advising repairs will be made to crossings. Council had complained of the condition of the 10th St. crossing. Mrs. Margared Baldwin, clerk, was instructed to write the railroad, thanking it for the co-operation.

Council briefly discussed the low level of the water at the city's reservoir. Mayor William Daugherty last week called for voluntary curtailment of the use of water in order to preserve the supply.

THE DROUGHT in the area has lowered the water level several feet. The mayor said the situation is bad and the co-operation of all is needed.

Councilman Robert Taggart said he was told Sterling China Co. had to suspend operations for lack of water. The mayor said he had talked with officials Tuesday and was not informed of any shutdown.

Sterling is co-operating by repairing all leaking faucets and closing automatic flush valves where possible, he said.

Walt Henthorne commented from the audience that perhaps now would be a good time to clean the sediment from back of the spillway at the reservoir. He also raised the question as to what the city would do if a break develops in a main and drains the supply or if a bad fire breaks out.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, commented "We hope it doesn't happen." Henthorne said now would be a good time to plan for such an emergency, "not wait until it happens."

IN EVENT of a bad fire, arrangements are made with area departments to supply water in tanker trucks. This is a general agreement made between most neighboring communities.

The mayor reported on work being done by the city in preparation for the resurfacing of Wells Ave. by the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry. The work is scheduled to start today as a State Highway Department project.

Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, commented that the annual improvement program "looks good." He said he had received several good comments on the work. Several streets were sealcoated and a section of Commerce St. resurfaced under the program.

Stroble said repairs are needed to the curb at 17th St. and Clark Ave. The mayor said this is under consideration. The mayor also was asked to investigate the possibility of repainting the centerline on lower Clark Ave. It was worn off and is hard to see in the fog.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Donald Miller, finance chairman, was asked to determine if there is money available for the installation of a new street light in Clover Alley and another in the alley behind the Daw Junior High School.

At the suggestion of Stroble, Council went on record complimenting the fire department for its Fire Prevention program last week.

A bill for $6 was received from the Wellsville Jaycees for listing Council meetings in a community calendar. Council members paid 75 cents each from their own pockets as city money cannot be used for such projects.

Mrs. Baldwin gave the opening prayer. It was written by the Rev. Bruce Davis, who had to leave before the meeting opened. The meeting was delayed because of a caucus session.

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The firm of Bricker & Bricker of Salem has been awarded a contract by the Hiram College Board of Trustees for construction of an $800,000 women's residence hall and dining facility on the north dge of the campus. College Heads Urge Bond Issue Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Passage of State Issue No. 1, the proposed $250 million bond issue on the November ballot, has been urged by the Ohio Association of College Presidents.

The association, made up of presidents from both private and state-supported institutions, noted in a resolution Tuesday that the proposal would mean $175 million for higher education. Presidents of private schools said they supported the issue on the belief it would benefit all Ohio education."

IGA FOOD MAGIC by Eddie Doucette

For a 5-8 lb. TableRite Rib Roast, preheat oven to 325° F. Place Roast in pan fat side up. If meat thermometer is used insert into thickest part. Do not let end touch bone. Follow directions on thermometer for desired doneness. Approximate time for rare 4-in. roast, about 2 hours, 15 min. The argument on seasoning prior to cooking is pro and con. Garlic can be inserted between ribs. Cut up onion, ends of celery and leaves, along with carrot peelings, can be added to roast pan.

To make tasty gravy, brown some flour in fat from roast. Add canned bouillon and water to make a gravy of desired consistency. Season if necessary. Serve with oven-browned potatoes and choice of vegetable.

Man, 28, Sentenced On Rogers Burglary

LISBON — Convicted by a Common Pleas Court jury Monday on a charge of attempted burglary of the Cowan Store in Rogers, Kenneth Leroy McVay, 28, of Lisbon R. D. was sentenced to a 1-15-year term in the Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

McVay waived the customary three-way wait before sentencing to give the defendant an opportunity to file a motion for a new trial.

A verdict is expected today in the case of Floyd Richards, 20, of Lisbon, charged with joining with McVay in the attempted entry. The case went to the jury late Tuesday afternoon after the charge by Judge Sharp. The two defendants were tried separately.

Fund Transfer Eyed To Meet City Payroll

Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate said the principal need for funds is in the street department appropriation. He said approximately $1,000 will be required to meet the department's payroll.

New Date Slated For Hearings On City's Tax Cases

About a half a dozen cases charging violation of the city income tax laws that were set for hearing Thursday in Municipal Court have been continued until Tuesday because Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will be out of town tomorrow.

Summonses were served on nine defendants early in October, instructing them to report tomorrow on charges of failure to file final 1962 returns or make 1963 estimates on their income. The charges were signed by D. G. Wilkinson, city tax commissioner.

However, several of the defendants have made settlements with the tax office since the summonses were served, leaving about a half a dozen who originally were due to report tomorrow.

Judge Chertoff will go to Elyria for a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ohio State Judges' Association. The discussion will center on the procedure under a new state law that transferred Ohio drivers' "demerit point" cases from Common Pleas Courts to municipal and minor judiciary courts.

The association also will arrange a national "lawyer - layman" conference in Cleveland in November.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A group of us teen-agers was discussing the things that gripe us most about our parents. We decided that instead of just complaining we ought to do something constructive. We have drawn up 10 resolutions which we have titled "The 10 Commandments of Parenthood."

We have tried to be fair and we are proud of our work. Please tell us what you think of it. Here they are:

1. Parents should not open mail, eavesdrop on conversations or search the personal belongings of their teen-agers.

2. Parents should give their teen-agers an allowance in proportion to the amount of work they do around the house.

3. Parents should not use violence as a means of discipline. Forfeiting allowance, telephone calls or nights out or being given extra chores are much better disciplinary tools.

4. Parents should give teen-agers an alloted time on the telephone. Fifteen minutes a night should be plenty.

5. Parents should not ban places, people or social practices. More often than not, if parents would explain why they disapprove they would find their teen-agers in agreement with them.

5. Parents should tolerate teen-age clothing fads. They wore some pretty weird getups in their day.

7. Parents should not treat sex as a bad joke or something terrible. They should be open, honest and frank.

8. Parents should see to it that their children grow up in an atmosphere where religion is important.

9. Parents should act as models for their teen-agers.

10. Parents should not forget that they were once teen-agers and not so very different from us. — PLATTSBURG, N. Y. TEENS.

Dear Plattsburg: You have done an excellent job. I heartily approve of all the commandments except No. 5. In its place I would suggest substituting this one:

Parents should exercise their right to draw firm and definite boundaries for their teen-agers. They should not respond to pressure of such arguments as "Everybody else is doing it. I'm the only one who can't."

Waltzing Matilda

Dear Ann: My problem is an unusual one. It's the way my boy friend dances. It's not that he is a poor dancer, it's that he is just too good a dancer for me.

We've been going together for almost four months and I've tried to learn the intricate steps so I can follow him but it's no use. I've told him I feel uncomfortable when he does fancy steps but he pays no attention and does them anyway. It's embarrassing because I feel that everyone is watching us and pitying him.

Don't get the idea that I can't dance at all. I am considered a good partner for the standard dancers but I am no good as an exhibitionist. What can you suggest? — STUMBLING SAL.

DEAR SAL: I know the type. He doesn't need a partner, because he's always doing a solo.

Tell him if he insists on trying for the cup every time, you'll walk off the floor and let him shine by himself. Then do it.

Confidentially

TO TIRED OF CORRUPTION: It takes two to play that game. Why do you criticize him for accepting when you are equally guilty for offering? You can clean up the "scandalous situation" by starting with yourself.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Woman Awarded $32,000 Against Cleveland Paper

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Summit County Common Pleas Court jury has awarded Mertha B. Moore, a prominent Akron civic leader, a $32,000 judgment against the Cleveland Call & Post, a weekly Negro newspaper.

The jury deliberated four hours before returning the verdict Tuesday.

Mrs. Moore had sued for $85,000. She claimed she was damaged when the newspaper falsely reported that former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called her an "Uncle Tom."

During the court hearing an "Uncle Tom" was described as a person who seeks selfish gain for himself rather than for the good of his group.

The "Uncle Tom" reference citing Mrs. Moore appeared in Call & Post articles in March and October 1962. They purportedly were based on remarks made by DiSalle at a conference with Mrs. Moore and other Negro leaders here March 6, 1962.

Mrs. Moore, vice chairman of the Summit County Democratic organization and former deputy registrar of vehicles, testified her income as a deputy registrar dropped following publication of the articles.

William O. Walker, Call & Post publisher, said the newspaper accepted as a guest column an editorial written by Llewellyn Coles and containing the "Uncle Tom" reference. Coles is now administrative assistant of Gov. James A. Rhodes and Walker is director of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Governor Visits Club

Kiwanis Leader Speaks On Freedoms At Chester

"Freedom is always unfinished business," Jesse W. Ramsey, West Virginia Kiwanis governor, declared at a "Ladies Night" dinner meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the First Methodist Church.

About 42 attended the dinner honoring the North Fork school principal, who spoke on "Freedom and Responsibility," two words in the Kiwanis slogan for 1963.

"The early Americans accepted responsibility for their actions so that freedom could be achieved," he said. "We are today losing our freedom because we expect others to assume the responsibility for our welfare."

Ramsey said he "deplored the abuse some West Virginians make of the Department of Public Assistance."

He urged Kiwanians to share their freedom with others and to "do their part" in protecting freedom.

John Cipoletti of Wellsburg, past lieutenant governor, and his wife and Mrs. Ramsey were also guests. Sets of dinnerware were presented the honor guests.

Mrs. Donald Smith sang solos, accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Martin. Lee Adams, president, spoke briefly and introduced Cipoletti. R. M. McFarland introduced Ramsey.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Vogel.

The meal was served by women of the church.

Wellsville District Resident Sentenced

A Wellsville area man was sentenced Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to forgery before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Ralph E. Wright, 33, of 25th St. Heights received 1-20 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary when he changed his plea to guilty of forging a $162 check on Howard Baker, signed by Paul Goddard. Wright was indicted along with Joseph W. Call, 33, of Hammondsville, who also pleaded guilty and asked for immediate sentence at arraignment Sept. 24.

Wright asked court for probation, but because of a previous report of 1959 it was refused.

British Convoy Held Up By Reds Outside Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—A British military convoy was held up today by Soviet guards at the autobahn checkpoint just outside West Berlin.

A British army spokesman said the convoy of nine vehicles, carrying 28 men, was stopped at 1:45 a.m. EST at the Babelsberg Checkpoint.

The convoy was en route to West Germany for a routine training exercise, the spokesman said.

It was understood that the Soviets demanded that the British soldiers get out of their vehicles and line up to be counted. The British convoy commander refused.

The Russians made the same demand of a U.S. convoy last week on the autobahn and the American commander similarly refused. A serious crisis resulted, but the Russians finally lifted their blockade.

3 Boys Charged In Cutting School Bus Brake Lines

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three teen-aged boys from suburban Bridgetown have been charged with malicious destruction of property in the cutting of brake lines of 19 school buses used by an outlying Hamilton County school district.

Sheriff Dan Tehan said Tuesday night that the boys, all students at Cincinnati Elder High School, admitted cutting the lines so their friends at Oak Hills High School would have a holiday.

The youths were identified as Robert George Simonson and Albert Murnan, both 17, and Thomas Paul McNamee, 16. Simonson and McNamee were arrested at their homes. Police picked up Murnan at a school-sponsored religious retreat.

Elder is a parochial school and its students were off Oct. 10 and 11 because of a Catholic teachers' meeting. Oak Hills is a public school. Sheriff's detectives said the three youths belong to a juvenile gang whose members attend both Oak Hills and Elder.

The damage to the buses was discovered Oct. 11 before the vehicles left the high school yard to pick up students.

$121,864 Asked For Fatal Crash

LISBON — A suit for $121,864.16 was filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court, charging wrongful death in a four - car traffic accident, by Nina E. Knag, administratrix of the Estate of Leon B. Knag of Salem R. D. 1.

Jerry Allen Schaffer of Winona, Nancy Lee Bryan Hough, administratrix of the estate of Leroy M. Hough of Salem, and Harold C. Whinnery of Winona were named defendants.

Mrs. Knag claims in her petition that on March 22 on Route 62 about eight-tenths of a mile west of Salem, her husband's car was struck head-on by a car driven by Jerry Schaffer, who had struck a car which pulled out onto Route 62 and was driven by Leroy Hough. The Hough car had been hit by Schaffer's car. An out-of-state car also was involved. Whinnery owned the car driven by his grandson, Schaffer.

Mrs. Hough's husband was also killed in the collision but the petition claims he failed to yield the right-of-way to the Schaffer car.

Mrs. Knag claims her husband, then 38, was the sole support of her and their three children until his death, due to the neglect of the defendants.

The smallest race of people, in stature, in the world is the pygmies of the Congo Forests in central Africa. Some groups average only four feet, three inches in height.

He's Finally Tamed

Orval, The Emotional Dog

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern, you are filled with curiosity. The methods "they" might use for getting Orval are important because you have never been able to get him yourself.

"How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Orval spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth.

A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll clear. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch.

I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

It didn't work. The neighbors were giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

Then one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick.

I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me superhuman speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

In those big brown eyes I saw respect, the trademark of civilization. And as I carried him home I felt a little triumphant, a little sad, and a little guilty.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Easy Life Of Bill Cullen

"Me?" said Bill Cullen, hoisting himself up on a table in his dressing room. "Act?" A quizzical smile broke across his cheerleader's face. "The only time I ever tried acting was in high school and I was a flop.

Alan Gill

"I can't even act out commercials, push a product. Once I get out of character, become unnatural, I'm dead. That's why I can't do my own warmup. I'd become somebody that isn't me."

-:-

CULLEN WENT ON to say he has "short patience with those people in show business who want to do something else, anything but what they're doing, sing, be a clown, play Hamlet."

Cullen's own satisfactin with his lot is simply explained:

"I make a tremendous living and the business has been good to me.

"Besides, I'm lazy. I like to do nothing and this is the easy life. Moving the daytime and Wednesday night 'Price Is Right' from NBC over to ABC here this season took nothing. A new set, that's all.

"It took me days to find the entrance. And we've got a new celebrity spot on the night show. Other than that? In seven years, there's been little change. Even the ladies all look the same. The people who were with me at the beginning are still here.

"I SHOW UP just an hour before air time and the rehearsals, blockings and cue-ins have all been done for me. On the air it's no strain.

"We've got four items going for us each show; if one flops or the wrong guy wins, well, we've got a crack at three more. My only job is pacing—to get everything into a busy show and get off the air on time.

"The women are still more fun playing the game; they're more outgoing. But the men are better at it. The women know the prices of groceries and clothing; but for everything else, it's the men. The men, after all, pay the bills.

"Me? I wouldn't last a minute in the game, even after all these years. I never listen to the prices or know them beforehand. And home, my wife writes the checks.

TAXES are still a mystery to me. Do you know when income taxes began? The day I got my first radio job, sportscasting. I made $3,000 that year, I think, and spent $2,800. I was all set to pay taxes on the $200 difference, and I still figure 'em that way."

The sportscasting continues to play an occasional role in Cullen's career. Five years ago he announced the Army football games. More recently he covered the America's Cup races for television. And — to stretch the definition of sports a bit—he often has been on hand for the Thanksgiving Day parades.

"Not this year, though. Since I'm a lazy man, I like to sleep late, eat turkey and go to bed again. They can do without me this time."

NO, THE EASY Cullen life moseys on sweetly, his daytime routine broken into only occasionally by a convention or an election or the testimony of Joe Valachi.

"Say," Cullen said, "that'd be a way to get a great rating, wouldn't it? Testify before the Senate Rackets Committee for a few days and then, at the end, say, 'I'm kidding.' "

Cullen doesn't even own a plane any more.

"I've got no inclination to fly all over; it's too time-consuming. You work for the plane instead of it for you. Oh, I may take it up again in my second childhood."

Then: "Ask me about my diet," he said.

What about the Cullen diet? he was asked.

"I get fat, that's all. I'm a wrong eater: bread, potatoes, gravy. I've had to grab onto myself and lunch on cottage cheese and fruit.

-:-

"I'M STILL wearing my fat coat, see? I want to get back into my skinny coat. It's not chic to admit, I know, but almost all my clothes date back to 1952. I never buy new suits."

Well, with the next new suit, is there a chance that Cullen will trade in his crew cut?

"Nah," he said, "this is a lazy man's hair style. I used to have longer hair, but the crew was better for flying.

"You know what I used to look like? Look. I just ran across this old picture of me this morning."

Holy smokes, the man had waves! But his eyes, without the light hornrims, were even then the eyes of a high school cheerleader, happy with the way things were going.

Radeschi Issues Tips

It's Time To Prepare Car For Winter, Chief Warns

Better believe the calendar, not the recent unseasonably warm temperatures, and prepare cars now for winter driving, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi warned district motorists today.

When mid-October comes, the first snow of the season is not far away and motorists whose cars are not equipped with good snow tread tires may be embarrassed by causing traffic tieups, he said.

The chief issued a series of tips for safe winter driving and recommendations for cold weather car conditioning sanctioned by the National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Fresh windshield wiper blades are required on many autos to provide proper visibility when driving in snow or to help remove morning frost, the chief said. Blade arm pressure should be not less than an ounce for each inch of blade length, he said.

Installation of high - temperature winter thermostats will put new punch in a car's heating and defrosting system and help keep frosted windows clear, he said. But drivers must take time to scrape badly frosted windows if the car has been outside all night, he added.

Proper traction is the key to safe driving on snow and ice, Chief Radeschi said. On dry pavement, at 20 miles an hour, an auto will halt in 20 feet. But on glare ice it will require almost 200 feet to halt at the same speed, he said.

Slippery patches tend to occur at the approaches to intersections and to linger on bridges and overpasses, he reminded.

Snow tires help traction, but tire chains are better, the chief pointed out. Letting air out of the tires is "worse than useless," he added.

Safety Council tests have shown that light, compact cars tend to outperform heavier vehicles in braking on ice, but the larger cars have better "cornering" ability, the chief said.

Pumping the brakes is more effective than applying them abruptly on slippery pavement, he added. If rear wheels skid, turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid just enough to correct the slide without "fishtailing," he reminded.

A driver held fast by a seat belt can maintain control better, Radeschi said.

"Driving a properly - equipped car — and driving it safely —won't shorten the winter by one day, but it will make it seem a lot shorter," he commented.

HEADED FOR SPACE

October 1964 is launch date for the USA's Gemini spacecraft slated to carry a pair of astronauts into a two-week orbital space flight.

As in the Mercury capsules, the pressurized crew compartment, as well as other crucial parts of the vehicle are titanium, some of it supplied by Crucible.

This metal fulfills the high stress, high temperature requirements so vital in space flights. Its production involves meeting rigid specifications to insure against failure in space. Carefully inspected, it must meet these requirements before shipment.

Titanium is another of the special metals produced at Midland works so important in keeping our country first in space achievements.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A group of us teen-agers was discussing the things that gripe us most about our parents. We decided that instead of just complaining we ought to do something constructive. We have drawn up 10 resolutions which we have titled "The 10 Commandments of Parenthood."

We have tried to be fair and we are proud of our work. Please tell us what you think of it. Here they are:

1. Parents should not open mail, eavesdrop on conversations or search the personal belongings of their teen-agers.

2. Parents should give their teen-agers an allowance in proportion to the amount of work they do around the house.

3. Parents should not use violence as a means of discipline. Forfeiting allowance, telephone calls or nights out or being given extra chores are much better disciplinary tools.

4. Parents should give teen-agers an alloted time on the telephone. Fifteen minutes a night should be plenty.

5. Parents should not ban places, people or social practices. More often than not, if parents would explain why they disapprove they would find their teen-agers in agreement with them.

5. Parents should tolerate teen-age clothing fads. They wore some pretty weird getups in their day.

7. Parents should not treat sex as a bad joke or something terrible. They should be open, honest and frank.

8. Parents should see to it that their children grow up in an atmosphere where religion is important.

9. Parents should act as models for their teen-agers.

10. Parents should not forget that they were once teen-agers and not so very different from us. — PLATTSBURG, N. Y. TEENS.

Dear Plattsburg: You have done an excellent job. I heartily approve of all the commandments except No. 5. In its place I would suggest substituting this one:

Parents should exercise their right to draw firm and definite boundaries for their teen-agers. They should not respond to pressure of such arguments as "Everybody else is doing it. I'm the only one who can't."

Waltzing Matilda

Dear Ann: My problem is an unusual one. It's the way my boy friend dances. It's not that he is a poor dancer, it's that he is just too good a dancer for me.

We've been going together for almost four months and I've tried to learn the intricate steps so I can follow him but it's no use. I've told him I feel uncomfortable when he does fancy steps but he pays no attention and does them anyway. It's embarrassing because I feel that everyone is watching us and pitying him.

Don't get the idea that I can't dance at all. I am considered a good partner for the standard dancers but I am no good as an exhibitionist. What can you suggest? — STUMBLING SAL.

DEAR SAL: I know the type. He doesn't need a partner, because he's always doing a solo.

Tell him if he insists on trying for the cup every time, you'll walk off the floor and let him shine by himself. Then do it.

Confidentially

TO TIRED OF CORRUPTION: It takes two to play that game. Why do you criticize him for accepting when you are equally guilty for offering? You can clean up the "scandalous situation" by starting with yourself.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Grange To Give Historic Theme

The Juvenile Grange will also meet tomorrow night at 8 with Linda Jack, master, presiding. Linda Mick will have charge of the lecture hour. Mrs. Dolores Ralston is matron.

Woman Awarded $32,000 Against Cleveland Paper

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Summit County Common Pleas Court jury has awarded Mertha B. Moore, a prominent Akron civic leader, a $32,000 judgment against the Cleveland Call & Post, a weekly Negro newspaper.

The jury deliberated four hours before returning the verdict Tuesday.

Mrs. Moore had sued for $85,000. She claimed she was damaged when the newspaper falsely reported that former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called her an "Uncle Tom."

During the court hearing an "Uncle Tom" was described as a person who seeks selfish gain for himself rather than for the good of his group.

The "Uncle Tom" reference citing Mrs. Moore appeared in Call & Post articles in March and October 1962. They purportedly were based on remarks made by DiSalle at a conference with Mrs. Moore and other Negro leaders here March 6, 1962.

Mrs. Moore, vice chairman of the Summit County Democratic organization and former deputy registrar of vehicles, testified her income as a deputy registrar dropped following publication of the articles.

William O. Walker, Call & Post publisher, said the newspaper accepted as a guest column an editorial written by Llewellyn Coles and containing the "Uncle Tom" reference. Coles is now administrative assistant of Gov. James A. Rhodes and Walker is director of the Department of Industrial Relation-

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Today we are going to talk about biscuits with a real Southern accent.

After we make our dough, we ordinarily use a biscuit cutter then reroll the leftover dough and cut some more.

Know what helps to make good biscuits? Touch them as little as possible with your hands. The heat from your hands breaks the dough down the same as rerolling them in more flour will do.

I found a way to prevent this. It's also easier, quicker and lends variety to your table!

Here's how:

After making the dough . . . flatten it with a rolling pin or fruit jar filled with ice water (capped, of course!)

Then . . . take your big butcher knife and cut the blob of dough into little squares, triangles or rectangle pieces! Place each piece in your pan. They are darling.

-:-

ONE CAN make them bite-size (and this is real perky when having company and takes no more time or energy on your part). Your family will love them.

If you want your biscuits to be real brown on all sides, place them on your cookie sheet a few inches apart.

If you like soft edges . . . place the biscuits close together.

Now, besides having pretty biscuits, here is the way you are going to save time. One doesn't have to re-roll the leftover dough (because there won't be any!), your biscuit cutter won't be dirty and you won't have to dip it in flour each time you cut a biscuit.

Be sure to make different shapes. Rectangles some days, squares next time and triangles once in a while — or cut all shapes at the same time. Makes a beautiful bread basket!

If you are going to use these for company . . . make them ahead of time. Cook only until slightly brown. Remove from oven and set aside to cool. These may be frozen in foil (or plastic bags).

When ready to serve, thaw and warm in the same piece of foil. Or lay on cookie sheet and finish browning. If you are gonna' have 'em for supper, cook until golden brown.

THESE "CRAZY BISCUITS" may be served plain (such as biscuits usually are) or split after cooking and filled with anything such as turkey, ham, tuna fish, baloney, salami, chicken, pastrami, sausage, deviled egg spread or any concoction one might desire.

If you are having a party you can put a dab of any of the above on the split biscuit. Be sure to have a few sliced pickles, some mustard and mayonnaise on the side.

Thin slices of cold cuts may be put in the cold, partially cooked biscuits, laid on a foil-lined cookie sheet and the whole kaboodle cooked and warmed together. This is especially good for parties!

Now for elegant parties divide your dough in half. Roll each slab of dough TWICE as thin as you ordinarily would. Place one on top of the other BEFORE cutting.

The biscuits divide exactly in half after cooking with a mere touch of the finger! (Since my husband weighs 200 . . . and the butter slides off the biscuit . . . he uses less this way! Too, it won't hold that full teaspoon of jelly which is less calories.)

These little bitty biscuits are no trouble at all to either a hostess or mother with lots of kiddies. They cut faster (the biscuits . . . not the kiddies), there is no big clean-up job and they are eaten with enthusiasm and relish.

THIS IS ONE biscuit recipe that will delight the entire family. It's so easy to make . . . and the biscuits are always light, tender and flaky. They're so good, in fact, that any meal will become a really special occasion when you serve "Crazy Biscuits."

RECIPE

2 cups floor
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons sugar
½ cup shortening
2-3 cup milk

Sift dry ingredients into a bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk and stir until dough follows fork around bowl.

Knead slightly. Pat out on lightly floured board and cut. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet at 450 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes, or until brown.

To reheat leftover biscuits, wrap in foil and heat in 300 degree oven for 10 minutes. Open foil halfway through heating if you want them crisp.

HELOISE.

Saxbe Rules Against Township's Authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Township trustees have no authority to create a township manager's position or hire any one for that job, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has informed Montgomery County Prosecutor Paul R. Young.

The attorney general also offered an opinion, at the request of Sandusky County Prosecutor John D. Starn, to the effect that even if a clerk of courts has resigned, no vacancy technically exists until he gives up his office. Starn had asked if the County Central Committee could select a successor before the effective resignation date.

Autopsy Slated After Whipping, Fatal Fall

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County authorities have ordered an autopsy on Terri Lynn Washington, 3, who died Tuesday after a whipping and a fall from the porch of her home at suburban Silverton.

The coroner's office said her mother, Mrs. Naomi Washington, 26, admitted whipping the girl with a strap Monday after she got dirty. Two hours later, Mrs. Washington said, Terri Lynn was on the back porch and apparently fell down concrete steps. She died in Children's Hospital of brain injuries.

Annual Pumpkin Show Launched At Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Carved-up pumpkins may be part of the scary stuff surrounding Halloween in most places. But in this Central Ohio community—which today began its 57th Pumpkin Show since 1903 — pumpkins of all kinds are considered major assets.

Before the show ends this weekend, thousands of visitors will have seen two parades daily a variety of acts and bands, numerous displays, and probably will have tried pumpkin candy, pumpkin ice cream, pumpkin cake, pumpkin-burgers and pumpkin - just - about - anything edible.

As usual, the main street will be blocked off for a block or so, to accommodate the rides, displays and crowds. From its usual size of about 11,000, Circleville will swell briefly into a big city. As many as a quarter-million visitors have attended the big festival in the past.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear daughter, Florence Evelyn Elliott, who passed away 3 years ago today, Oct. 16, 1960.
Today recalls memories of our dear one gone to rest and the ones who think of her today are the ones who loved her best. The flowers we placed upon her grave may wither and decay, but the love for her who lies beneath will never fade away. Relentless death among us comes and bitter grief imparts, it took our loved one from our home but never from our hearts.
Sadly missed by her mother, father, husband, and 3 brothers, Dale, Stanley, and Oliver Tice.

He's Finally Tamed

Orval, The Emotional Dog

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern, you are filled with curiosity. The methods "they" might use for getting Orval are important because you have never been able to get him yourself.

"How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Orval spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth.

A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll clear. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch.

I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

It didn't work. The neighbors were giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

Then one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick.

I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me superhuman speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

In those big brown eyes I saw respect, the trademark of civilization. And as I carried him home I felt a little triumphant, a little sad, and a little guilty.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Easy Life Of Bill Cullen

"Me?" said Bill Cullen, hoisting himself up on a table in his dressing room. "Act?" A quizzical smile broke across his cheerleader's face. "The only time I ever tried acting was in high school and I was a flop.

Alan Gill

"I can't even act out commercials, push a product. Once I get out of character, become unnatural, I'm dead. That's why I can't do my own warmup. I'd become somebody that isn't me."

-:-

CULLEN WENT ON to say he has "short patience with those people in show business who want to do something else, anything but what they're doing, sing, be a clown, play Hamlet."

Cullen's own satisfactin with his lot is simply explained:

"I make a tremendous living and the business has been good to me.

"Besides, I'm lazy. I like to do nothing and this is the easy life. Moving the daytime and Wednesday night 'Price Is Right' from NBC over to ABC here this season took nothing. A new set, that's all.

"It took me days to find the entrance. And we've got a new celebrity spot on the night show. Other than that? In seven years, there's been little change. Even the ladies all look the same. The people who were with me at the beginning are still here.

"I SHOW UP just an hour before air time and the rehearsals, blockings and cue-ins have all been done for me. On the air it's no strain.

"We've got four items going for us each show; if one flops or the wrong guy wins, well, we've got a crack at three more. My only job is pacing—to get everything into a busy show and get off the air on time.

"The women are still more fun playing the game; they're more outgoing. But the men are better at it. The women know the prices of groceries and clothing; but for everything else, it's the men. The men, after all, pay the bills.

"Me? I wouldn't last a minute in the game, even after all these years. I never listen to the prices or know them beforehand. And home, my wife writes the checks.

TAXES are still a mystery to me. Do you know when income taxes began? The day I got my first radio job, sportscasting. I made $3,000 that year, I think, and spent $2,800. I was all set to pay taxes on the $200 difference, and I still figure 'em that way."

The sportscasting continues to play an occasional role in Cullen's career. Five years ago he announced the Army football games. More recently he covered the America's Cup races for television. And — to stretch the definition of sports a bit—he often has been on hand for the Thanksgiving Day parades.

"Not this year, though. Since I'm a lazy man, I like to sleep late, eat turkey and go to bed again. They can do without me this time."

NO, THE EASY Cullen life moseys on sweetly, his daytime routine broken into only occasionally by a convention or an election or the testimony of Joe Valachi.

"Say," Cullen said, "that'd be a way to get a great rating, wouldn't it? Testify before the Senate Rackets Committee for a few days and then, at the end, say, 'I'm kidding.' "

Cullen doesn't even own a plane any more.

"I've got no inclination to fly all over; it's too time-consuming. You work for the plane instead of it for you. Oh, I may take it up again in my second childhood."

Then: "Ask me about my diet," he said.

What about the Cullen diet? he was asked.

"I get fat, that's all. I'm a wrong eater: bread, potatoes, gravy. I've had to grab onto myself and lunch on cottage cheese and fruit.

-:-

"I'M STILL wearing my fat coat, see? I want to get back into my skinny coat. It's not chic to admit, I know, but almost all my clothes date back to 1952. I never buy new suits."

Well, with the next new suit, is there a chance that Cullen will trade in his crew cut?

"Nah," he said, "this is a lazy man's hair style. I used to have longer hair, but the crew was better for flying.

"You know what I used to look like? Look. I just ran across this old picture of me this morning."

Holy smokes, the man had waves! But his eyes, without the light hornrims, were even then the eyes of a high school cheerleader, happy with the way things were going.

Radeschi Issues Tips

It's Time To Prepare Car For Winter, Chief Warns

Better believe the calendar, not the recent unseasonably warm temperatures, and prepare cars now for winter driving, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi warned district motorists today.

When mid-October comes, the first snow of the season is not far away and motorists whose cars are not equipped with good snow tread tires may be embarrassed by causing traffic tieups, he said.

The chief issued a series of tips for safe winter driving and recommendations for cold weather car conditioning sanctioned by the National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Fresh windshield wiper blades are required on many autos to provide proper visibility when driving in snow or to help remove morning frost, the chief said. Blade arm pressure should be not less than an ounce for each inch of blade length, he said.

Installation of high - temperature winter thermostats will put new punch in a car's heating and defrosting system and help keep frosted windows clear, he said. But drivers must take time to scrape badly frosted windows if the car has been outside all night, he added.

Proper traction is the key to safe driving on snow and ice, Chief Radeschi said. On dry pavement, at 20 miles an hour, an auto will halt in 20 feet. But on glare ice it will require almost 200 feet to halt at the same speed, he said.

Slippery patches tend to occur at the approaches to intersections and to linger on bridges and overpasses, he reminded.

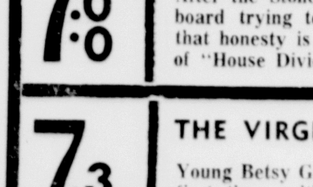

Snow tires help traction, but tire chains are better, the chief pointed out. Letting air out of the tires is "worse than useless," he added.

Safety Council tests have shown that light, compact cars tend to outperform heavier vehicles in braking on ice, but the larger cars have better "cornering" ability, the chief said.

Pumping the brakes is more effective than applying them abruptly on slippery pavement, he added. If rear wheels skid, turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid just enough to correct the slide without "fishtailing," he reminded.

A driver held fast by a seat belt can maintain control better, Radeschi said.

"Driving a properly - equipped car — and driving it safely —won't shorten the winter by one day, but it will make it seem a lot shorter," he commented.

HEADED FOR SPACE

October 1964 is launch date for the USA's Gemini spacecraft slated to carry a pair of astronauts into a two-week orbital space flight.

As in the Mercury capsules, the pressurized crew compartment, as well as other crucial parts of the vehicle are titanium, some of it supplied by Crucible.

This metal fulfills the high stress, high temperature requirements so vital in space flights. Its production involves meeting rigid specifications to insure against failure in space. Carefully inspected, it must meet these requirements before shipment.

Titanium is another of the special metals produced at Midland works so important in keeping our country first in space achievements.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Today we are going to talk about biscuits with a real Southern accent.

After we make our dough, we ordinarily use a biscuit cutter then reroll the leftover dough and cut some more.

Know what helps to make good biscuits? Touch them as little as possible with your hands. The heat from your hands breaks the dough down the same as rerolling them in more flour will do.

I found a way to prevent this. It's also easier, quicker and lends variety to your table!

Here's how:

After making the dough . . . flatten it with a rolling pin or fruit jar filled with ice water (capped, of course!)

Then . . . take your big butcher knife and cut the blob of dough into little squares, triangles or rectangle pieces! Place each piece in your pan. They are darling.

-:-

ONE CAN make them bite-size (and this is real perky when having company and takes no more time or energy on your part). Your family will love them.

If you want your biscuits to be real brown on all sides, place them on your cookie sheet a few inches apart.

If you like soft edges . . . place the biscuits close together.

Now, besides having pretty biscuits, here is the way you are going to save time. One doesn't have to re-roll the leftover dough (because there won't be any!), your biscuit cutter won't be dirty and you won't have to dip it in flour each time you cut a biscuit.

Be sure to make different shapes. Rectangles some days, squares next time and triangles once in a while — or cut all shapes at the same time. Makes a beautiful bread basket!

If you are going to use these for company . . . make them ahead of time. Cook only until slightly brown. Remove from oven and set aside to cool. These may be frozen in foil (or plastic bags).

When ready to serve, thaw and warm in the same piece of foil. Or lay on cookie sheet and finish browning. If you are gonna' have 'em for supper, cook until golden brown.

THESE "CRAZY BISCUITS" may be served plain (such as biscuits usually are) or split after cooking and filled with anything such as turkey, ham, tuna fish, baloney, salami, chicken, pastrami, sausage, deviled egg spread or any concoction one might desire.

If you are having a party you can put a dab of any of the above on the split biscuit. Be sure to have a few sliced pickles, some mustard and mayonnaise on the side.

Thin slices of cold cuts may be put in the cold, partially cooked biscuits, laid on a foil-lined cookie sheet and the whole kaboodle cooked and warmed together. This is especially good for parties!

Now for elegant parties divide your dough in half. Roll each slab of dough TWICE as thin as you ordinarily would. Place one on top of the other BEFORE cutting.

The biscuits divide exactly in half after cooking with a mere touch of the finger! (Since my husband weighs 200 . . . and the butter slides off the biscuit . . . he uses less this way! Too, it won't hold that full teaspoon of jelly which is less calories.)

These little bitty biscuits are no trouble at all to either a hostess or mother with lots of kiddies. They cut faster (the biscuits . . . not the kiddies), there is no big clean-up job and they are eaten with enthusiasm and relish.

THIS IS ONE biscuit recipe that will delight the entire family. It's so easy to make . . . and the biscuits are always light, tender and flaky. They're so good, in fact, that any meal will become a really special occasion when you serve "Crazy Biscuits."

RECIPE

2 cups floor
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons sugar
½ cup shortening
2-3 cup milk

Sift dry ingredients into a bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk and stir until dough follows fork around bowl.

Knead slightly. Pat out on lightly floured board and cut. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet at 450 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes, or until brown.

To reheat leftover biscuits, wrap in foil and heat in 300 degree oven for 10 minutes. Open foil halfway through heating if you want them crisp.

HELOISE.

Saxbe Rules Against Township's Authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Township trustees have no authority to create a township manager's position or hire any one for that job, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has informed Montgomery County Prosecutor Paul R. Young.

The attorney general also offered an opinion, at the request of Sandusky County Prosecutor John D. Starn, to the effect that even if a clerk of courts has resigned, no vacancy technically exists until he gives up his office. Starn had asked if the County Central Committee could select a successor before the effective resignation date.

Annual Pumpkin Show Launched At Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Carved-up pumpkins may be part of the scary stuff surrounding Halloween in most places. But in this Central Ohio community—which today began its 57th Pumpkin Show since 1903 — pumpkins of all kinds are considered major assets.

Before the show ends this weekend, thousands of visitors will have seen two parades daily a variety of acts and bands, numerous displays, and probably will have tried pumpkin candy, pumpkin ice cream, pumpkin cake, pumpkin-burgers and pumpkin - just - about - anything edible.

As usual, the main street will be blocked off for a block or so, to accommodate the rides, displays and crowds. From its usual size of about 11,000, Circleville will swell briefly into a big city. As many as a quarter-million visitors have attended the big festival in the past.

Autopsy Slated After Whipping, Fatal Fall

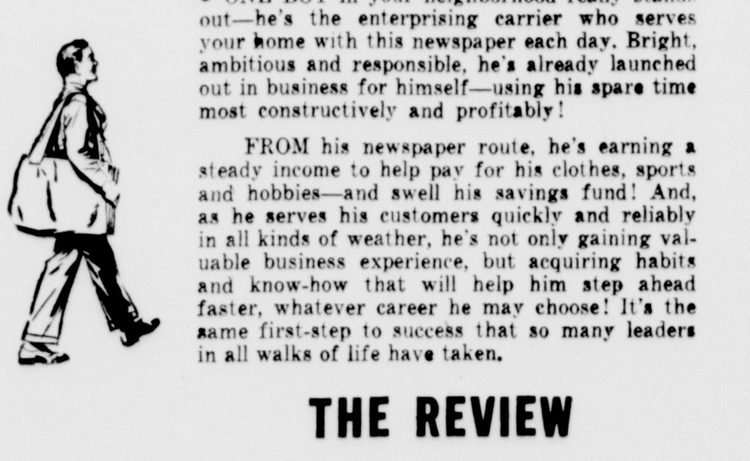

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County authorities have ordered an autopsy on Terri Lynn Washington, 3, who died Tuesday after a whipping and a fall from the porch of her home at suburban Silverton.

The coroner's office said her mother, Mrs. Naomi Washington, 26, admitted whipping the girl with a strap Monday after she got dirty. Two hours later, Mrs. Washington said, Terri Lynn was on the back porch and apparently fell down concrete steps. She died in Children's Hospital of brain injuries.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear daughter, Florence Evelyn Elliott, who passed away 3 years ago today, Oct. 16, 1960.
Today recalls memories of our dear one gone to rest and the ones who think of her today are the ones who loved her best. The flowers we placed upon her grave may wither and decay, but the love for her who lies beneath will never fade away. Relentless death among us comes and bitter grief imparts, it took our loved one from our home but never from our hearts.
Sadly missed by her mother, father, husband, and 3 brothers, Dale, Stanley, and Oliver Tice.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to thank Dr. H. F. Banfield, Dawson Funeral Home, East Liverpool Fire Dept., Fr. Nicholas Sitaros, Singer Mr. Galos, Fr. McCarthy and our many friends for their kind assistance, flowers, and Mass cards, and to the pallbearers, car donors, and all others for their expressions of sympathy during the recent bereavement, the loss of our beloved husband, father, and grandfather, Steven George Sfakis.

Junior Editors Quiz on
HYDROFOILS

QUESTION: What are the mechanics of the hydrofoil boat?

ANSWER: In the opening years of the 20th Century, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, famous inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with kites and airplanes. He was fascinated with the principal of the airfoil, which lifts the wing of an airplane. We show this principal at upper left. The air, streaming over the curved top surface, has a longer way to go, has to speed up and its pressure on the wing below grows less. But the slower air at bottom, giving more pressure, lifts the wing. Dr. Bell reasoned that the same principle would work in water if an airfoil shape was moving fast. He attached stilts equipped with a number of airfoil-shaped strips to boats. They worked so well that the body of the boat was lifted up in the air and whizzed along on the foils.

In 1919, Dr. Bell built a large hydrofoil, as these boats became called, which made a world speedboat record of 70.86 miles an hour. In spite of this success, the hydrofoil boat was slow to develop; it is only now that its possibilities are being appreciated. The big picture is of a regular outboard motor boat to which hydrofoils have been attached. The foils give great speed and an amazingly smooth ride.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: A large ocean going hydrofoil, 117 feet long, has been recently built. Watch your newspaper for developments about these boats which may be whizzing passengers over waterways before long.

Prisoners Not Supervised Under Work Release Plan

BALTIMORE (AP) — An advertising salesman clears his desk at the end of the day. South of town, a construction worker borrows his employer's pickup truck for a 6-mile drive.

A laborer in a nearby quarry telephones to say he will be late —he must work overtime again.

All three are serving prison sentences. They are participating in Maryland's new work release program for prisoners.

There are 19 prisoners — 16 men and 3 women—taking part. They include a truck driver, farm hand, kitchen worker, laundry worker, nurse's aide, clerk, construction worker and mechanic.

Their offenses include robbery, burglary, housebreaking, larceny, assault, domestic cases and fraud. The prisoners spend their nights in seven of Maryland's nine correctional institutions.

James W. Curran, commissioner of the Maryland Department of Correction, says the offenses of the participants often are misleading. "They are only labels," says Curran. "Most of the time there are extenuating circumstances."

Only narcotics and sex offenders are excluded from the program.

The program began under a law introduced by Democratic State Sen. Edward O. Weant Jr., and passed this year by the general assembly. The first participants arrived on the job July 1.

Only North Carolina has a similar statewide program, created in 1957, although Wisconsin authorizes local jails to operate their own work release program.

About 2,000 of Maryland's 5,160 prisoners are trusties and work each day, weather permitting, outside the prison. But they wear prison uniforms and are under supervision and guard.

It's a different story for the work release prisoner. He leaves the prison without supervision and wears whatever clothes are appropriate for the job. The ad man, for instance, changes into a suit.

Some walk to work. Others ride public buses. Sometimes the employer provides transportation.

"Our ultimate goal," says acting director Frederick E. Terrinoni, "is to get the prisoner paroled." He says the work release program "teaches the prisoners to accept and learn obligations."

To be eligible, the prisoner can be serving a term of no longer than five years. Curran estimates that 90 per cent of the 4,000 prisoners committed each year fall into this category.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: What are the mechanics of the hydrofoil boat?

ANSWER: In the opening years of the 20th Century, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, famous inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with kites and airplanes. He was fascinated with the principal of the airfoil, which lifts the wing of an airplane. We show this principal at upper left. The air, streaming over the curved top surface, has a longer way to go, has to speed up and its pressure on the wing below grows less. But the slower air at bottom, giving more pressure, lifts the wing. Dr. Bell reasoned that the same principle would work in water if an airfoil shape was moving fast. He attached stilts equipped with a number of airfoil-shaped strips to boats. They worked so well that the body of the boat was lifted up in the air and whizzed along on the foils.

In 1919, Dr. Bell built a large hydrofoil, as these boats became called, which made a world speedboat record of 70.86 miles an hour. In spite of this success, the hydrofoil boat was slow to develop; it is only now that its possibilities are being appreciated. The big picture is of a regular outboard motor boat to which hydrofoils have been attached. The foils give great speed and an amazingly smooth ride.

FOR YOU TO DO: A large ocean going hydrofoil, 117 feet long, has been recently built. Watch your newspaper for developments about these boats which may be whizzing passengers over waterways before long.
